Reason, Emotion Collide At Hearing On Anti-Bias Law

Courtroom Packed For Meeting On County Housing Ordinance

By BILL BOLDENWECK

Reason and emotion collided on both sides of the question last night as a packed county courtroom resounded with impassioned speeches for and aginst a county ordinance prohibiting discrimination in housing.

The county board of supervisors had decided to move the hearing from its chambers to the roomier courtroom of Judge N. Charles Brusatori because of the expected crowd. Some 250 citizens packed that room, filling the jury box, lining the walls, and spilling out into the corridor, some seated on the floor in the rear of the court.

After three hours of vehement but polite discussion, the supervisors pointed out that the event had been a hearing, not a meeting, and took no action. Although Supervisor Vera L. Schultz seemed eager to bring the matter to a vote, her colleagues on the board were disinclined to act at that point.

The crowd appeared to be roughly two-to-one in favor of the ordinance, twenty statements were made in favor, nine against.

Dr. S. I. Hayakawa of Mill Valley, internationally famed semanticist, led off the long parade of speakers with a prepared statement indicating that on sociological and psychological grounds the ordinance would not change the composition of the county population.

"We seem to be faced with the nightmare of a mass of illiterate Negro field hands moving into our back yard," he said. "This picture is false, because of the special nature of the community Marin County can afford to set a moral example."

Noel Merrihew, also of Mill Valley, following Hayakawa, struck the first blow against the ordinance. "It doesn't seem proper to force the person who invests in property to perjure himself," he said, "and that's what happens when a home seller has to tell a minority group member, 'I've decided not to sell because my uncle is coming out from the East'."

As the evening wore on, the speakers seemed to be drawing the battle line between human rights and property rights. Although most of the statements were kept carefully under control and within the bounds of the issue, occasional garden variety racial prejudices, such as fear of intermarriage, showed through.

The ordinance would provide a fine of $500 for discrimination in any public or public-assisted housing and set up ar-

PUC Manager Says City Surveying For Bay Area Location

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — San Francisco may spend money to help construct a private airport in Marin or some other Bay Area county, the Redwood Empire Assn. was told this morning.

Robert C. Kirkwood, manager of the San Francisco Public Utilities Commission, said a survey is under way which will point the way which San Francisco should go in providing better facilities for non-commercial aviation.

Although International Airport will always be available to general aviation usage, he said, "it can't be a major part of the airport's activities, therefore, the city is thinking about putting aviation money in a proper location, wherever that may be."

Kirkwood said that he had hoped that preliminary findings of the current study would be available today, however they have not been completed but will be ready shortly.

Nixon Campaigns By Rail; Kennedy Holds Biggest Rally

Garment Workers Line Streets To See Senator

NEW YORK (UPI)—Sen. John F. Kennedy carried his presidential drive to the sidewalks of New York today with an appeal to cheering garment workers at the biggest rally of his campaign to join him in "sweeping the Republicans all the way back to California."

"My chief disagreement with Mr. Nixon and the Republican Party is that I don't think they have the vaguest idea of the kind of times in which we live," he said.

Kennedy's appearance in New York's garment district brought out crowds estimated by Frank Doyle, executive secretary to Mayor Robert F. Wagner, at a total of 350,000, many of them women who struggled for glimpse of the handsome young candidate.

Wagner predicted Kennedy would carry New York City against GOP presidential nominee Richard M. Nixon by a margin of one million votes in November.

For the second time in a week, the Democratic standard bearer had to be rescued from his admirers.

Vice President Rips Rival As Rich Man's Son

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

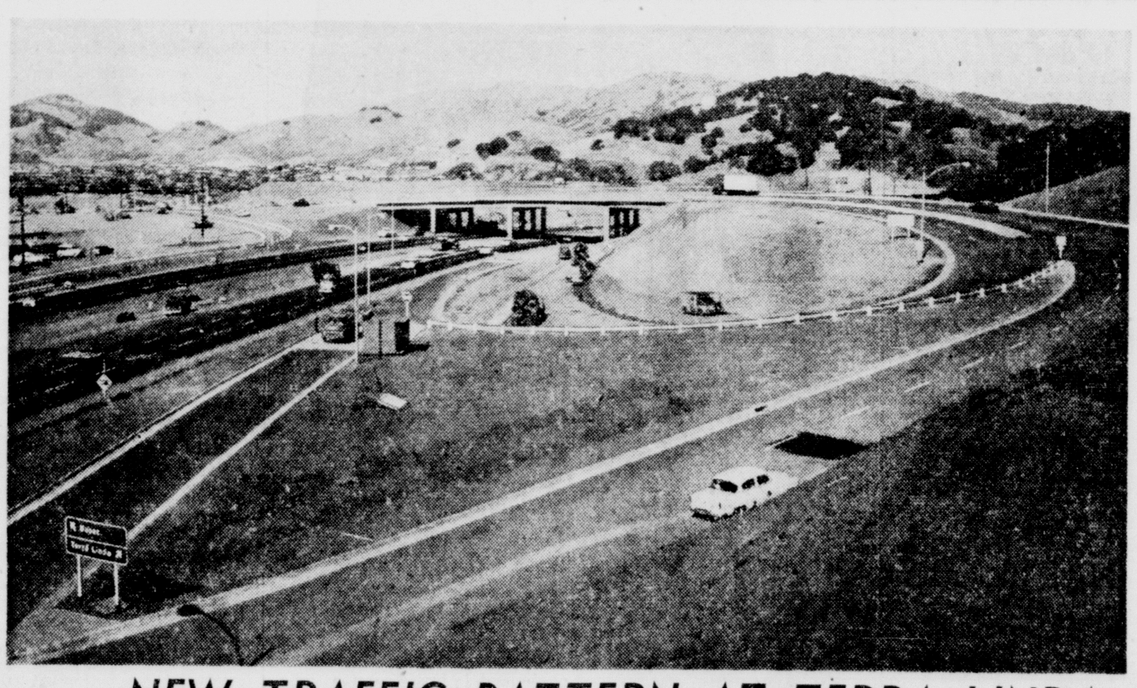
He told rear platform and trackside audiences in a one-day swing through the state that Kennedy has a natural tendency to react to all problems by spending more money.

The result of such spending if Kennedy got into the White House, he said, would be higher prices and taxes and—as he put it at Jackson, which claims to be the birthplace of the Republican Party—possibly "runaway inflation."

The Republican candidate, increasingly hoarse and apparently in danger of losing his voice, drew good crowds and manifest enthusiasm as he traveled north and west across the state in what most observers agreed was an uphill fight for Michigan's 20 electoral votes.



NEW TRAFFIC PATTERN AT TERRA LINDA

The new traffic interchange on Highway 101 at Terra Linda went into use today. Southbound traffic to San Rafael takes lanes at far left. Northbound Highway 101 traffic goes on right lanes under the overpass. Traffic from Terra Linda heading north crosses overpass to make loop at upper right, while that heading from Terra Linda south enters by loop at extreme left. Northbound traffic for Terra Linda turns off highway via big loop at right. (Independent-Journal photo)

Tam School Bond Vote Asked Again

$3 Million Ballot For Next April

The Citizens' Advisory Committee of Tamalpais Union High School District last night recommended another three-million-dollar bond issue be placed before the district voters in April, 1961.

An identical proposal was defeated at the polls earlier this month. The bond issue would have provided funds to enlarge Redwood, Tamalpais and Sir Francis Drake High Schools.

On the same ballot will be a trustees' election with four offices at stake. The four board members whose terms expire are William B. Lewis, Edmund J. Thomas Jr., Wallace W. Hayes and Delman D. Smith.

School board elections, formerly held in May, will be in April under an election law amendment passed last year.

Invasion Rumors Spread In Cuba

HAVANA (UPI) — Cuba went on virtual war footing today as invasion jitters spread throughout the land.

Army troops were held in barracks and civilian militia units reported to army posts.

Government propaganda agencies fanned invasion fears by reporting an armed attack from abroad was imminent. Street rumors were allowed to circulate that Saturday is "D-day."

Authorities, however, summoned militia units in the greater Havana area to assemble at 7 a.m. Sunday at specific strategic points. Appeals went out to all workers not already enlisted in the militia to volunteer their services or be classified as "traitors or cowards."

Wild rumors spread that an "invasion fleet" has sailed from Guatemala. (Moscow Radio said U.S.-backed "hireleings" are "poised to attack Cuba" from Central America staging areas).

Paris Police Clash With Rival Youths

PARIS (UPI) — Violent street fighting broke out in the Latin Quarter of Paris tonight between club-swinging riot police and rival rightist and leftist youth groups who clashed on the issue of peace in Algeria.

The melees erupted when right-wing youths protesting a "sellout" in Algeria invaded a peace demonstration and hurled smoke bombs at 4,000 left-wing students massed in a Left Bank hall. Chaos followed as street fights developed throughout the Bohemian quarter.

Riot police flung themselves at both groups, clubbing persons who got in their way, including newsmen and photographers. Bystanders were caught up in the turmoil and injured.

Mail Carrier Injured In Vehicle Smashup

A station wagon, carrying five children, and a three-wheeled post office mailster collided at Third and A Streets today, injuring a postman and strewing mail about the intersection.

The mail carrier, Kevin Brooks, 21, of 102 Merrydale Road, San Rafael Meadows, suffered lacerations of his head and neck and a possible concussion when he was pinned under his mailster.

He was reported in fair condition in San Rafael General Hospital.

Police Officer Raymond Bleasdale said Brooks was eastbound on Third Street when the accident happened at 10 a.m.

Driver of the station wagon, Mrs. Anita Tallariti, 29, of 11 Strawberry Circle, Strawberry, said she was southbound on A Street, stopped at the stop sign and then pulled into the intersection.

"Suddenly I saw the mailster coming at me, but I thought I could get out of its way," she said. The mail cart smashed into the side of the station wagon.

Brooks was hurled to the street and the cart toppled on him.

Mrs. Tallariti and her friend, Mrs. Leslie Lunda of 33 Strawberry Circle, Strawberry, were returning home with their children from San Rafael. They said they were not injured.

Two Newspapers Say U.S. Report Shows Dip In Prestige

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two newspapers reported today that a government survey showed public opinion of the United States as a world power declined in Britain and France after the May summit collapse.

The dispatches were published in the New York Times and Washington Post and Times Herald amid angry Democratic criticism of the White House for refusing to make public a secret U.S. Information Agency poll reported to indicate U.S. prestige abroad has dropped.

The Times and the Post said a USIA study prepared in June found an overwhelming majority of those questioned in Britain and France felt Russia was ahead of the United States in space progress. The Times said the study also showed a majority felt the Soviet Union was the world's strongest military power.

The newspaper dispatches were certain to fan the already blazing presidential campaign dispute over America's standing abroad. Democratic candidate John F. Kennedy claims U.S. prestige has slipped during the Eisenhower administration. GOP nominee Richard M. Nixon, backed by President Eisenhower, asserts it never has been higher.

The Times and the Post said the USIA study showed that although favorable public opinion toward the United States and President Eisenhower had dropped in Britain and France after the summit failure, this country still was supported over the Soviet Union.

The newspapers said the survey indicated a decline in faith in America's ability as a world leader.

"Particularly in Great Britain, current confidence is low in America's capacity for leadership in dealing with present world problems," the Times quoted the report as stating.

The Post said 24 per cent of those questioned in France and 35 per cent of those queried in Britain felt the United States was providing "not very much" leadership against 38 and 27 per cent who believed this country was giving "considerable" leadership.

The Times said that although Russia was blamed most for the summit collapse, a majority of those questioned by the USIA blamed both the United States and Soviet Union. The survey, the paper said, found no evidence that the U-2 incident had increased confidence in U.S. military strength as opposed to Soviet power.

The Times said the report was based on a poll late in May of 1,150 British and 1,000 French residents. Both newspapers said this was not the same survey the White House refused to make public yesterday.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said that controversial study, also prepared by the USIA, had been stamped "secret" under President Eisenhower's policies on "internal working papers of the executive branch."

Hagerty described the report as "an internal, low-level staff paper similar to many others" in the government.

The decision to withhold the paper had been made by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and USIA director George V. Allen, Hagerty said yesterday.

But Chairman John E. Moss (D-Calif.) of the House Information Subcommittee, which is investigating the matter, laid the suppression squarely on Eisenhower.

Moss said it showed the president failed to understand the people's right-to-know and constituted "political irresponsibility" that threatened U.S. security.

Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark), of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee sent a telegram to Nixon asking the GOP nominee to "see to it that this document is made public forthwith."

In another hot campaign argument, Fulbright said secret testimony from administration officials proved that this country sought withdrawal of some Chinese nationalist troops from Quemoy and Matsu.

He said that if Nixon persisted in making the Chinese offshore islands an election issue, he would seek to have the testimony—given in secret to his committee—made public.

Nixon categorically denied Tuesday night that the administration ever tried to persuade the Nationalist Chinese to abandon the islands.

El Salvador Junta Lifts Restrictions

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP)—The new ruling junta erased several decrees of deposed President Jose Maria Lemus and dissolved Congress today. The junta's avowed aim is to restore justice in this tiny Central America nation.

A state of siege imposed after student rioting last month against Lemus' strong arm administration was lifted by the six-man military-civilian group which ousted him yesterday in a bloodless coup.

OTHER DECREES LIFTED

Civil liberties had been sharply restricted.

The junta revoked two other decrees of Lemus, forbidding public meetings and curtailing the authority of the national university's faculty.

In addition to dissolving Congress, in which Lemus had the support of a majority, the junta dismissed justices of the Supreme Court, members of the General Accounting Office, the National Election Board and the Social Welfare Service chief.

Lemus turned up today in San Jose, Costa Rica, to the south and east of El Salvador. The 49-year-old soldier-politician earlier had been reported seeking asylum in Guatemala.

RESERVATION BOOKED

Clerks at the Biltmore Hotel in Guatemala City said a reservation had been booked for Lemus and "we are still waiting for him."

The little coffee-growing country had been seething for months with demands for social and economic change. The great majority of the two and one-half million people are impoverished peasants dominated by a small number of wealthy, plantation-owning families. The army traditionally controls politics.

The coup came after two months of student-led demonstrations. Lemus said the demonstrations were the work of Communists, and retaliated with a police crackdown in which about 300 persons were jailed. The government proclamed a state of siege—a modified form of martial law—on Sept. 5. The Salvador University faculty accused the police of brutality and for a time went on strike.

Thousands gathered outside as the new Cabinet was sworn in last night at the presidential palace. The junta of three army officers and three civilians pledged to abide by the constitution, guarantee the rights of citizens and hold free elections in 1962, when Lemus' term was due to expire.

Mobutu Bows, Withdraws His Troops

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP) — Col. Joseph Mobutu bowed to the United Nations today and withdrew the bulk of his disorderly army from Leopoldville's African quarter.

The shaky army chief made a few face-saving gestures to cover his retreat, but U.N. officials expressed confidence that relative order and security would return.

In the confused triangular struggle involving Mobutu's army, the police loyal to deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba and the U.N. force, the United Nations was clearly on top.

Reserve Board Eases Credit In 2 Actions

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Reserve Board has eased credit in two actions designed to assure a plentiful supply of money for consumers and businessmen in the pre-Christmas shopping season.

The board yesterday announced the two technical moves liberalizing rules governing bank reserves. They will go into effect Nov. 24 and Dec. 1.

The board estimated the changes would pump into the 6,200 commercial banks belonging to the federal reserve system about 1.3 billion dollars of new reserves with which to provide the public with cash and to make loans.

The board estimated its action would enable the banks to make up to 2.1 billion dollars in new loans as well as provide the extra amounts of cash demanded by merchants and shoppers during the holiday season.

These are the two moves:

1. As of Nov. 24, all member banks may include in reckoning their reserves all cash in tellers' drawers and vaults. The reserves until now have consisted of deposits which commercial banks have with federal reserve banks, exclusive of till cash.

2. Effective Dec. 1, reserve requirements of major banks in New York and Chicago will be cut from 17½ per cent of outstanding loans and deposits to 16½ per cent.

Attorney General Warns Against Brown Act Change

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk has warned the annual conference of the League of California Cities against efforts to change the Brown Act.

The act, passed in 1953, forbids city councils and other governmental agencies from holding secret meetings to discuss public business. Mosk told the league, meeting this week, that efforts to change the act would antagonize the public and the press.

Robert G. Cockins, Santa Monica city attorney, said that one of the big objections to the Brown act is its failure to provide penalties for violations.

BEHAN PLAYS AROUND WITH HIS PLAY

NEW YORK (UPI)—Tousled-haired Brendan Behan, the celebrated Irish playwright and sometimes pub crawler, broke his promise to behave last night.

Behan, after an afternoon of quaffing champagne from a water tumbler, invaded the Cort Theater where his play "The Hostage" has become a Broadway hit, stalked down the aisle, heckled the actors, sang a song and made a speech praising America, the cast and his play.

The audience clapped and cheered.

Behan made his exit dodging the falling curtain, cloaked in a theatrical robe and in the tow of Mrs. Behan who hustled him to their hotel where the playwright sang two more songs in the lobby before calling it a night.

Mental Health Group Will Meet Nov. 2

Discoverer Satellite Falls In Sea

VANDENBERG AIR FORCE BASE (AP)—The first attempt to orbit a new satellite rocket—one planned as the workhorse of a series of key space tests—fell to failure in the Pacific.

Discoverer XVI blasted off yesterday with a burst of flame from its big Thor booster. Atop the Thor was something new in the Discoverer series—a powerful, maneuverable and roomy new Agena B rocket.

The Thor was supposed to burn out and drop off, letting the Agena push itself into a polar orbit. But the stages failed to separate and the Discoverer plunged into the ocean.

Agena B is scheduled to carry Samos and Midas spy-satellite instruments into orbit. It is roomy enough to take monkeys into orbit in tests preliminary to manned space flights.

Agena A, orbited by earlier discoverers, was 19 feet long and weighed 8,500 pounds fueled. Agena B is 25 feet long and weighs 15,000 pounds fueled.

The entire new rocket was to go into orbit and then, on the 17th pass, eject a capsule of instruments. The capsule was to parachute into the sea near Hawaii, where Air Force planes and ships waited for a recovery try.

Two previous Discoverer capsules have been thus recovered, one by plane and one by ship.

LODGE SAYS:

U.S. Is Not Popular But Prestige Is Good

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Henry Cabot Lodge says he knows more about America's prestige abroad than the United States Information Agency—and our prestige hasn't fallen.

The Republican vice presidential candidate dealt with a news conference request that he comment on a USIA report which Sen. John F. Kennedy, the Democratic presidential candidate, has been saying shows prestige has slipped abroad.

"I know more about American prestige than the USIA because I spent eight years in the place where it was put to the test," said Lodge, who was ambassador to the United Nations for that period.

"John F. Kennedy has confused prestige with popularity . . . riots abroad show the Communists don't like us. But this has nothing to do with prestige. We assume we are not generally loved in the world. No big power is. But prestige means mostly respect. And a nation gains respect if its word is good and its ideals noble."

Candidates Due To Talk Tuesday

Marin County's candidates for Congress and the state legislature will speak at a candidates' night program sponsored by the League of Women Voters of Central Marin Tuesday at 8 p. m. in Olney Hall, College of Marin.

Appearing will be Clement W. Miller and Fred G. Dupuis, candidates for Congressman; John F. McCarthy and Charles M. Geller, candidates for state senator, and William T. Bagley and Everett A. Matzen, candidates for assembly.

Mrs. Paul Holmer of Kentfield will be moderator. The audience will ask questions after talks by the candidates.

Two Newspapers Say U.S. Report Shows Dip In Prestige

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two newspapers reported today that a government survey showed public opinion of the United States as a world power declined in Britain and France after the May summit collapse.

The dispatches were published in the New York Times and Washington Post and Times Herald amid angry Democratic criticism of the White House for refusing to make public a secret U.S. Information Agency poll reported to indicate U.S. prestige abroad has dropped.

The Times and the Post said a USIA study prepared in June found an overwhelming majority of those questioned in Britain and France felt Russia was ahead of the United States in space progress. The Times said the study also showed a majority felt the Soviet Union was the world's strongest military power.

The newspaper dispatches were certain to fan the already blazing presidential campaign dispute over America's standing abroad. Democratic candidate John F. Kennedy claims U.S. prestige has slipped during the Eisenhower administration. GOP nominee Richard M. Nixon, backed by President Eisenhower, asserts it never has been higher.

The Times and the Post said the USIA study showed that although favorable public opinion toward the United States and President Eisenhower had dropped in Britain and France after the summit failure, this country still was supported over the Soviet Union.

The newspapers said the survey indicated a decline in faith in America's ability as a world leader.

"Particularly in Great Britain, current confidence is low in America's capacity for leadership in dealing with present world problems," the Times quoted the report as stating.

The Post said 24 per cent of those questioned in France and 35 per cent of those queried in Britain felt the United States was providing "not very much" leadership against 38 and 27 per cent who believed this country was giving "considerable" leadership.

The Times said that although Russia was blamed most for the summit collapse, a majority of those questioned by the USIA blamed both the United States and Soviet Union. The survey, the paper said, found no evidence that the U-2 incident had increased confidence in U.S. military strength as opposed to Soviet power.

The Times said the report was based on a poll late in May of 1,150 British and 1,000 French residents. Both newspapers said this was not the same survey the White House refused to make public yesterday.

White House press secretary James C. Hagerty said that controversial study, also prepared by the USIA, had been stamped "secret" under President Eisenhower's policies on "internal working papers of the executive branch."

Hagerty described the report as "an internal, low-level staff paper similar to many others" in the government.

The decision to withhold the paper had been made by Secretary of State Christian A. Herter and USIA director George V. Allen, Hagerty said yesterday.

But Chairman John E. Moss (D-Calif.) of the House Information Subcommittee, which is investigating the matter, laid the suppression squarely on Eisenhower.

Moss said it showed the president failed to understand the people's right-to-know and constituted "political irresponsibility" that threatened U.S. security.

Chairman J. William Fulbright (D-Ark), of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee sent a telegram to Nixon asking the GOP nominee to "see to it that this document is made public forthwith."

In another hot campaign argument, Fulbright said secret testimony from administration officials proved that this country sought withdrawal of some Chinese nationalist troops from Quemoy and Matsu.

He said that if Nixon persisted in making the Chinese offshore islands an election issue, he would seek to have the testimony—given in secret to his committee—made public.

Nixon categorically denied Tuesday night that the administration ever tried to persuade the Nationalist Chinese to abandon the islands.

JOSE MARIA LEMUS
He left town

El Salvador Junta Lifts Restrictions

SAN SALVADOR, El Salvador (AP)—The new ruling junta erased several decrees of deposed President Jose Maria Lemus and dissolved Congress today. The junta's avowed aim is to restore justice in this tiny Central America nation.

A state of siege imposed after student rioting last month against Lemus' strong arm administration was lifted by the six-man military-civilian group which ousted him yesterday in a bloodless coup.

OTHER DECREES LIFTED

Civil liberties had been sharply restricted.

The junta revoked two other decrees of Lemus, forbidding public meetings and curtailing the authority of the national university's faculty.

In addition to dissolving Congress, in which Lemus had the support of a majority, the junta dismissed justices of the Supreme Court, members of the General Accounting Office, the National Election Board and the Social Welfare Service chief.

Lemus turned up today in San Jose, Costa Rica, to the south and east of El Salvador. The 49-year-old soldier-politician earlier had been reported seeking asylum in Guatemala.

RESERVATION BOOKED

Clerks at the Biltmore Hotel in Guatemala City said a reservation had been booked for Lemus and "we are still waiting for him."

The little coffee-growing country had been seething for months with demands for social and economic change. The great majority of the two and one-half million people are impoverished peasants dominated by a small number of wealthy, plantation-owning families. The army traditionally controls politics.

The coup came after two months of student-led demonstrations. Lemus said the demonstrations were the work of Communists, and retaliated with a police crackdown in which about 300 persons were jailed. The government proclamed a state of siege—a modified form of martial law—on Sept. 5. The Salvador University faculty accused the police of brutality and for a time went on strike.

Thousands gathered outside as the new Cabinet was sworn in last night at the presidential palace. The junta of three army officers and three civilians pledged to abide by the constitution, guarantee the rights of citizens and hold free elections in 1962, when Lemus' term was due to expire.

Mobutu Bows, Withdraws His Troops

LEOPOLDVILLE (AP) — Col. Joseph Mobutu bowed to the United Nations today and withdrew the bulk of his disorderly army from Leopoldville's African quarter.

The shaky army chief made a few face-saving gestures to cover his retreat, but U.N. officials expressed confidence that relative order and security would return.

In the confused triangular struggle involving Mobutu's army, the police loyal to deposed Premier Patrice Lumumba and the U.N. force, the United Nations was clearly on top.

Reserve Board Eases Credit In 2 Actions

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Federal Reserve Board has eased credit in two actions designed to assure a plentiful supply of money for consumers and businessmen in the pre-Christmas shopping season.

The board yesterday announced the two technical moves liberalizing rules governing bank reserves. They will go into effect Nov. 24 and Dec. 1.

The board estimated the changes would pump into the 6,200 commercial banks belonging to the federal reserve system about 1.3 billion dollars of new reserves with which to provide the public with cash and to make loans.

The board estimated its action would enable the banks to make up to 2.1 billion dollars in new loans as well as provide the extra amounts of cash demanded by merchants and shoppers during the holiday season.

These are the two moves:

1. As of Nov. 24, all member banks may include in reckoning their reserves all cash in tellers' drawers and vaults. The reserves until now have consisted of deposits which commercial banks have with federal reserve banks, exclusive of till cash.

2. Effective Dec. 1, reserve requirements of major banks in New York and Chicago will be cut from 17½ per cent of outstanding loans and deposits to 16½ per cent.

Big Three Warn Soviet On Berlin Air Routes

LONDON (AP)—The Big Three Western powers warned the Soviet Union in notes published today to avoid tampering with the air corridors to isolated West Berlin.

Britain, France and the United States told the Kremlin in identical notes that any restrictions on the air corridors would create a dangerous situation.

The Western powers denied a Soviet contention that the air corridor rights could only be used by the American, French and British garrisons in West Berlin and not for the benefit of the 2,250,000 Germans living there.

The Western notes also said the Soviet Union has no right on its own responsibility to pull out of the postwar agreements establishing the special four-power status of Berlin.

U.S., British and French governments declared too that the Communist East German regime has no right to place restrictions on the movement of people between East and West Berlin.

An East German decree Sept. 8 sought to do that. The decree touched off an exchange of notes between Washington, London, Paris and Moscow.

State Getting, Spending More Money In '60

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The state is getting more money this year—and spending more as well.

Income in the first three months of the current fiscal year was up 19.6 per cent over the comparable period of last year, to $347,744,332, Controller Aalan Cranston reported Wednesday.

Expenditures were up 13.2 per cent for the July through September period, to $377,205,512.

In other words, the state spent 30 million dollars more than it took in. The lag, however, is normal for the first quarter, when income is usually slow.

The big bulk of the state's income has been from the sales tax, a total of 179 million dollars, up 4.5 million or 2.55 per cent from the first quarter of 1959-60.

Two Auto Repair Shops Burglarized

They smashed a rear window and crept along the rim of a water-filled radiator testing tank to get to the office of the Marin Wheel and Radiator Service shop. They jimmied open several desk drawers.

In the Marin Muffler Service in the same building, a filing cabinet was pried open, but nothing was taken. The break-in was reported at 8 a.m. yesterday.

WORLD NEWS IN BRIEF

Gold Price Drops

LONDON (AP)—Gold dropped to $35.56 a fine troy ounce on the London bullion market today—its lowest price since the gold scramble started eight days ago.

The figure was 28 cents below yesterday's close. Its peak during the frenzy of speculative buying last week reached $40.50.

German Gls In France

RHEIMS, France (UPI) — German troops rumbled into France for the fourth time in a century today.

Sixty truckloads of soldiers of the new West German army —about 200 men in all—set up camp at two large French Army bases in eastern France. They were the advance guard of 2,500 West German paratroopers and mechanized infantrymen who are scheduled to arrive in France for training exercises next Tuesday or Wednesday.

Advice For Kennedy

MOUNT CLEMENS, Mich. (UPI) —Sen. John F. Kennedy, who wants to move into the White House, got some advice yesterday from a man who could put him there.

A moving van driver whose vehicle was held up by the Kennedy motorcade shouted, "Hey, president, you want to move, remember us."

Hijack Mail Truck

BUENOS AIRES (UPI) — Six highwaymen in a new Cadillac held up a mail truck in suburban Buenos Aires yesterday and stole 18 sacks of air mail, police reported.

The gunmen slashed the truck's tires and stripped its driver and his helper to their drawers in the 46-degree cold before fleeing.

Venezuela Violence

CARACAS, Venezuela (AP) — Sporadic shooting continued in Venezuela's tense capital early today as troops and police mopped up the headquarters of a revolutionary movement.

Five persons were killed and 20 were wounded yesterday. Some of the wounded were soldiers. Troops and police drove embattled leftists from two buildings in housing development.

Goodby To Farthing

LONDON (AP) — Queen Elizabeth II has written off the farthing.

A royal proclamation withdrew the tiny coin from circulation after 600 years as the least valuable currency of the sterling area. After Dec. 31 the farthing—worth a quarter of an English penny — will be worthless.

Britain Cuts Interest

LONDON (AP) — Britain today cut the government's bank interest rate from 6 per cent to 5½ per cent in an effort to stimulate faltering industry.

The bank rate had been raised from 5 to 6 per cent on June 23, the second increase of the year. The new rate, which fixes the interest for all commercial transactions, will make instalment buying slightly easier and so give a fillip to sales.

Times Backs Kennedy

The newspaper, which is politically independent, endorsed President Eisenhower in 1952 and 1956.

The Times said two considerations carried special weight in determining its judgment in endorsing the Democratic nominee—"a matter of foreign policy" and "a question of assuring a unified direction of the nation's affairs at a difficult moment in history."

Reporter Jailed

DENVER, Colo. (AP) — The Colorado Supreme Court convicted a woman reporter of contempt yesterday for refusal to disclose a news source.

Vi Murphy, 35, was released under $1,000 bond and ordered to report to the Denver County Jail Nov. 5 to begin serving a 30-day sentence. The brunette mother of four is a staff writer for the Colorado Springs Gazette-Telegraph.

Bus Crash Kills 33

JAKARTA, Indonesia (AP) — A bus plunged into a ravine and caught fire Monday, killing 33 people and injuring 12 reports said last night.

Editors Pick Nixon

CHICAGO (UPI) — A poll of 3,717 newspaper editors by the Publishers Auxiliary showed today nearly two-thirds of the editors believe their communities will favor Richard M. Nixon for president.

Of 3,138 weekly newspapers, 62.3 per cent said they expected Nixon to carry their communities, 32.2 per cent favored Sen. John F. Kennedy and 5.5 per cent were undecided.

A total of 357 daily newspapers picked Nixon and 188 said they expected Kennedy to win. There were 34 undecided.

Cancer Prediction

NEW YORK (AP)—In the next 10 years three million Americans will die of cancer.

That prediction, based on present mortality rates, was made today by Harry McEnerny Jr. of New Orleans, a director of the American Cancer Society.

"That is the measure of our challenge," he told the society's annual meeting. "Are we doing all we can to save the lives of those who have cancer?"

Night And Day

Lapidary Art Going On Display

Henry G. Reinicke of Mill Valley, lapidary art instructor at College of Marin, will place two exhibits at the 25th San Francisco Gem and Mineral Show tomorrow and Sunday.

Frieda Burkhart of San Anselmo, jewelry instructor at the College of Marin, will show her own work. Ambroze Canziani, president of the Marin Mineral Society, will exhibit his own recent jade carvings.

Other displays from Marin will include a joint cabinet of rare crystals and faceted stones jointly shown by Mrs. Lucille Phillips of Mill Valley and Mrs. Marie Paine of San Anselmo, and a composite case of lapidary and jewelry by College of Marin students.

Trick Or Treat Can Mean Fines

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—There is a difference between juvenile fun and willful vandalism.

Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk has warned parents that they can be assessed up to $300 in liabilities for each act of willful vandalism caused by their youngsters.

"It is to be hoped," Mosk said, "that forewarned parents may request their minor halloween celebrants to stick to 'trick or treat'."

Boy Scouts throughout the United States have taken on the job of encouraging a greater demonstration of the responsibilities of democracy by a bigger turnout at the polls on Nov. 8. In Marin County, Boy Scouts and Cub Scouts are placing vote reminders at homes in a sparetime drive. Cub Scout Kenny Loer of Pack 7 and Boy Scout Larry Hardin of Troop 7 went a bit farther, even scaled the fence to present reminders in person to Mrs. Harry Schriebman at her home at 74 Gregory Drive, Fairfax. Hired Experts Declare Bonds Can Build California Water Plan 'If'

SACRAMENTO (UPI)—Hired experts said today that the California water plan can be built with the 1.75-billion-dollar water bond issue if the state changes its construction plans and if local taxpayers help pay the cost.

These opinions were reported to Gov. Edmund G. Brown by Charles T. Main, Inc., engineering consultants of Boston, and Dillon, Read and Co., Inc., financial consultants of New York.

The state hired them for $555,000 to study all aspects of California's water development plans.

The twin reports were specked with "ifs." The consultants said the huge water development would pay for itself in the long run if three things happened:

1. If the start of construction of Oroville Dam was delayed until 1975.

2. If construction costs do not increase over the next 30 years.

3. And if master water districts are established in farm areas, mainly the San Joaquin Valley and the North Bay Area, to help pay the cost.

On whether construction costs will go up, the reports said "past experience of the historical upward price trend must not be disregarded."

They said increased costs of water because of construction cost increases can be absorbed by municipal and industrial water buyers but farm users may not be able to repay the increased costs.

"The state must be prepared to assume the risk that it might not be completely reimbursed during the bond repayment period, which runs to the year 2040," the reports said.

The consulting firms said that the state should not build, at the same time, Oroville Dam and the aqueducts to carry northern surplus water to Southern California and other dry areas.

They said the aqueducts should be built first. Even if other funds should be made available, "a completely new study would be required if advancing the completion date of the Oroville project is considered."

They said that "any radical advance in the timing of this construction . . . could have an adverse effect upon the marketing of the water bonds."

The consultants also proposed that the state's proposed "surcharge" on large landholdings should be dropped. They said the state's proposed extra charge on landholdings over 160 acres would result in a legal problem and water sales in farm areas may be cut.

The reports further said:

"To maintain the use of agricultural water in the North Bay and San Joaquin Valley areas, the formation of master districts (to buy the water) is a prerequisite.

"Such districts would have to absorb, by means of taxations, at least part of the debt service (interest) and probably some of the operating expenses in the earlier years."

The reports said the master water districts should "have a broad property tax base, in part embracing urban communities, thereby recovering from local property taxes a substantial portion of the wholesale charges for the water."

Eagle Court Set At Park School

Boy Scout Explorer Post 28 of Mill Valley will conduct an Eagle Court of honor at 8 p.m. Nov. 18 in the Park School auditorium.

The court will present Explorer Scout Dennis Henderson with his Eagle Scout award in a program headed by Chief Executive Storrs Smith of the Marin Council. Henderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack A. Henderson of 440 Manzanita Avenue, Corte Madera, is the ninth Scout in the post to receive this top Scouting honor. Six Scouts from Post 28 were awarded Eagle badges in a group ceremony on Mount Tamalpais about one year ago.

Integration Leader King Ordered Out Of Jail

DECATUR, Ga. (AP) — Negro integration leader Martin Luther King Jr. today was ordered freed from the state penitentiary under bond of $2,000 pending an appeal from a traffic violation sentence.

The bond was set by Judge Oscar Mitchell, who earlier had sent King to prison for four months on the ground that his participation in Atlanta lunch counter sit-ins violated probation on the traffic count.

Mitchell granted attorneys for King an appeal from his revocation of part of a suspended sentence given the integration leader for failure to have a Georgia driver's license.

Meanwhile, in Atlanta, Mrs. King said Democratic presidential candidate John Kennedy had called her and promised to "do all I can to help." Mrs. King said Kennedy did not say in so many words that he would try to obtain the release of her husband from jail but she said, "I assume that's what he meant."

PG&E Office Opens Sunday In Mill Valley

Mayor Robert D. Huber will cut the ribbon at official opening ceremonies at 2 p.m. Sunday of the new office of the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. at 465 Miller Avenue, Mill Valley.

Public inspection of the office is invited from 2 to 5 p.m., said Kenneth E. Robin, Mill Valley-Sausalito area manager for PG&E. Also taking part in the ceremonies will be Elias S. Day, PG&E North Bay Division manager, and George M. Henderson, Marin District manager.

The office is being moved from 17 Madrona Avenue to put it in a more accessible location for customers, Robin said. There will be free parking both on Miller Avenue as well as Valley Circle. The building is located adjacent to the American Legion Hall.

Robin said his company is making arrangements for an additional pay station in the Throckmorton area but that no place has been chosen yet.

Trustees View Teaching Aids

Arithmetic teaching aids were demonstrated to Kentfield School District trustees Monday night by Ruth Travis, first grade teacher at Wolfe Grade School.

The demonstration was part of an anlysis of the first grade program in the district. It was the second of nine such discussions which will be given the trustees by teachers and Anthony Bacich, district curriculum coordinator.

An explanation of the teaching of language and writing arts was presented to the trustees by Betty Gray, Wolfe Grade teacher. Doris Bauer of the Greenbrae School analyzed the program of social studies. Elva Dughi, also of the Wolfe Grade School, discussed the art, music and physical education program.

Flights Of Birds Close Sanctuary

The National Audubon Society's Richardson Bay Sanctuary on the Tiburon Peninsula has been closed to public use because fall flights of migratory waterfowl have arrived, Carl W. Buchheister, society president, announced today.

Advance announcement of the spring opening date will be made when most of the waterfowl have moved out, Buchheister said. He explained that these actions are in accordance with terms of the leases of the submerged lands by Marin County and the City of Belvedere.

Audubon Warden John O. Larson, deputized by both federal and state governments, will again be on patrol, as well as conducting a nature education program for groups coming by appointment.

Novato Council Sees Plans For Subdivision

Novato city councilmen met informally yesterday for an information-discussion session on the problem of the Wylie subdivision which will come up for official hearing before the council on Tuesday night.

Subdivider H. C. Wylie is protesting the city planning commission decision that a 100-foot right of way must be provided through his proposed subdivision for future extension of San Jose Boulevard.

City councilmen at the meeting yesterday saw maps of the planned 11-acre subdivision, heard the history and probable future of the area discussed in terms of population and traffic, and discussed alternate road routes with David Van Pelt and B. D. Dobbs of the county planning staff. County planners advise the city under a city-county contract.

An agreement for routing the road through Wylie's land was reached by the county and adjacent subdivider Paul Trousdale in 1958. The proposed road also runs through Trousdale lands. The Wylie land lies south of San Jose Creek.

City council members at the meeting yesterday afternoon were Charles R. Johnson, M. E. (Babe) Silva and John J. Angeloni, with city administrator J. Julien Baget.

17 Children Win Tetherball Prizes

Seventeen San Rafael children won blue, red or white ribbons in a city-wide tetherball tournament last Saturday at the E Street School, the sponsoring parks and recreation department has announced.

More than 35 youngsters participated in the semi-finals for boys and girls between 7 and 12 years old. There were first, second and third place winners in three different age groups with boys and girls separated.

First place winners were Dennis Silva, Mark Stevens, Harold Keener, Robin Clark, Vicky Wollz and Judy Hearne.

Heifer is the modern spelling of two Anglo-Saxon words, heah-fear meaning "high ox." It probably got that name because a heifer seems to stand high on her legs compared to a grown cow.

At 20, This Boy Has His Masters

CHICAGO (AP) — Education comes easy for Mitchel J. Sweig, who at 20 has received a master's degree from the University of Chicago.

He took a scholarship test in 1954 when he was a high school sophomore. He was a winner but the test was open only to those who had finished two years of high school.

The university withheld the award until he had completed the requirement. He entered the university in February, 1955, and received his bachelor's degree in June, 1959.

Now he begins his doctorate work in October.

Big Air Raid Drill Planned At Hamilton

Wailing sirens will signal the first all-out post-war air raid drill for Hamilton Air Force Base tomorrow.

Base military and civilian personnel, and this time also dependents living on the base, will head for "fallout shelters."

Base spokesmen said the drill was being announced to warn residents surrounding the base why the sirens would sound.

The drill will begin at 3:20 p.m. with a "prepare to take shelter" siren. At 3:30 p.m. the "take shelter" signal will sound, a three-minute warbling siren. Three one-minute blasts will mean all clear. The drill will begin after classes at the Meadow Park School on the base have let out.

There are no special fallout shelters at the base, base officials said. Personnel use basements and other designated areas of ordinary buildings.

Civil Defense Meeting Slated

The second in a series of public meetings on family civil defense preparedness is scheduled for 8 o'clock tonight at Hill School in Novato.

William G. Herrington, chief of the Marin mobile radiological trailer, will discuss family fallout shelters and answer questions on radiation dangers, followed by movies on preparedness against radiation.

The meeting will run to 10 p.m. as the second in a series backed by the Novato Parent-Teacher Assn. Council. It is the first Civil Defense symposium in the county.

Honor Rally Planned For GOP Workers

Republican precinct captains and workers will be honored at a "Four Square" rally sponsored by the four GOP volunteer organizations of Marin County and the Republican Central Committee at Bermuda Palms on Nov. 3, it was announced Tuesday night at a meeting of the Republican County Central Committee.

Mrs. Henry Sherry of San Anselmo was named general chairman, to be assisted by Ann Walton of Pro-America, Jean DeMuth of the Young Republicans, Rose Eiserich of the Federated Republican Women and Walter Kieckhefer of the Marin Republican Council.

Sketches revolving around the candidates will be presented by the four organizations and the candidates themselves will be present. The event will begin at 8 p.m. A speaker in behalf of the Nixon-Lodge ticket will also be a participant.

An old fashioned political rally to be held on Nov. 5 from 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. at Tamalpais Valley junction was approved and is to be arranged by William B. Riddle, with free pony rides for the children, free refreshments and music. Fred G. Dupuis, congressional nominee, and William T. Bagley, Assembly nominee, will appear at the rally.

Jeanne Dausse, county precinct chairman, announced that plans are complete for election day, when baby sitters and transportation to the polls will be furnished.

An election night party will be staged at Bermuda Palms by the Young Republicans, President William D. Keeler announced.

David Winslow, chairman of the county committee, introduced Tom Goodale of Sausalito, and Conrad Williams of Mill Valley, co-chairmen of a new GOP organization formed at College of Marin. Todd Young of Mill Valley, vice chairman, was also presented to the committee.

Planners Ponder Peoples' Places

By BRUCE COLEMAN

Cars are kings in Sausalito—especially on weekends—but if the city planning commission has its way, it will find some room for people.

The commission, as its main item of business last night, held the first hearing on a report of the citizens' waterfront plan committee but took no action. The audience was sparse.

Besides traffic, the commission discussed the need for relocating the police station, said to be inadequate and unsafe; the inclusion of a bus station in the central waterfront area, and a suggestion for more art festivals.

Charles E. Finney, committee chairman and recently appointed as a planning commissioner, described the majority report and two minority reports of the committee.

"The heart of the city is not to be given over to cars but to people," declared Finney.

Commissioner Carl G. Wooley said, "I'm 'agin' this sea of cars. We've got too many automobiles now." He added, though, that tourists do leave a trail of money and cited the city's $80,000 in sales tax.

Commissioner Thomas Wiper said, "I'm against the cars too, but I'm in favor of keeping them moving."

Robert La Fontaine of the audience endorsed Finney's minority proposal suggesting an extension of the present Vina Del Mar Plaza with a promenade, art center, library and reflection pool. He said "there is no possible way of supplying enough parking spaces for the week-end traffic."

Frank V. Pistolesi, a committee member, recommended a different minority report which advocates extending Humboldt Avenue over the water bayward of Bridgeway, to tie in to Bridgeway again at the Glad Hand Restaurant. "Cars will come whether we want them or not. We must provide for the traffic and the Humboldt extension will help relieve traffic," said Pistolesi.

Regarding a new police station, city councilman Michael Harris asked Finney the benefits of a station located next to the fire station on Johnson Street as proposed in the majority report.

Finney said it would assist in communications since sometimes the police department does not have men available to answer the phone and the fire department might answer it. It is also more centrally located geographically, Finney said.

Committee member J. Herbert Madden said the alternate proposal of a civic center on Bridgeway bounded by Litho, Bee and Caledonia Streets would be helpful as far as traffic is concerned. Madden said the selection was made too, thinking of the city's requirements 20 to 30 years from now.

Councilman Marjorie Brady urged the commission to consider the location of a bus station on Bridgeway at Bay Street near the bank of America Building. "It is an absolute necessity," she said.

Wooley made a strong appeal for Sausalito as an artist colony and suggested there be three or four art festivals per year instead of one.

"I don't think Sausalito can afford to lose the opportunity of furthering its art colony," he said, "and anything we build in this town should take that into consideration."

Novato Kiwanis Officers Named

Robert F. Merritt, secretary-manager of the Novato Chamber of Commerce, has been elected president of the Novato Kiwanis Club.

Boy Scouts Clean Up City's Streets

A half-mile stretch of San Rafael's Elizabeth Way, described by one resident as a "miserable mess," was cleaned up by Cub Scouts of Dens 2 and 5 of Cub Pack 62 this week.

Under leadership of Mrs. Beatrice Brown and Mrs. Al Nathe, den mothers, the Cubs picked up nearly a half-ton of trash.

Construction To Take Year On Home For Aged

Construction of Marin County's Nazareth House for the Aging in Terra Linda may start early in December, if the hopes of the Sisters of Nazareth are realized. Groundbreaking ceremonies will be held Saturday.

Mother Mary Lewis Bertrand, who is in charge of business transactions and planning for the project, said this week that detailed plans for the million-dollar home will be completed about Nov. 15.

Plans then go to the State Department of Social Welfare for approval.

Site work is under way, now, however, to clear and prepare the eight-acre site for the building. Mother Bertrand estimates construction will take about a year.

"I hope it will start quickly and get on quickly," she smiles. This will be the third home for the aged established by the Sisters of Nazareth in California, and it will be the "finest of all," she said.

Nazareth House, which will provide modern living for about 100 elderly persons, also will be larger than the sisters' homes in Los Angeles and Fresno. "It is the largest we feel we could go and keep a homelike atmosphere," Mother Bertrand explained.

The order also operates homes for children in Van Nuys and San Diego.

Rt. Rev. John C. McGarr, pastor of St. Anselm's Church in San Anselmo, will turn the first shovel of earth and conduct the blessing of the site Saturday. Religious and civic leaders will participate in the ceremonies. They will include State Sen. John F. McCarthy of San Rafael, chairman Walter R. Castro of the board of supervisors, Mayor John F. McInnis of San Rafael, and Rev. James M. Murray, general director of Archdiocesan Catholic Charities. A color guard will assist in the program.

Louis G. Freitas of San Rafael heads the Nazareth House Advisory board. Also on the board are Dr. Carolyn Albrecht, county health officer; Betty Pressley, director of the county welfare department; Dr. Rafael G. Dufficy, county medical director; Waldo Giaciomini of Point Reyes Station; William R. von der Mehden of Larkspur; Dr. John J. Preisinger of Mill Valley; Msgr. McGarr and Peter Helms of San Anselmo; Dr. John S. Erlwein of Corte Madera; Mrs. Rose Paul of Kentfield; George Tocalino and Charles R. Johnson of Novato; Mrs. Roger Yore of Greenbrae; Rev. Daniel McAlister, Fred Acciari, Mrs. Leroy Woodhead and Thomas P. Boyd of San Rafael.

Elmer Ambrose Sperry, inventor of the Sperry gyroscope, developed an improved drill for a wood-working shop when he was only 12.

WCTU LADY SAYS OFF WITH HEADS

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—The city licensing commission's chairman told the city commission he couldn't crack down any more than he was under the present liquor laws.

Un-American Activities Unit Hit By Attorney Hallinan

Attorney Vincent Hallinan of Ross last night assailed the House Un-American Activities Committee as a "lot of fossils" attempting to "impose a chastity belt on the minds of the American people."

Hallinan debated the question of whether the committee should be abolished with San Francisco attorney Edward E. Heavey at the Veterans' Memorial in San Francisco, under auspices of the Veterans Political Council.

"Why fool ourselves?" Hallinan asked. "The Reds have made spectacular advances in Russia . . . The trouble with this country is that it is suffering from intellectual hardening of the arteries . . . This country is now the most hated country that has ever been on the face of the globe . . . We don't need an un-American Activities Committee. What we need is an American Activities Committee"

One Injured As Cars Hit

A San Rafael towboat captain was in San Rafael General Hospital in fair condition yesterday after driving his car into an almost stationary vehicle on the Waldo Grade at 4:45 a.m. Tuesday.

Burt Thomas Besselieu of 333 Mountain View Avenue was driving in the righthand lane of Highway 101 when his car struck that of Salvatore Auiello, bar owner, of San Francisco, who said he had engine trouble.

Both cars went off the road.

California Highway Patrolmen James Dukes and Ralph Anderson came along a deserted highway, chanced to shine a spotlight off the road, and saw the two wrecked cars.

Besselieu, unconscious until he recovered to find Auiello trying to help him, said he had seen no lights and had no idea what had happened.

The steering wheel of Besselieu's car jammed his chest. He was given emergency treatment at Marin General Hospital for multiple fractures of sternum and ribs before transfer to San Rafael General Hospital. Auiello was treated at Marin General Hospital for a cut forehead.

Point Reyes Map Finally Approved

Approval of final map of an initial unit of the Drakes Beach Estates on Point Reyes was finally voted with relief by the Marin County Board of Supervisors as a result of private agreement for improvement of the access road.

The agreement, announced last week by attorneys Benjamin Bonelli and Bryan McCarthy for the subdividers and nearby residents respectively, still didn't please Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham, he made clear yesterday.

By the approval deal, the subdivider has put $4,000 in escrow for resurfacing and widening three-quarters of a mile of road connecting with county highway but not actually on his land.

Proposition 16 Opposed By Board

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The State Board of Equalization has adopted a resolution opposing Proposition 6, which would lower tax assessments on private, non-profit golf courses.

The proposition, it said, would shift taxes to home owners and others, "many of whom are persons of limited means unprepared to assume an increased share of the expense of local government without hardship."

One Injured As Cars Hit

A San Rafael towboat captain was in San Rafael General Hospital in fair condition yesterday after driving his car into an almost stationary vehicle on the Waldo Grade at 4:45 a.m. Tuesday.

Burt Thomas Besselieu of 333 Mountain View Avenue was driving in the righthand lane of Highway 101 when his car struck that of Salvatore Auiello, bar owner, of San Francisco, who said he had engine trouble.

Both cars went off the road. California Highway Patrolmen James Dukes and Ralph Anderson came along a deserted highway, chanced to shine a spotlight off the road, and saw the two wrecked cars.

Besselieu, unconscious until he recovered to find Auiello trying to help him, said he had seen no lights and had no idea what had happened.

The steering wheel of Besselieu's car jammed his chest. He was given emergency treatment at Marin General Hospital for multiple fractures of sternum and ribs before transfer to San Rafael General Hospital. Auiello was treated at Marin General Hospital for a cut forehead.

Point Reyes Map Finally Approved

Approval of final map of an initial unit of the Drakes Beach Estates on Point Reyes was finally voted with relief by the Marin County Board of Supervisors as a result of private agreement for improvement of the access road.

The agreement, announced last week by attorneys Benjamin Bonelli and Bryan McCarthy for the subdividers and nearby residents respectively, still didn't please Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham, he made clear yesterday.

By the approval deal, the subdivider has put $4,000 in escrow for resurfacing and widening three-quarters of a mile of road connecting with county highway but not actually on his land.

Proposition 16 Opposed By Board

SACRAMENTO (AP) — The State Board of Equalization has adopted a resolution opposing Proposition 6, which would lower tax assessments on private, non-profit golf courses.

The proposition, it said, would shift taxes to home owners and others, "many of whom are persons of limited means unprepared to assume an increased share of the expense of local government without hardship."

Shoreline Proposal May Go By Board

By CHAPIN A. DAY

SANTA ROSA — Proposed realignment of Shoreline Highway "may lie dormant unless those favoring the improvement make themselves known."

That was the report this noon of Arthur E. Hayler, district engineer for the California Division of Highways, to a meeting of the Shoreline Highway Assn. here.

Hayler said his office has made no recommendation to Division of Highways headquarters in Sacramento as to which of five proposed routings of the road from Highway 101 to Olema should be adopted. The division is "trying to establish a location for a road which will probably not be built for many years," he said, but "because of highly vocal opposition and practically no organized support, "it seems unlikely even the routing will be decided soon.

"The Shoreline Highway Assn. must realize we have a lot of places to spend money on roads in Marin and Sonoma Counties," he said. "So if you want a road, you'll have to fight for it."

The association passed a resolution urging Marin County government to study the proposals of the Division of Highways and make a recommendation on the best way to improve Highway 1.

Hayler said the lowland route through Tamalpais Valley appears to be "much more harmful to the area" than any of the other proposals. He said 65 to 70 homes might have to be removed.

"I agree," he said, "with the people of Tamalpais Valley that this is not a good route so long as there is an alternate."

In another session of the annual meeting of the Redwood Empire Assn., of which the Shoreline Highway Assn. is a part, it was revealed the state hopes to acquire the rest of Angel Island for expansion of the state park there within the next year.

Gordon Kishbaugh, assistant chief of the State Division of Beaches and Parks, reported a tentative lease is already being considered. He said present facilities are overtaxed.

In other Marin parks, Kishbaugh said the major land acquisition for Mount Tamalpais State Park expansion is well under way and development of other Marin parks will be undertaken as soon as current acquisition programs are completed.

In Samuel P. Taylor State Park, he said, the Devil's Gulch area is scheduled for development next.

The Division of Beaches and Parks is also keeping close watch on the military installations around the Golden Gate so the state "will be on the ground floor" if the land is declared surplus, he said.

Charles A. de Turk, chief of the Division of Beaches and Parks, told the group that four and one-half million people have visited state parks in the Redwood Empire this year.

The two-day convention will wind up tomorrow evening with a banquet honoring Clyde P. Edmondson, who retired this year as general manager of the association.

HEARING

bitration and appeal machinery for discrimination complaints involving private housing.

The private housing portion of the law would involve only buildings including three or more units or where a single owner controls the sale of five or more dwellings continguous to each other (such as a tract). Individual family homes would not be affected.

Several supporters of the law claimed that while many realty brokers will not support the law, they would be more than willing to sell or rent without discrimination if given the support of law to protect them from the pressure of those who object to such selling.

Some opponents held that good will and evolution will eventually dispose of the problem of discrimination, but that forcing equality by legislation only creates hard feelings and dissension.

Daniel F. Deedy, executive manager of the Marin County Real Estate Board, stating that "this ordinance is vicious . . . not the American way," said the principal of compulsion would harm everyone in the county.

Quoting Al Smith and President Eisenhower, he pointed out: "There are no property rights in Russia . . . This law would give the zealots on the commission an opportunity to go on a 'fishing expedition' and damage property owners."

Jessie Berry a Marin City electrician remarking on his 18 years in Marin, said: "I've watched the white residents progress to better homes, and I've watched the Negro stagnate in Marin City. This law is necessary and important, and not only for the Negro."

Supervisor William D. Fusselman, asked that discussion be limited to the indefinite language of the ordinance, and not center on Negroes specifically.

Mrs. Anne Smart of Larkspur, drawing on the words of Abraham Lincoln and John Quincy Adams for support, equated property rights with the laws of God and claimed: "This ordinance is only designed to stir up trouble. There are no majority and minority groups in this country. We're all Americans."

Christian ethics were involved in several speeche on both sides of the question, especially by a large contingent of instructors from San Francisco Theological Seminary, who favored the law.

The question rose as to who were taxpayers in the county. It was answered by a Hamilton Air Force Base sergeant. "Anyone who buys anything in a Marin County store pays taxes," declared Sgt. Jewell C. Dillard.

"Anyone who lives in Marin buys in Marin," he went on "and most of the Negroes at Hamilton live out of the county because they can't find a decent place to live here." Dillard said it took him one year to move to Marin From Oakland.

After three hours of discussion, Board Chairman Walter R. Castro polled the board for its feelings. The board members had been silent during the hearing except for sporadic interjections by Fusselman.

Mrs. Schultz spoke strongly in favor of the ordinance and moved to accept it. Fusselman, visibly ruffled, said that this was not a meeting, but a hearing, and that the motion was out of order.

"As long as we're all here, why don't we vote?" Mrs. Schultz rejoined.

Ross Man Thrown As Car Hits Pole

George Ellis Goldman, 32, of 55 Winship Avenue, was driving north over the Waldo Grade at 2:30 a.m. when his car went off the road one-tenth of a mile north of the Spencer Avenue on-ramp. It struck a pole belonging to the Division of Highways. Goldman suffered multiple cuts of left arm, head and thighs as he slid along the ground after being thrown out.

Exec's Death Probe Reveals Other Affairs

Affairs of both the heart and pocket book were tangled for Millbrae executive Donald Douglas and his wife, Virginia, before their deaths—hers in a plunge from a Puerto Rico cliff; his from carbon monoxide fumes in a car parked in a lonely spot in Lucas Valley.

This was disclosed today by Keith Sorenson, San Mateo County district attorney, after a session of questioning of Mrs. Marie Aloha (Gypsy) Buys, onetime San Mateo County night life queen.

FRIEND, CONFIDANT

Mrs. Buys was a friend and confident of both Douglases and of Jaime Enrique Sandoval, 29-year-old Puerto Rican and mysterious third party in the story of double death.

Sorenson told Independent-Journal his continuing investigation is concerned principally with the death of 42-year-old Mrs. Douglas. There is only Sandoval's word that she fell from a cliff on Sept. 28. Her body has never been found.

Douglas's death has been listed as suicide by Frank J. Keaton, Marin County coroner. Sorenson said this is pretty well established by the fact that a three-page suicide letter found in the car "contained things that nobody else would have wanted to put in it."

To make sure, however, the letter has been submitted to handwriting experts, Sorenson disclosed. This was done at suggestion of Coroner Keaton.

OTHER AFFAIRS

Mrs. Buys told Sorenson and his investigator, A. L. Lamport, that both Douglas and his wife were carrying on extra-marital affairs—he with a New York hairdresser and she with a Millbrae neighbor.

Mrs. Buys, onetime operator of gay peninsula night spots, and owner of silent screen star Rudolph Valentino's "Falcon's Lair," said she had supported Sandoval the past three years —although he had held at least one job since his conviction in Marin County three years ago on a sex deviation charge.

She said Douglas and Sandoval told her last June they had to raise $15,000 in a hurry, because "a man in a San Mateo bank" had made Sandoval an unauthorized loan and was about to be exposed. To get the $15,000, Douglas forged his wife's name to a mortgage on their Millbrae home, as admitted in the suicide note.

OTHER LOANS

That and other loans Douglas had obtained since last January from banks, personal loan companies and individuals were all to be repaid from the proceeds of a "$432,000 estate" which Sandoval said he was about to inherit, Mrs. Buys related. The suicide note said Douglas had been bamboozled about the estate.

Sorenson said he would question Sandoval about his role in the case—and especially about Mrs. Douglas's reported death fall from a cliff in Puerto Rico, where she had gone with Sandoval — tomorrow morning at his office in Redwood City.

Garety Asks Higher Pay For Police

Higher wages and better training for policemen could be strong factors in reducing the increase in crime, according to Roger P. Garety, Marin County's new district attorney.

Speaking at Bob's of Marin last night at the monthly meeting of the Marin Council of Mayors, Garety said the current upsurge of crime is a direct result of a "Lack of incentive" among police officers.

"There is a different complexion to crime nowadays," he said. "It used to be that a narcotics case was a rarity. Now it is almost a daily occurence.

"Suede shoe operators, bad checks and purveyors of smut" could be eliminated from today's headlines if the job of policeman were made more attractive to "dedicated men," he said.

Implying that criminals are smarter than in the past, Garety said the answer to the problem is to make the pay "commensurate with the responsibilities."

The meeting was hosted by the Town of Corte Madera with Mayor Edward H. Colthurst presiding.

Gateway Speaker

San Anselmo architect Geoffrey W. Fairfax spoke on the Golden Gateway Redevelopment Project before a recent convention of the California Council, American Institute of Architects, in Yosemite Valley. His wife, Wendy, went as delegate for the Northern California Chapter of the Women's Architectural League.

Inspector Fights For County Job

Harry Grieb, who has been building inspector (specializing in electrical inspection) for the county for 14 years, is appealing the layoff.

Marvin W. Brigham, public works superintendent, said Novato's incorporation means less work and a reduction in the building inspection department was necessary. He laid off Grieb and disclosed he will release a plumbing inspector also.

The county will then have three building inspectors—one each in electrical, plumbing and construction.

As electrical inspector, Grieb does not have seniority, but he contends he could qualify as construction inspector.

Grieb appeared before the personel commission yesterday with his lawyer, Roderic P. Martinelli. The hearing was to continue this afternoon in the courthouse.

County Counsel Leland H. Jordan says legally, Grieb has no right to appeal in this case under the county merit service ordinance approved by the people in 1951. The ordinance does not provide for appeal in case of layoff because of reduction in force.

Grieb's fight for retention of his job is backed by many contractors, who showed up in force yesterday at the hearing.

AIRPORT

pointed out that a general aviation airport is now difficult to locate in the Bay Area. "But Marin may be close," he declared.

Forrest Fiorini, a member of the California Aeronautics Commission, told the group that aviation is "no longer an infant, and must accept responsibility for its own financial support."

"Under our present method of financing from the state's general tax fund, we'll never get ahead." He indicated support of using gas tax funds for aviation development.

He also reported that the state "now for the first time is going into the airport business with the proposed aquisition of an airport between Sacramento and Reno, and the gift of another in Southern California." He stressed, however, that "we're not going into the airport operations business," and said that the state would leave airport operations to private individuals.

George Oliver Jr., Greenbrae, Found Dead In Basement

George Davidson Oliver Jr., 58, sales manager for the U.S. Wood Products Co. of San Francisco, was found dead at his Greenbrae home last evening.

Coroner Frank J. Keaton said he may have suffered a heart attack. Funeral arrangements are pending at Keaton's in San Rafael.

Sheriff's deputies found Oliver lying fully clothed on a divan in the basement of his home at 290 Vista Grande about 5:30 p.m. Deputy Sheriff William N. McKillop said the man may have been dead for several days.

Oliver's neighbor, James Jerome Jones of 285 Vista Grande, told officers he had not seen Oliver for three days and went to the home to investigate last evening. He then called the sheriff.

Deputy Sheriff Arthur Wiggins climbed in through a window and found the victim in a downstairs room near the garage.

The victim had been under the care of two doctors. They said Oliver had been emotionally disturbed and complained of not sleeping well.

An autopsy was to be performed by the coroner.

Boasting about your home, Higgins? Well, that's understandable. Most men who have worked hard through the years to buy good homes for their families are proud of them.

Nice as your home is, its location in a progressive community, with all the public facilities needed for modern living, adds greatly to its attractiveness.

Someday—perhaps years from now—you may sell your home. When you do, the good schools, well-equipped fire department, modern hospitals, ample supply of pure water and other community assets can make a difference of several thousand dollars cash in your pocket.

Of course, you share the cost of these community assets. But the cost is spread over a long period of time to keep taxes at a reasonable rate. This is done by sale of municipal bonds on a competitive bid basis.

The Bank of America and its associated investment dealers bid on virtually all municipal bonds issued in the State. That's because we have confidence in the future of California and communities like yours.

Being right there on the scene, you know the business, industry and people in your community as well as anybody does. You've watched it grow and improve as the years went by. You've helped by voting for needed bond issues.

But have you ever thought of buying the municipal bonds issued in your area? They're available in denomination of $1,000. Shoreline Proposal May Go By Board

By CHAPIN A. DAY

SANTA ROSA — Proposed realignment of Shoreline Highway "may lie dormant unless those favoring the improvement make themselves known."

That was the report this noon of Arthur E. Hayler, district engineer for the California Division of Highways, to a meeting of the Shoreline Highway Assn. here.

Hayler said his office has made no recommendation to Division of Highways headquarters in Sacramento as to which of five proposed routings of the road from Highway 101 to Olema should be adopted. The division is "trying to establish a location for a road which will probably not be built for many years," he said, but "because of highly vocal opposition and practically no organized support, "it seems unlikely even the routing will be decided soon.

"The Shoreline Highway Assn. must realize we have a lot of places to spend money on roads in Marin and Sonoma Counties," he said. "So if you want a road, you'll have to fight for it."

The association passed a resolution urging Marin County government to study the proposals of the Division of Highways and make a recommendation on the best way to improve Highway 1.

Hayler said the lowland route through Tamalpais Valley appears to be "much more harmful to the area" than any of the other proposals. He said 65 to 70 homes might have to be removed.

"I agree," he said, "with the people of Tamalpais Valley that this is not a good route so long as there is an alternate."

In another session of the annual meeting of the Redwood Empire Assn., of which the Shoreline Highway Assn. is a part, it was revealed the state hopes to acquire the rest of Angel Island for expansion of the state park there within the next year.

Gordon Kishbaugh, assistant chief of the State Division of Beaches and Parks, reported a tentative lease is already being considered. He said present facilities are overtaxed.

In other Marin parks, Kishbaugh said the major land acquisition for Mount Tamalpais State Park expansion is well under way and development of other Marin parks will be undertaken as soon as current acquisition programs are completed.

In Samuel P. Taylor State Park, he said, the Devil's Gulch area is scheduled for development next.

The Division of Beaches and Parks is also keeping close watch on the military installations around the Golden Gate so the state "will be on the ground floor" if the land is declared surplus, he said.

Charles A. de Turk, chief of the Division of Beaches and Parks, told the group that four and one-half million people have visited state parks in the Redwood Empire this year.

The two-day convention will wind up tomorrow evening with a banquet honoring Clyde P. Edmondson, who retired this year as general manager of the association.

HEARING

bitration and appeal machinery for discrimination complaints involving private housing.

The private housing portion of the law would involve only buildings including three or more units or where a single owner controls the sale of five or more dwellings continguous to each other (such as a tract). Individual family homes would not be affected.

Several supporters of the law claimed that while many realty brokers will not support the law, they would be more than willing to sell or rent without discrimination if given the support of law to protect them from the pressure of those who object to such selling.

Some opponents held that good will and evolution will eventually dispose of the problem of discrimination, but that forcing equality by legislation only creates hard feelings and dissension.

Daniel F. Deedy, executive manager of the Marin County Real Estate Board, stating that "this ordinance is vicious . . . not the American way," said the principal of compulsion would harm everyone in the county.

Quoting Al Smith and President Eisenhower, he pointed out: "There are no property rights in Russia . . . This law would give the zealots on the commission an opportunity to go on a 'fishing expedition' and damage property owners."

Jessie Berry a Marin City electrician remarking on his 18 years in Marin, said: "I've watched the white residents progress to better homes, and I've watched the Negro stagnate in Marin City. This law is necessary and important, and not only for the Negro."

Supervisor William D. Fusselman, asked that discussion be limited to the indefinite language of the ordinance, and not center on Negroes specifically.

Mrs. Anne Smart of Larkspur, drawing on the words of Abraham Lincoln and John Quincy Adams for support, equated property rights with the laws of God and claimed: "This ordinance is only designed to stir up trouble. There are no majority and minority groups in this country. We're all Americans."

Christian ethics were involved in several speeche on both sides of the question, especially by a large contingent of instructors from San Francisco Theological Seminary, who favored the law.

The question rose as to who were taxpayers in the county. It was answered by a Hamilton Air Force Base sergeant. "Anyone who buys anything in a Marin County store pays taxes," declared Sgt. Jewell C. Dillard.

"Anyone who lives in Marin buys in Marin," he went on "and most of the Negroes at Hamilton live out of the county because they can't find a decent place to live here." Dillard said it took him one year to move to Marin From Oakland.

After three hours of discussion, Board Chairman Walter R. Castro polled the board for its feelings. The board members had been silent during the hearing except for sporadic interjections by Fusselman.

Mrs. Schultz spoke strongly in favor of the ordinance and moved to accept it. Fusselman, visibly ruffled, said that this was not a meeting, but a hearing, and that the motion was out of order.

"As long as we're all here, why don't we vote?" Mrs. Schultz rejoined.

Ross Man Thrown As Car Hits Pole

George Ellis Goldman, 32, of 55 Winship Avenue, was driving north over the Waldo Grade at 2:30 a.m. when his car went off the road one-tenth of a mile north of the Spencer Avenue on-ramp. It struck a pole belonging to the Division of Highways. Goldman suffered multiple cuts of left arm, head and thighs as he slid along the ground after being thrown out.

Exec's Death Probe Reveals Other Affairs

Affairs of both the heart and pocket book were tangled for Millbrae executive Donald Douglas and his wife, Virginia, before their deaths—hers in a plunge from a Puerto Rico cliff; his from carbon monoxide fumes in a car parked in a lonely spot in Lucas Valley.

This was disclosed today by Keith Sorenson, San Mateo County district attorney, after a session of questioning of Mrs. Marie Aloha (Gypsy) Buys, onetime San Mateo County night life queen.

FRIEND, CONFIDANT

Mrs. Buys was a friend and confident of both Douglases and of Jaime Enrique Sandoval, 29-year-old Puerto Rican and mysterious third party in the story of double death.

Sorenson told Independent-Journal his continuing investigation is concerned principally with the death of 42-year-old Mrs. Douglas. There is only Sandoval's word that she fell from a cliff on Sept. 28. Her body has never been found.

Douglas's death has been listed as suicide by Frank J. Keaton, Marin County coroner. Sorenson said this is pretty well established by the fact that a three-page suicide letter found in the car "contained things that nobody else would have wanted to put in it."

To make sure, however, the letter has been submitted to handwriting experts, Sorenson disclosed. This was done at suggestion of Coroner Keaton.

OTHER AFFAIRS

Mrs. Buys told Sorenson and his investigator, A. L. Lamport, that both Douglas and his wife were carrying on extra-marital affairs—he with a New York hairdresser and she with a Millbrae neighbor.

Mrs. Buys, onetime operator of gay peninsula night spots, and owner of silent screen star Rudolph Valentino's "Falcon's Lair," said she had supported Sandoval the past three years —although he had held at least one job since his conviction in Marin County three years ago on a sex deviation charge.

She said Douglas and Sandoval told her last June they had to raise $15,000 in a hurry, because "a man in a San Mateo bank" had made Sandoval an unauthorized loan and was about to be exposed. To get the $15,000, Douglas forged his wife's name to a mortgage on their Millbrae home, as admitted in the suicide note.

OTHER LOANS

That and other loans Douglas had obtained since last January from banks, personal loan companies and individuals were all to be repaid from the proceeds of a "$432,000 estate" which Sandoval said he was about to inherit, Mrs. Buys related. The suicide note said Douglas had been bamboozled about the estate.

Sorenson said he would question Sandoval about his role in the case—and especially about Mrs. Douglas's reported death fall from a cliff in Puerto Rico, where she had gone with Sandoval — tomorrow morning at his office in Redwood City.

Garety Asks Higher Pay For Police

Higher wages and better training for policemen could be strong factors in reducing the increase in crime, according to Roger P. Garety, Marin County's new district attorney.

Speaking at Bob's of Marin last night at the monthly meeting of the Marin Council of Mayors, Garety said the current upsurge of crime is a direct result of a "Lack of incentive" among police officers.

"There is a different complexion to crime nowadays," he said. "It used to be that a narcotics case was a rarity. Now it is almost a daily occurence.

"Suede shoe operators, bad checks and purveyors of smut" could be eliminated from today's headlines if the job of policeman were made more attractive to "dedicated men," he said.

Implying that criminals are smarter than in the past, Garety said the answer to the problem is to make the pay "commensurate with the responsibilities."

The meeting was hosted by the Town of Corte Madera with Mayor Edward H. Colthurst presiding.

Gateway Speaker

San Anselmo architect Geoffrey W. Fairfax spoke on the Golden Gateway Redevelopment Project before a recent convention of the California Council, American Institute of Architects, in Yosemite Valley. His wife, Wendy, went as delegate for the Northern California Chapter of the Women's Architectural League.

Inspector Fights For County Job

Harry Grieb, who has been building inspector (specializing in electrical inspection) for the county for 14 years, is appealing the layoff.

Marvin W. Brigham, public works superintendent, said Novato's incorporation means less work and a reduction in the building inspection department was necessary. He laid off Grieb and disclosed he will release a plumbing inspector also.

The county will then have three building inspectors—one each in electrical, plumbing and construction.

As electrical inspector, Grieb does not have seniority, but he contends he could qualify as construction inspector.

Grieb appeared before the personel commission yesterday with his lawyer, Roderic P. Martinelli. The hearing was to continue this afternoon in the courthouse.

County Counsel Leland H. Jordan says legally, Grieb has no right to appeal in this case under the county merit service ordinance approved by the people in 1951. The ordinance does not provide for appeal in case of layoff because of reduction in force.

Grieb's fight for retention of his job is backed by many contractors, who showed up in force yesterday at the hearing.

pointed out that a general aviation airport is now difficult to locate in the Bay Area. "But Marin may be close," he declared.

Forrest Fiorini, a member of the California Aeronautics Commission, told the group that aviation is "no longer an infant, and must accept responsibility for its own financial support."

"Under our present method of financing from the state's general tax fund, we'll never get ahead." He indicated support of using gas tax funds for aviation development.

He also reported that the state "now for the first time is going into the airport business with the proposed aquisition of an airport between Sacramento and Reno, and the gift of another in Southern California." He stressed, however, that "we're not going into the airport operations business," and said that the state would leave airport operations to private individuals.

Sheriff's deputies found Oliver lying fully clothed on a divan in the basement of his home at 290 Vista Grande about 5:30 p.m. Deputy Sheriff William N. McKillop said the man may have been dead for several days.

Oliver's neighbor, James Jerome Jones of 285 Vista Grande, told officers he had not seen Oliver for three days and went to the home to investigate last evening. He then called the sheriff.

Deputy Sheriff Arthur Wiggins climbed in through a window and found the victim in a downstairs room near the garage.

The victim had been under the care of two doctors. They said Oliver had been emotionally disturbed and complained of not sleeping well.

Redwood Area Program Of Publicity Proposed

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — A three-pronged program of publicity, advertising and internal relations was proposed to the Redwood Empire Assn. today to bring about "a new era in REA."

The advertising firm of Hoefer, Dieterich and Brown of San Francisco told a luncheon meeting of the associations annual convention here that publicity efforts should be concentrated on the Pacific Coast, that an advertising program should begin with a full color advertisement in the West Coast edition of a national magazine, and that a program should be started to keep members informed of the activities of their organization.

John H. Hoefer of Belvedere, president of the firm, and Arthur M. Arlett, manager and public relations director, made the presentation, using colored slides to illustrate their talk.

The two men, who alternated in speaking, proposed a new insignia, featuring the Golden Gate Bridge and the redwood trees, to be used on all REA materials and programs.

Advertising should be added to the REA's program, the report went on. Proposing a $25,000 budget, the two men suggested an advertisement to run once in May or June next year developing the theme, "What you like to do most you can do best in the Redwood Empire."

The men declared they had not been able to find answers to such questions as how many people are coming into the Redwood Empire, where they are coming from, or how much they are spending. But they suggested the association should try to get such answers.

This afternoon the delegates from all nine counties of the association, from San Francisco to Josephine County, Ore., went into committee sessions on small boat harbors, real estate and wayside enterprises. The convention ends with the annual banquet tomorrow night.

MORE POLIO THIS SUMMER THAN LAST

SACRAMENTO (AP)—There were more cases of polio in California this summer than last, but the worst apparently is over.

The State Public Health Department reports 318 cases were reported through Oct. 8, compared to eight in 1959 and seven in 1958.

The department said the number of cases has been declining since the peak of 25 in the week ended Aug. 20.

State Expects Bumper Crop Of Children

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A bumper crop of babies is expected in California this year despite a declining national birth rate, the State Public Health Department reports.

If births continue at the rate of the first nine months of the year, 372,000 new Californians will be born in 1960 — an increase of 14,000 over 1959.

The department said the birth rate was 23.5 per 1,000 population in the January through September period. The nationwide trend was downward in the first half of the year.

However, the population has grown since 1959, meaning more births at the same rate.

The death rate, increased by deaths resulting from influenza and pneumonia outbreaks at the beginning of the year, is expected to rise about 2 per cent. That would be a rate of 8.6 per 1,000, or a total of 136,000.

State Traffic Accidents Claiming 10 Lives A Day

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California traffic accidents claimed the lives of 2,644 persons—nearly 10 a day—during the first nine months of 1960.

The toll is 107 above that of the same period in 1959, the California Highway Patrol said yesterday in its monthly report to Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Despite enforcement which resulted in 721,108 arrests, there were 1,431 fatal accidents in which 1,730 died in the areas patrolled by the CHP.

In addition, the patrol reported 26,202 injury accidents in which 43,742 were hurt in the January-September period.

Chicken Born With Four Legs

GASPORT, N. Y. (AP) — If number of legs has anything to do with speed, 17-year-old Richard Wojtowski may have the world's fastest chicken. The farm lad spotted the baby chick behind a hay mound recently and, noting the odd way it was resting, picked it up.

He was surprised to see the chick had four legs.

AN OPEN LETTER TO THE PUBLIC

You, who are engaged in what is left of private enterprise or in the professions, are aware of how essential personal private transportation is to your business operation or professional work. To be deprived of that transportation means in many cases to be effectively driven out of business.

One of the guarantees of the American Constitution is the right to "life, liberty and the pursuit of happiness." No one is to be deprived of this guaranty without trial by jury.

In this State of California, however, the Department of Motor Vehicles can take away your drivers license without resort to constitutional courts. The Department has its own court that becomes lawgiver, prosecutor and judge with the jury eliminated.

This seeming contempt for constitutional law is not new to the democrat party. In the 1930's there was an attempt to set up an abomination in which the individual was not permitted to buy or sell, manufacture or produce or labor unless he wore the mark of some governmental "beast," the N.R.A. or Eagle.

When this bureaucratic legislation was contested and found unconstitutional, instead of accepting the law, there was an attempt to "pack" the courts.

Now a wiser generation of this democrat party has found a circumvention of constitutional law by establishing its own courts that take precedent over courts established to uphold the law of the land. Occasionally a decision made in a star chamber proceeding of the Department of Motor Vehicles will be taken into a constitutionally authorized court to have it validated, thereby establishing a precedent. Where law is established by precedent, for better or for worse, what is to stop a runaway bureaucratic authority from not only deciding who is fit to use the highways, but, eventually, who is fit to live.

Having seen a recent example of such legal abuse in Germany where the individual had no recourse except to the individual who had condemned him, it must be said the Buchenwalds and Auschwitzes of this earth lack beauty.

The Bill of Rights, however, has always been a beautiful document that has made this America a haven and a refuge from tyranny and governmental oppression for all people from all lands. The Bill of Rights was executed by a people who had fled bitter political and religious persecution and were loathe to accept a central government or confederation of states until it had been incorporated into the Constitution.

The question at hand is whether there shall be a continuation of this American Constitution that has made the individual an identity to be reckoned with, or whether the laws shall be recreated to make the individual a vegetable in a bureaucratic state. In opposing governmental oppression all over the world shall we be overcome by it here in the United States of America? Heretofore the government has been looked upon as a servant of the people rather than a Lord and Master.

We can all appreciate a desire to make the world safe for democracy and the highways safe for the same, but is it necessary to do an evil that good might come?

VISTA POINT TO BE LANDSCAPED

The California Highway Commission has appropriated $200,000 for paving and landscaping of the Vista Point area on the east side of the Marin end of the Golden Gate Bridge. This is the approved plan. It does not include a proposed tourist information bureau.

State Expects Bumper Crop Of Children

SACRAMENTO (AP)—A bumper crop of babies is expected in California this year despite a declining national birth rate, the State Public Health Department reports.

If births continue at the rate of the first nine months of the year, 372,000 new Californians will be born in 1960 — an increase of 14,000 over 1959.

The department said the birth rate was 23.5 per 1,000 population in the January through September period. The nationwide trend was downward in the first half of the year.

However, the population has grown since 1959, meaning more births at the same rate.

The death rate, increased by deaths resulting from influenza and pneumonia outbreaks at the beginning of the year, is expected to rise about 2 per cent. That would be a rate of 8.6 per 1,000, or a total of 136,000.

State Traffic Accidents Claiming 10 Lives A Day

SACRAMENTO (AP)—California traffic accidents claimed the lives of 2,644 persons—nearly 10 a day—during the first nine months of 1960.

The toll is 107 above that of the same period in 1959, the California Highway Patrol said yesterday in its monthly report to Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Despite enforcement which resulted in 721,108 arrests, there were 1,431 fatal accidents in which 1,730 died in the areas patrolled by the CHP.

Redwood Area Program Of Publicity Proposed

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — A three-pronged program of publicity, advertising and internal relations was proposed to the Redwood Empire Assn. today to bring about "a new era in REA."

The advertising firm of Hoefer, Dieterich and Brown of San Francisco told a luncheon meeting of the associations annual convention here that publicity efforts should be concentrated on the Pacific Coast, that an advertising program should begin with a full color advertisement in the West Coast edition of a national magazine, and that a program should be started to keep members informed of the activities of their organization.

John H. Hoefer of Belvedere, president of the firm, and Arthur M. Arlett, manager and public relations director, made the presentation, using colored slides to illustrate their talk.

The two men, who alternated in speaking, proposed a new insignia, featuring the Golden Gate Bridge and the redwood trees, to be used on all REA materials and programs.

Advertising should be added to the REA's program, the report went on. Proposing a $25,000 budget, the two men suggested an advertisement to run once in May or June next year developing the theme, "What you like to do most you can do best in the Redwood Empire."

The men declared they had not been able to find answers to such questions as how many people are coming into the Redwood Empire, where they are coming from, or how much they are spending. But they suggested the association should try to get such answers.

This afternoon the delegates from all nine counties of the association, from San Francisco to Josephine County, Ore., went into committee sessions on small boat harbors, real estate and wayside enterprises. The convention ends with the annual banquet tomorrow night.

Committee To Meet

The Mill Valley Architectural Advisory Committee will meet at 8 p.m. today in the city hall to consider a plan for remodeling the interior of the Bank of America building at Throckmorton and Corte Madera Avenues. Remodeling will take in the portion of the building recently vacated by Dimitroff's picture frames.

MORE POLIO THIS SUMMER THAN LAST

SACRAMENTO (AP)—There were more cases of polio in California this summer than last, but the worst apparently is over.

The State Public Health Department reports 318 cases were reported through Oct. 8, compared to eight in 1959 and seven in 1958.

The department said the number of cases has been declining since the peak of 25 in the week ended Aug. 20.

Dixie Trustees Apply For U.S. School Fund

Dixie School trustees last night approved an application for $112,186 in federal funds to finance construction of a multi-use room addition to Mary E. Silveira School.

Federal approval is expected within three months, so the building could be up by September 1961, it was reported.

The new facility, to be located on the southeast corner of the present school, will include the main room, to seat 375 pupils; storage room; faculty room to accommodate 25 teachers; lavatories and janitor closet.

The board also approved an application for $8,114 in funds under the National Defense Education Act. Through this act the federal government reimburses schools for one half the cost of equipment and materials used for improvement of the elementary school science program.

The board adopted a policy under which each school principal will require pupils who ride bicycles to school to have permit cards. The cards, listing rules governing bicycle riding, must be signed by parents.

The board decided to cooperate with other public bodies in carrying on recreation programs, but not to assume direct responsibility for recreation in any part of the district from now on.

The board agreed to hire Arnold Griewe as inspector for site development on the Don Timoteo Elementary School.

Safe, False Leaders Is Choice, Ike Says

STAUNTON, Va. (UPI)—President Eisenhower said today that on election day the American people must choose between "false leaders" and "safe leaders."

The president, who flew here for a sentimental visit to his mother's birthplace and to honor the memory of Woodrow Wilson, made the statement in a speech extolling the World War I president.

Eisenhower also praised and identified himself with Sen. Harry F. Byrd, Virginia's senior Democrat who has withheld endorsing Sen. John F. Kennedy's bid for the presidency.

In his speech praising Wilson, Eisenhower said "he was not a man who believed in bruising the ears of his fellow men with shrill cries of alarm."

Although the president's speech was officially labeled non-political by the White House, this appeared to be an indirect slap at Kennedy. The Massachusetts senator has sharply criticized the Eisenhower administration and charged that U.S. prestige abroad has deteriorated.

Eisenhower did not mention Kennedy or his Republican opponent, Vice President Richard M. Nixon, by name.

"Free peoples," the president said, often "must choose between the conflicting teachings of political expediency on the one hand and the pursuit of noble, long term goals on the other."

Unitarian Church Meeting Tonight

"Developing Concepts of God With Children" will be the general topic of three public meetings of the Unitarian Church of Marin, at the Tamalpais Women's Club in Kentfield. The first will be at 8 o'clock tonight; others at the same hour on Nov. 10 and Dec. 1.

Mrs. Ernest Egenberger, director of the San Rafael Nursery School, and Mrs. Richard Hein, member of the church religious education committee, will lead tonight's discussion, centering on pre-school children and up through the third grade.

Leaky Tiki Survivor Search Called Off

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The Coast Guard said today the air and sea search for possible survivors of the three-man crew of the ill-fated raft Leaky Tiki had been abandoned.

The raft, carrying adventurers Charles Aylen, 36, Donald Trawitzki, 35, and Jerry Ball, 26, all of Puyallup, Wash., was wrecked during storms off the California coast last week.

Probation Aide's Wife Jailed For Forging Check For $100

The blonde, blue-eyed wife of a Monterey County deputy probation officer was booked in the Marin County Jail yesterday on a charge of forging a $100 check in San Rafael.

Police said Mrs. Elizabeth Grace Mauras, 35, of Salinas, admitted forging a check at Ed's Auto Supply, 835 Fourth Street, San Rafael, on Oct. 16 to pay for two girls' bicycles.

She said the bicycles were for her two oldest daughters, according to Capt. Joseph Brusatori of San Rafael police.

"The bikes were never uncrated; I sent them back today," her husband, Harry N. Mauras, told the Independent-Journal.

"I kept asking her why she did it," he said. "I don't know why."

Mrs. Mauras was arrested at their home Tuesday by Salinas policemen on a warrant issued by the Marin County district attorneys office. She was brought to the Marin County Jail yesterday afternoon by San Rafael police and held in lieu of $1,050 bail. She was scheduled to be arraigned this afternoon in Marin County Municipal Court.

Light Signal Just Went Thataway

Township officials suspect the light was removed inadvertently by a State Highway Department crew, or workers on a new interstate route nearby.

HAFB Center Guides Hunt For Lost Plane

(The Air Force Rescue Coordination Center at Hamilton Air Force Base was coordinating the search efforts.)

Sheriff's officers speculated the plane may have been a craft that left Fresno yesterday morning bound for Reno, but this could not be confirmed.

Deputy Garry Rapisarda said about a dozen men, including eight from the Placer County Sheriff's office were participating in the search. The civil air patrol in Sacramento reported five planes were pressed into service.

The missing plane was piloted by F. K. Hayhurst of Fresno and carrying his wife, child and mother as passengers. Two hunters reported to the Placer county sheriff's office yesterday that they heard a plane and then a crash near Duncan peak.

Tiburon Unit Reviews Plans For Apartments

The Tiburon Peninsula Coordinating Council last night reviewed plans presented for the Greenwood Cove, Reedport and Red Hill apartment developments but could take no action because of lack of a quorum.

Only 10 of the 23 members attended the meeting, chairman Peter MacGowan said.

The three developments are in accordance with the Tiburon master plan, MacGowan said, and the only change of zoning contemplated is in the Reedport development to allow some commercial properties.

MacGowan said the land use committee of the council will probably have some recommendation before the plans are discussed by the county planning commission.

Greenwood Cove is a lagoon development between the Marin Conservation League property and Bel Aire. Reedport is adjacent to it. The third development is for the southern side of Red Hill, off Tiburon Boulevard.

Tiburon Unit Reviews Plans For Apartments

The Tiburon Peninsula Coordinating Council last night reviewed plans presented for the Greenwood Cove, Reedport and Red Hill apartment developments but could take no action because of lack of a quorum.

Only 10 of the 23 members attended the meeting, chairman Peter MacGowan said.

The three developments are in accordance with the Tiburon master plan, MacGowan said, and the only change of zoning contemplated is in the Reedport development to allow some commercial properties.

MacGowan said the land use committee of the council will probably have some recommendation before the plans are discussed by the county planning commission.

Greenwood Cove is a lagoon development between the Marin Conservation League property and Bel Aire. Reedport is adjacent to it. The third development is for the southern side of Red Hill, off Tiburon Boulevard.

Guess where this quote comes from: "It is easier for a camel to go through the eye of a needle, than for a rich man to enter the Kingdom of God." It's from the Bible, Matthew XIX.

Flower Festival Will Bloom Soon

Formal gardens and a gay sidewalk cafe will be features of the 1960 edition of the event, sponsored annually by the Garden Society of Marin.

Katy and Paul Steinmetz, landscape architects, designed the setting on the "Chrysanthemums Continental" theme. In their design, said Maj. Murray R. Mackall, show director, the entire area in the vicinity of the Frances Young Gallery is integrated. The main exhibits will be located in the gallery, where white columns, statuary, and a fountain will be among the special items used to carry out the festival theme.

Interior of the gallery will be converted into a formal garden, with entry through a colonade. Exhibition specimens of fall flowers and orchids will be among the blooms on display against a colorful background of fall leaves and berries.

A feature of the exhibits in the gallery will be the floral arrangement competition. Entries are invited, Major Mackall said. Information may be obtained from Mrs. Fred Sloat, 25 Winship Avenue, San Anselmo, or at the center office.

Outside the gallery will be five small gardens, banks of chrysanthemums and ivy, and a how-to-do-it display for home gardeners.

Hundreds of plants, including chrysanthemums in bloom, Sasanqua camelias, and dwarf trees, will be available at the outdoor plant sales booth. Refreshments will be sold at the outdoor restaurant.

The festival will run from noon to 6 p.m. Nov.5 and 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., Nov. 6. Admission is free.

Homemaking Tops Novato School List

Homemaking and bookkeeping are the most popular courses of the seven offered in the night adult class program of Novato Unified School District.

The classes, offered at a $2 registration fee, run from 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesdays, except for the homemaking course. School officials had to split that class to Monday and Tuesday sections to accommodate the 62 persons who enrolled early in October.

There are 37 persons enrolled in the bookkeeping class, and a total of 211 adults in the seven classes offered, high school principal Martin McKeay told district trustees Tuesday night.

Reporting on the district summer school program, Ralph Giovanniello, district coordinator, said that of the 201 students who began the session in elementary grades, 152 completed it. On the high school level, 422 students began studies, 362 finished.

The cost to the district was $16,229, in addition to maintenance and capital outlay costs, he said. State reimbursements totaled an additional $17,274.

A tiny island off the west coast of Florida is named Captiva, supposedly because the buccaneer Gasparilla confined female prisoners there.

Supervisors To Study New Zoning Plans

The Marin County Board of Supervisors decided Tuesday to stand off and take a long hard look at two new zones which the county planning commission would like to create.

These would be called R-P-1 and R-P-2, and would permit the application of planned residential regulations to single-family and duplex developments.

The supervisors, after some discussion, continued the matter to Nov. 15 to give time for study.

"We're not shooting at you or at anyone on the commission at the present time," Supervisor William D. Fusselman assured Principal Planner William Dobbs. "But 'planned' means there must be a pretty usable plan before people can do anything and this might confine operations to people prepared to go all the way in development.

"It looks to me as though this would give complete control to the planners over the developers of subdivisions."

Cal-Vet Home Loan Backlog Pared Down

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The Department of Veterans' Affairs has announced a cut of 55 per cent in the backlog of Cal-Vet farm and home loans since June 30, with eight of the 17 district offices now operating on a current basis.

A year ago there were approximately 17,000 veterans on the waiting lists and in June the total stood at 18,000. In 1957 the backlog was more than 40,000.

The eight district offices operating on a current basis are Bakersfield, Inglewood, San Diego, San Francisco, Santa Ana, Santa Barbara, Santa Rosa (which serves Marin) and Van Nuys. The offices cover 18 counties and parts of Los Angeles County.

The department credited a new loan committment plan, instituted in June, with the reason for the decrease.

Under the new system, a veteran who actually has a house in prospect will be assured within two weeks of getting a loan if he is eligible. This compares with waits of four and five months under the old system.

Time Extension On Fill Asked

Application for a three-year time extension of a Department of the Army permit authorizing construction of fill in Tomales Bay has been made by O. J. Smith of Richmond, Contra Costa County.

Smith's permit allows him to place fill riprapped with stone and broken concrete 70 feet into the bay at Blake's Landing.

Any objections must be submitted in triplicate by Nov. 25 to the U.S. Army Engineer District, 180 Montgomery Street, San Francisco.

Shoppers Flee Minor Fire At Lachman Bros.

An insulation fire in the new Lachman Brothers store at 105 Fourth Street, San Rafael routed shoppers from the mezzanine and attracted scores of spectators yesterday afternoon. Damage was estimated at about $100.

Three engines from the San Rafael Fire Department responded to the alarm at 1:30 p.m.

Willis Mills of Oakland had been soldering a leaky refrigeration line when the insulation packing, apparently soaked by dripping oil, flared up. A 10-foot area of the wall was scorched.

Probation Officer Urging Support For Boys' Camps

Walter Busher, Marin's chief probation officer, and 44 other probation officers throughout the state are urging the state to increase its subsidy to county boys' camps and ranches.

California's chief probation officers met last week in Sacramento and unanimously asked for an increase from the present $95 monthly per child to $125. Karl Holton of Los Angeles said that still was too low.

The state itself spends $400 monthly per child to keep delinquent youths in state institutions, Busher said.

He said the subsidy, while it does not apply in Marin at present, would apply to this county if and when a boys' camp or ranch is set up within the county.

County officials have been discussing the possibility of getting a camp for boys in Marin, but a site has not been picked as yet. State subsidies would apply for maintenance and operation of such camps after they are established.

The fire stations of Rome were first founded 20 centuries ago by the Emperor Augustus. Remains of the old fire stations are still to be found.

L. C. Smith Hardware Celebrates 25th Anniversary in Marin County

The man with a name that sounds like a typewriter is celebrating a 25th anniversary in Marin County this weekend and reversing custom by giving away gifts instead of receiving them.

L. C. Smith Hardware and Building Supplies has only been at 427 Irwin St., San Rafael about five years after locations in Corte Madera, Larkspur, Kentfield and San Anselmo, but this seems to be where it will stay. Smitty, as most people call him, has remodeled the premises extensively, taken on new lines and impaled himself on the terms of a new lease. His moving days are over, he says, and he's glad of it.

The Irwin Street store with more than 12,000 square feet of floor and balcony space is a far cry from the linoleum and floor covering shop he opened in the Pingree Building, Corte Madera back in 1935. His business has grown to include just about everything in the building line except lumber and concrete.

Actually the hardware and building supplies part of his business is only about seven years old. Smitty started it with his present store manager H. C. (Jack) Jackson when he was in San Anselmo. Now you'll even find built-in stereophonic systems and flashy inside barbecues.

The anniversary celebration is taking the form of an open house tomorrow and Saturday from 9 a.m. with refreshments and door prizes. Everyone is welcome.

ANOTHER "boy makes good" story comes from Klein TV at Third and Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, and 14 Princess Street, Sausalito.

George Klein is celebrating his 10th anniversary in a business which began in a back room radio repair shop at the rear of 850 Fourth Street, San Rafael, and expanded to his present two flourishing locations.

Klein's business has been mainly service and repair work through the years but sales in television, radio, stereo and hi-fi components—61 lines — were a natural sequel. From now on, he says, it will represent an even larger part of his operation.

STILL MORE success bouquets—to Troy Ruddick of San Anselmo, an artist who quite by chance went into the business of teaching and is making good at it.

Ruddick is a quiet, shy little man who set up his studio in an old store at 715 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in the Hub City last December simply as a place to paint, much of which work he has been doing by special commissions. A passer-by inquired one day if he would be willing to give instruction and word of mouth carried it on from there.

Today he has 20 pupils and Monday he will start expanding even more—taking classes and letting the commissions go.

Ruddick has been painting some 20 years; is a graduate of the Kansas City Art Institute, and prior to coming to San Anselmo had a studio in Mill Valley.

The number 715 has been a lucky one for him, he says, which reminds me that several years ago Walt Mullens who started his Superior Cabinet Shop a couple of doors away told me the same thing about his own shop address, number 711. He was doing so much business he later had to move to larger quarters in San Rafael to take care of it.

Superstition? Shucks, no. The way I look at it, if a man builds a better mousetrap, sooner or later he's going to catch his foot in it and jump so high someone will pay attention.

PRIZES FOR EVERYONE—L. C. Smith, owner of the San Rafael hardware building supplies firm bearing his name, will celebrate his 25th year in Marin County tomorrow and Saturday by giving away more than $1,000 in merchandise during the anniversary event, including a free bathroom floor.

Novato Garden Bazaar Will Offer Bonuses

The bazaar is sponsored by the Novato Garden Club. Hundreds of shrubs, plants and trees will be offered for sale at Brice Brothers Market at the shopping center.

Donations to the bazaar include sword ferns, dwarf bamboo, silver berry shrubs and golden bamboo.

All plants for sale are from Novato gardens. Many are suitable for apartment dwellers, such as violets, cactus and miniature palms.

Jacques De Lacroix, a French student studying at Novato High School under the American Field Service program, will demonstrate the use of French cheeses.

Novato girl scouts will offer free baby sitting.

Boys of the Chi Delta Youth Group will have a car washing service. Explorer Scouts' booth will be filled with manzanita, drift wood and lava rock for gardens and flower arrangements.

SANTA'S COMING, BUT SO VERY, VERY EARLY

Santa Claus and two of his helpers are coming to Novato very early this year—on Nov. 12.

They'll arrive on a red fire engine about noon and have plenty of lap space available to youngsters throughout the afternoon. Santa and helpers will be located at the east end of Grant Avenue, near Grant and Fifth Streets and at the Nave Shopping Centers.

Shows for the kiddies will go on at about 1, 2 and 3 p. m. at each location, featuring a magician, a 10-year-old Chinese girl who plays the vibraphone.

L. C. Smith Hardware and Building Supplies has only been at 427 Irwin St., San Rafael about five years after locations in Corte Madera, Larkspur, Kentfield and San Anselmo, but this seems to be where it will stay. Smitty, as most people call him, has remodeled the premises extensively, taken on new lines and impaled himself on the terms of a new lease. His moving days are over, he says, and he's glad of it.

The Irwin Street store with more than 12,000 square feet of floor and balcony space is a far cry from the linoleum and floor covering shop he opened in the Pingree Building, Corte Madera back in 1935. His business has grown to include just about everything in the building line except lumber and concrete.

Actually the hardware and building supplies part of his business is only about seven years old. Smitty started it with his present store manager H. C. (Jack) Jackson when he was in San Anselmo. Now you'll even find built-in stereophonic systems and flashy inside barbecues.

The anniversary celebration is taking the form of an open house tomorrow and Saturday from 9 a.m. with refreshments and door prizes. Everyone is welcome.

ANOTHER "boy makes good" story comes from Klein TV at Third and Francisco Boulevard, San Rafael, and 14 Princess Street, Sausalito.

George Klein is celebrating his 10th anniversary in a business which began in a back room radio repair shop at the rear of 850 Fourth Street, San Rafael, and expanded to his present two flourishing locations.

Klein's business has been mainly service and repair work through the years but sales in television, radio, stereo and hi-fi components—61 lines — were a natural sequel. From now on, he says, it will represent an even larger part of his operation.

STILL MORE success bouquets—to Troy Ruddick of San Anselmo, an artist who quite by chance went into the business of teaching and is making good at it.

Ruddick is a quiet, shy little man who set up his studio in an old store at 715 Sir Francis Drake Boulevard in the Hub City last December simply as a place to paint, much of which work he has been doing by special commissions. A passer-by inquired one day if he would be willing to give instruction and word of mouth carried it on from there.

Today he has 20 pupils and Monday he will start expanding even more—taking classes and letting the commissions go.

Ruddick has been painting some 20 years; is a graduate of the Kansas City Art Institute, and prior to coming to San Anselmo had a studio in Mill Valley.

The number 715 has been a lucky one for him, he says, which reminds me that several years ago Walt Mullens who started his Superior Cabinet Shop a couple of doors away told me the same thing about his own shop address, number 711. He was doing so much business he later had to move to larger quarters in San Rafael to take care of it.

Superstition? Shucks, no. The way I look at it, if a man builds a better mousetrap, sooner or later he's going to catch his foot in it and jump so high someone will pay attention.

PRIZES FOR EVERYONE—L. C. Smith, owner of the San Rafael hardware building supplies firm bearing his name, will celebrate his 25th year in Marin County tomorrow and Saturday by giving away more than $1,000 in merchandise during the anniversary event, including a free bathroom floor.

Novato Garden Bazaar Will Offer Bonuses

The bazaar is sponsored by the Novato Garden Club. Hundreds of shrubs, plants and trees will be offered for sale at Brice Brothers Market at the shopping center.

Donations to the bazaar include sword ferns, dwarf bamboo, silver berry shrubs and golden bamboo.

All plants for sale are from Novato gardens. Many are suitable for apartment dwellers, such as violets, cactus and miniature palms.

Jacques De Lacroix, a French student studying at Novato High School under the American Field Service program, will demonstrate the use of French cheeses.

Novato girl scouts will offer free baby sitting.

Boys of the Chi Delta Youth Group will have a car washing service. Explorer Scouts' booth will be filled with manzanita, drift wood and lava rock for gardens and flower arrangements.

SANTA'S COMING, BUT SO VERY, VERY EARLY

Santa Claus and two of his helpers are coming to Novato very early this year—on Nov. 12.

They'll arrive on a red fire engine about noon and have plenty of lap space available to youngsters throughout the afternoon. Santa and helpers will be located at the east end of Grant Avenue, near Grant and Fifth Streets and at the Nave Shopping Centers.

Shows for the kiddies will go on at about 1, 2 and 3 p. m. at each location, featuring a magician, a 10-year-old Chinese girl who plays the vibraphone.

PASSING STAR — For completing 15 passes and gaining 207 yards passing and rushing, Sam Johnson (above) of Drake has won Prep of the Week honors. Story below.

Unbeaten Teams Collide Saturday At Kentfield

Still another "showdown" in the thrilling Marin Athletic League football championship race pops up on the schedule Saturday afternoon when the undefeated defending champion Redwood Giants bump into another unbeaten unit in the Tamalpais Indians at Kentfield.

Each posting a 2-0 league record with three games remaining, they'll kickoff at 2 o'clock. Stay-at-homes can listen to the play-by-play over Radio KTIM.

Redwood looms as the favorite to win its eighth straight league game over a two-year span, but Coach Bob Troppman's Giants should have their hands full trying to contain Tam's fleet backfield, led by the sensational Pat Morgan, who will return to the good graces of Coach Jim Hanretty after being benched last week for "disciplinary reasons."

Of course Redwood has its explosiveness in halfback Mike Alessio and a good passing attack on the arm of quarterback Roger Siemens, so fans are anticipating plenty of action.

The weekend schedule opens tomorrow night at San Rafael with the Bulldogs (0-2) hosting the Drake Pirates (1-1) at 8 o'clock and concludes Saturday night at Kentfield where Novato's Hornets (1-1) clash with Marin Catholic (0-2), also at 8 o'clock.

In other weekend features College of Marin Tars play their "homecoming" contest with Napa College at Kentfield tomorrow night at 8 and the San Rafael Military Academy Cadets will have to arise early Saturday for their 10:30 a.m. duel with Menlo School at the Academy.

TAM COACH Hanretty said quarterback Tex Hamilton, who played only half of last week's game in which he had to favor an injured ankle, is ready for fulltime duty. However, Indian defensive end Steve Long, who suffered a bone bruise on his knee will not play.

Hanretty was not going to use quarterback Hamilton last week because of his injury in order to save the caller for the Redwood game, but Marin Catholic, leading in the first half, forced Hanretty to call on Hamilton.

"If we didn't beat Marin Catholic (7-6) the Redwood game would not mean that much anyway—so I used Tex," recalled Hanretty.

Hanretty said he had considered the fact that his boys this season had played only one game in the sunshine," but it won't hinder play unless it becomes too warm," said the coach.

COACH TROPPMANN announced that his Giants will go into combat with a full crew against the Indians with no injury handicap.

Not only will the competition be keen in and of itself, but Giants Alessio, tackle Mike Hoffman and center Mike Walsh, all first stringers, played for Tamalpais on the Indian freshman team with Morgan and other Indians they will face in this bitter rivalry.

Troppmann said he was concerned with Tam's speed regardless: "They have four or five backfielders who can run the 100 under 10.5," said the Giant coach.

Troppmann said that his club will increase its passing attack beginning Saturday and exploit the passing game for the rest of the season.

SAN RAFAEL High, still smarting from last week's shutout by Redwood, is out for some digits against Drake High.

"I'm impressed with Drake," said Coach Dick Read of San Rafael. "They are a courageous club who have shown that they can fight an uphill battle, plus they are spirited and skillful. We'll have our hands full and it will take a team effort to win."

Read felt his club would have to halt the rushing and

REACTION

Here's Name For L.A. Team: 'Intruders'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Nobody knows what they're going to call the new American League baseball team coming here next year, but the Dodgers indicate they might favor something like "the Los Angeles Intruders."

However, while the Dodgers welcomed the American League invasion about as enthusiastically as Richmond welcomed Grant, the general reaction here was favorable. In many cases it was better than that.

Dodger president Walter F. D'Malley had this to say:

"The Dodgers, in making a schedule, have carefully had in mind the prior rights of colleges, professional sports and the civic events traditionally held here. Another full baseball schedule would wreak havoc, in my opinion."

But O'Malley found little support, even among the people who were his chief allies when he moved to Los Angeles.

Coliseum Manager Bill Nicholas said:

"I checked our schedule this year from April 12 through September and counted 80 open dates. With a very little give and take, 81 American League games might be arranged."

Los Angeles, in the last three years, has acquired the Dodgers, a second professional football team, a professional basketball team and now, a second major league baseball team. There are about six million people in the county to support them, and the consensus is that they can do it—though perhaps not in the manner to which the Dodgers have become accustomed.

Said Councilwoman Rosalind Wyman: "I'm glad to see the American League awaken to the fact that Los Angeles is the sports capital of the world."

Mayor Norris Poulson: "As a big city, Los Angeles will welcome the American League as we already have welcomed the National League."

Ben Woolbert, executive sports editor of the Examiner: "An American League club will create much more interest in baseball here. Los Angeles will surely welcome and show appreciation by attending in large numbers."

Sid Ziff, sports editor of the Mirror: "This rounds out our sports picture entirely . . . I'm sure they'll do all right."

Paul Zimmerman, sports editor of the Times: "Whether the population explosion in Southern California is great enough to properly support two major league baseball teams, as well as two pro football clubs, prospects of two pro basketball teams in 1961, and perhaps even a national ice hockey league by that time, is anybody's guess. American League baseball in Los Angeles was inevitable, but the Coliseum cannot hold two baseball clubs, two pro football teams and two college teams in August and September."

Cheers, Squawks Greet Word Of American Loop Expansion

NEW YORK (UPI)—The American League's expansion to a 10-team circuit in 1961 was greeted enthusiastically in the three cities involved today but drew loud squawks from Walter O'Malley of the Dodgers and Continental League founder William Shea.

Civic officials in Minneapolis-St. Paul, Los Angeles and Washington cheered the American League's bombshell announcement and indicated all-out efforts to surmount any obstacles. At the same time O'Malley shouted that "another full baseball schedule would wreak havoc in Los Angeles" and Shea called the move "one of the lowest blows below the belt in the history of sport."

Three key officials of the federal government—Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), Rep. Emanuel Celler (D-N.Y.) and Rep. Kenneth Keating (R-N.Y.)—expressed approval of the move which means that the American League will operate as a 10-team circuit with a 162-game schedule for each team in '61.

The National League, which voted expansion into New York and Houston in 1962, said through league President Warren Giles that the American League's surprise action would not change their plans. The two major leagues thus will present uneven alignments in 1961 for the first time since the American League was founded in 1900.

It was obvious that American League officials believed their invasion of the lush Los Angeles territory "evened the score" for the National League's return to New York. The A.L. drive to put a franchise in Los Angeles was spearheaded by Dan Topping and Del Webb, coowners of the Yankees. Webb is chairman of the A.L.'s expansion committee.

A.L. President Joe Cronin stunned the baseball world late yesterday with the announcement of the circuit's three-pronged realignment move which:

Y. A. Returns To Starting Unit Sunday

Old pro Y. A. Tittle gets his starting quarterback job back Sunday when the San Francisco 49ers play the Chicago Bears at Kezar Stadium.

Tittle, in his 13th pro season, lost the opening call last week to John Brodie, a four-year man. But Green Bay walloped the 49ers 41-14, scoring 27 points in a first half that saw Brodie fail to complete a pass.

Monte Clark, who filled in for Thomas, returns to his regular defensive tackle post and line-backer Gordon Kelley, also a rookie, is scheduled to start his second game in a row.

THE LINEUPS

The offensive lineup: ends Clyde Conner and Stickles, tackles Bob St. Clair and Thomas, guards Bruce Bosley and Mike Magac, center Morze. Halfbacks Hugh McElhenny and R. C. Owens and fullback J. D. Smith start with Tittle.

Defensive lineup:

Mazeroski Must Have Hit More Than One Homer

SHAWNEE-ON-DELAWARE, Pa. (AP)—Second baseman Bill Mazeroski of the Pittsburgh Pirates, here for a vacation, said Wednesday five persons have approached him with a baseball they claim was the one he belted for a homer to win the World Series for the Bucs.

He said he hasn't accepted any of them.

Abeyta Flattens Dundee In First

Abeyta weighed 116½ pounds, Dundee 117.

It was the third consecutive knockout for Abeyta.

The gross gate was $1,748.50 and the attendance 1,002.

Two Preps Of The Week: Hoffman, Johnson Honored

Marin County Football League fans were given a bargain bonus this week—TWO "Preps of the Week" instead of the customary one.

So outstanding last week were Redwod High tackle Mike Hoffman and Drake quarterback Sam Johnson that the Independent-Journal and Radio KTIM selection committee voted to honor both this week.

Hoffman at times looks like a one-man gang and was the key man in Redwood's 18-0 shut-out over San Rafael. San Rafael got into Redwood territory only for two series of downs and Hoffman, as linebacker, was one of the main reasons.

Even in the losing cause (14-21) against Novato Johnson was brilliant and thrilled the crowd with his league record-shattering passing attack which saw him complete 15 aerials for 183 yards, two touchdowns and both extra points. He picked up 24 net yards rushing for a total of 207 yards, top individual effort of the year.

Both Johnson and Hoffman will receive the beautiful "Prep of the Week" certificates along with previous honorees as soon as they are prepared.

Dealer Sues Boat Company

A San Rafael boat dealer is suing Chris Craft Corp. for $21,610 damages on grounds that a 36-foot Constellation exploded and went up in smoke last year.

Chris Craft Sales of San Rafael filed the suit yesterday in Marin Superior Court. It alleges that the manufacturer of the boat was negligent in making, testing and shipping the boat.

The explosion and fire destroyed the boat on Nov. 29, 1959, according to the complaint. The boat, valued at $24,160, had only $3,000 salvage value after the fire, the suit contends.

The boat was delivered to San Rafael 10 days before it burned.

Mixed Emotions On League's Expansion

Webb, who said emphatically "we are on our way to 12 teams," said that further details of the expansion would be worked out at the league's next meeting here, Nov. 17. That meeting will deal, among other things, with allotment of players for the new franchises. This is expected to be accomplished by use of the so-called disaster plan—the plan created a few years ago in the event a team was wiped out in a train or plane crash. It would make certain players from each existing team in the circuit available to the new club from a "pool."

The identities of the groups which will operate the new franchises in Washington and Los Angeles were not disclosed although Shea insisted he knew that Hank Greenberg and Bill Veeck of the Chicago White Sox intended to move in to the nation's capital to run that fledgling franchise.

O'Malley strongly questioned the invasion of the Los Angeles territory and said "we had hoped to get our own problems in pioneering the territory, in building our stadium behind us before the relatives move in."

"Another full baseball schedule would wreak havoc in my opinion and I'm sure that the American League will not want to offend the earlier settlers and their fans," he added.

Bill Nicholas, general manager of the Los Angeles Coliseum, said, however: "We cooperated with the Dodgers so why wouldn't we cooperate with the others?"

Webb had pointed out in New York that the new Los Angeles team might play games in Wrigley Field if the Coliseum were unavailable.

Shea, whose attempts to lure the National League back to New York led to the formation of the Continental League, delivered a blistering indictment of the American League's move and predicted it would revive congressional legislation that baseball hopes to avoid.

"The American League expansion committee has absolutely reneged on its agreement with us," he said. "It is the worst thing I ever heard of in U.S. sports. I am waiting for Commissioner Ford Frick to make a statement on the matter. It is a terrible thing for what is called the national pasttime to be in the hands of men whose word isn't good."

Shea claimed that the expansion committees of both leagues had agreed in Chicago that any expansion would be achieved by taking in franchises that were formed in the Continental League.

"What the American League has done is ample proof that you can't believe a word of what they say," said Shea. "I'm just happy that the new New York team is associated with the National League and not with the American League."

Advised that Rep. Celler had expressed satisfaction with the move, Shea replied: "He's been fooled because the National League has put a team in New York. He apparently doesn't understand yet what has happened."

Celler, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee; Kefauver, chairman of the Senate Anti-Monopoly Committee; and Keating, ranking Republican on the Judiciary Committee, all said they were pleased to see major league baseball expanding. None mentioned the Continental League although Paul Rand Dixon, chief counsel on Kefauver's Senate Committee, appeared to offer some support for Shea's position when he said he expected a revival of legislation calling for an open draft rule for player talent.

passing attacks of Drake's Scott Moriarty and quarterback Sam Johnson. Bulldog halfback Gary Ledson has not had his ankle respond as well as had been hoped, but he may play some.

THE PIRATES suffered no benching injuries last week and will go full force—except for Steve Blair who has been out for two weeks with a fractured ankle — against the Bulldogs, "to win," said Pirate assistant coach Carl Brown.

"We'll bounce back to eliminate the first quarter of last week's game with Redwood," said the coach. (Drake was behind 0-21 in that first period and lost 14-21.)

The Pirate coach did not express cockiness, however, and was aware that San Rafael's Billy Roberts would be raising a little heck with his running game.

Drake will count, as it did last week, on Johnson's cocked arm and his running attack, as well as halfback Mike Bresnan's hard running. A corner stone in the line against the Bulldogs will be 181 pound tackle big Bob Whelan.

"It will be close and hard, but we should win," said Brown.

SPIRITED and determined Marin Catholic High, whose coach, Harry Moore, reported has lost "an average of one and a half backs per game" this season and regained them "every three weeks or so," will face a Novato powerhouse Saturday night at Kentfield. Last week's rough and tumble game against Tam continued the injury statistics for the Wildcats. They lost Frank Uzhaus for at least two weeks with a pulled ligament. He might not see action for the remainder of the season, said Moore. Moore does not know yet who will replace the first stringer.

"It's going to be a rugged one and hard to get the players up mentally for it after two losses," said Moore. "We are going to try and just stop Novato from scoring and let our offensive game come with any breaks that may occur."

Leading that defensive strategy, said Moore, will be rugged middle linebacker Anthony Giusti, 5 feet, 11 inches and a solid 196 pounds.

COACH MARLIN OLSEN of Novato said he doesn't expect Marin Catholic to be any pushover.

"Marin Catholic is getting better and better—we expect a tough game. There are no 'patsy' teams in the league this year," said Olsen.

"Because of last week's game critics have questioned whether or not we should work on our pass defense," he noted. "We were weak in that area by choice last week for strategic purposes—I admit that Drake took advantage of it more than we had anticipated, however."

The only injury Novato had last week was suffered by Dennis McCormick, fullback, who turned his left ankle and was not able to practice until yesterday.

'WE'RE BIG LEAGUE NOW'

Detroit Paper Says Rig Will Manage The Tigers

DETROIT (AP) — The Detroit Times said today it has learned that Bill Rigney, former manager of the San Francisco Giants, will be named manager of the Detroit Tigers.

Rigney previously had been mentioned by the Associated Press as a likely successor to Joe Gordon, who quit Detroit to become Kansas City manager at the end of the 1960 American League season.

The Times said confirmation of Rigney's selection at $30,000 a year would come shortly from John E. Fetzer, who owns controlling interest in the Detroit Baseball Co.

At his Walnut Creek, home last night, Rigney said he had not signed a contract.

"I talked to some of their people at the World Series," Rigney said, "but that's all."

97,700 FIREFILES

RADFORD, Va. (AP)—Radford lost, but the per capita score was good. A local group caught 97,000 fire flies in a contest sponsored by a firm which uses them for research. Ray Boyd, 13, caught 13,750 "lightning bugs" by himself. Baltimore, with close to a million people, won the contest with 205,000.

Wilt's Gift Auto Proves Costly; NCAA Raps Kansas

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI)—The high cost of financing Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain and other less-publicized athletes today put University of Kansas' sports program on two years of probation by the NCAA.

The policy-directing council of the NCAA, finishing off three days of sessions yesterday, made these decisions:

Lifted the probation bans on University of Mississippi, North Carolina State and University of Wyoming.

Placed Kansas' basketball team on probation for two years and the football team on probation for one year. The national championship track and field team was not involved.

Walt Byers, executive secretary of the NCAA, refused to name the players involved in the investigation that led to the probation for Kansas. But A. C. (Dutch) Lonberg, athletic director for the school, felt no such qualms.

The basketball ban was brought about because "a player was given a car with a net value of $1,564," plus mechanical work he did not pay for.

"This was Chamberlain," said Lonberg. The incident occurred in May of 1957.

But the NCAA said that it had trouble unearthing some of the facts behind the case, which involved non-university men who helped recruit athletes.

The football ban came because another non-university man, an alumnus, took a player from another school to the All-Star football game in the summer; and because the university had attempted to recruit three student-athletes from another university without first getting permission from the athletic director of that school.

"These men involved," said Lonberg, "were halfback Bert Coan, a transfer from Texas Christian; Mickey Walker, a tackle from Port Arthur, Tex., and Jim Street, an end from Grove, Tex., now in the Army."

Lonberg said he "wasn't happy" over the probation set by the NCAA. But he said he was relieved that the suspense was over.

Kansas was the only school disciplined at this meeting.

Seven other schools still are under suspension. They are Indiana, Montana State, Arizona State, Southern California, Tulsa, Auburn and Oklahoma.

Their cases were not discussed at this session.

Cheer Up, Levy, You Have A Great Fan Down In Arizona Territory

CONNOLLY

TUCSON, Ariz.—"Able Abe" Channin, nigh unto 15 years the sports editor of the Arizona Daily Star, has a genuine fondness for the state of California, and particularly the University of California at Berkeley. He is sold on Coach Marv Levy of the Bears and never tires of singing his praises.

"If Levy can get the financial backing at California he can build a new football regime that will make U.C. one of the greatest teams in the country and establish Levy as one of the nation's outstanding coaches," Channin confided to me here while fanning over sports.

"Able Abe" goes back a long ways with Levy. In fact he remembers Coach Marv when he was at Coe College in Cedar Rapids, Iowa, as a player under coach Dick Clausen.

When Clausen went to New Mexico as coach he brought with him Levy, his former star, as assistant.

And then when Arizona beckoned Clausen he turned over the New Mexico job to Levy.

"THE GUY is terrific," Able Abe maintains. "He took over New Mexico and moulded it into the smartest aggregation of collegiate ball players in the country."

Luckily, according to Sports Editor Channin, Clausen had moved on to St. Xavier College, before Levy began his home and home series with the University of Arizona.

"Mark my words," says Able Abe, "Levy is one of the smartest young coaches I ever met in 20 years of football reporting. He has the intelligence and imagination of the old time coaches, the planning and organizing and recruiting ability of the new and younger school of coaches existing today.

"Levy, in his coaching days at New Mexico, showed his deftness at offense. He installed the Delaware T and promptly made New Mexico a power in the Skyline Conference.

"THE OFFENSE Levy uses sets the halfbacks as wings and his cross fire series had the Arizona linebackers frequently running in the direction opposite to the direction of the ball carriers—a sort of Wrong Way Corrigan puzzling offensive."

"Able Abe," an old hand at football reporting, explains the Delaware T formation as being a mixture of Pop Warners double wing back and the straight T formation. The backs lineup two or three yards behind the line of scrimmage. And it's confusing, to say the least, for defensive collegians.

The elimination of Arizona as a professional baseball center was accomplished here a year ago when Phoenix quit the Coast League and Tucson folded in its endeavor to keep pro baseball alive.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS,
I-J Fish and Game Writer

Slow Salmon, Fast Bass Reported; Weekday Fishing Trips Suggested

STEVENS

Frank Quan of China Camp lamented the lack of anglers over the weekend but assured us the fishing was fair to good for the few who braved the elements and took a chance.

Frank also informed us that one or two of the native nimrods downed limits of ducks early on Sunday morning.

We contacted Gene Thompson of the Western Sports Shop in San Rafael and learned that some of the locals did fairly well shooting in the Salt Marshes, but limits were not the order of the day. However, it seems that it was a matter of geography—Jim Grant and Ernie Mazet took their legal limits of bluies while shooting on the Hamilton Flats. Gene had no exciting news anent fishing.

Sid MacMullen of Caruso's Bait and Tackle in Sausalito, talked down the salmon fishing. "Pretty slow, Ralph," he admitted, "but it's plenty fast for bass in the Racoon Straight and in the Alcatraz areas. Also some fair fishing on bait has been had off Strawberry Point in Richardson Bay. And Bill O'conner took a nice limit of bass to 12 pounds in San Pablo Bay at the pump house."

The report of slow salmon and fast bass was verified by Al Miller of Lee Anderson's Bait Shop in Oakland. Al reported the Sea Horse taking three salmon to 28 pounds, then rounding out the trip by hooking 12 striped bass to nine pounds off Alcatraz.

Once again we suggest to our readers that, if possible, go fishing during the week instead of only on Saturday or Sunday. It will be more pleasant, probably more productive and it will give the lads and lassies who can only get out on weekends a better chance to get aboard a party boat or to rent a skiff. Several of the skippers reported that the trolling in the Racoon Straight over every weekend has been hampered by the great number of boats plying the waters.

Champ Meets Teener Sunday In M.V. Golf

The same day a sensational playoff for medalist honors was won by young Bob Lunn who fired three straight birdies to beat Byron Eggleston in the "sudden death" playoff. Eggleston birdied the first two holes with Lunn but barely missed a bird on the third extra hole.

This Sunday's pairings and starting times:

FIRST FLIGHT (8:45 a.m.)—Bill Canhan vs. Bruce Hubbell, Hank Torget vs. Russ Braun, Charles McCrum vs. Rick Webb, Mat Simone vs. Wally Allen.

THIRD FLIGHT (8:15 a.m.)—Wally Phelps vs. Cliff Snow, Bill McConnell vs. V. Seidel, Larry Brunetti vs. Don Mahl, Truman Lee vs. Mel Zak.

Giants Rained Out

SENDIA, Japan (AP) — Rain today washed out the fifth game between the visiting San Francisco Giants and the Japan All Stars at this city's stadium.

The game was rescheduled for Friday.

TITLE GO TOMORROW

Brown Promises To Knock Out Andrade

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Lightweight champion Joe Brown promises to knock Cisco Andrade into retirement when they meet for the title tomorrow night in the Olympic Auditorium.

Brown, usually mild-mannered except in ring action, described the California veteran yesterday as "arrogant." He compared him to Art Aragon, the now retired local idol who doted on a pose of arrogance—and made it pay off in big box-office figures.

"He's a second Aragon, swaggering around," said the champion, apparently in a testy mood as his title defense approaches.

At 34, Brown himself has no thought of retiring, or getting swatted to the sidelines by the Cisco Kid in their 15-round non-televised match.

The Houston, Tex., knockout specialist, a native of Baton Rouge, La., said he plans on boxing two or three more years. He sees no immediate threat from any other boxer on the scene now.

Andrade, at 30 no kid himself, is a 2-1 underdog in his belated bid for the 135-pound division crown.

Both boxers were in virtual seclusion today. Neither seemed concerned about making the weight. Weigh-in time is 11 a.m. tomorrow.

Andrade has been stopped but once, by Aragon in nine rounds.

Raiders May Switch Games To East Bay

The Oakland Raiders, disappointed with attendance at their games in San Francisco's Kezar Stadium, are thinking of playing their final three 1960 American Football League games at a high school field in nearby San Leandro.

The eight-mile San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge, Raider officials feel, is the basis of their attendance problem.

"We're an East Bay community ball club," Bud Hastings, the Raiders' assistant general manager said yesterday. "At Kezar Stadium we just aren't at home. We've had a number of people tell us they would go to games if they were held in the East Bay."

Hastings said the Raiders have been investigating possibilities of playing their last three games this year at Pacific High School's field in San Leandro.

The Pacific field, surrounded by a wire fence and currently seating only 500, could be enlarged easily, Hastings said, to 20,000 or 25,000 bleacher seats.

That would be almost double the seating the Raiders have needed thus far at their games in 59,000-seat Kezar Stadium.

Many feel, however, that the distance is but one of several factors keeping Raider attendance below owner expectations. The fact that this is the AFL's first season and the prices of tickets — same as the established National Football League —have been described as contributors to the disappointments at the ticket booths.

Should the Raiders and San Leandro officials agree to use the high school field, that's where they'd meet the Los Angeles Chargers, Dec. 4; the New York Titans, Dec. 11; and the Denver Broncos, Dec. 16.

All exhibit space in the Exposition Buildings sold out. More than 125 dealers, manufacturers and maufacturers' representatives are planning outstanding displays.

The Far West Boat Show is sponsored by the Associated Boat Industries of Northern California, oldest association of its kind on the Pacific Coast.

Show hours are from 6 to 10:30 p.m. weekdays, from 1 to 10:30 p.m. on Saturdays and from 1 to 9 p.m. on Sundays.

Music, beautiful lights and entertainment magic combine in making the Dancing Waters spectacular, wonderful entertainment. There is no extra charge for viewing this thrilling feature.

Famous names in pleasure boating include Chris Craft, Tollycraft, Arkansas Traveler, Fairliner, Dorsett, Trailorboat, Bell Boy, Owens, Calkins Craft and many others.

Making its first appearance in California at the show is the famous Bartender, built for top safety performance in rough, choppy water.

Used extensively by the Coast Guard in rescue work, the Bartender, which has created a stir all over the country, is a boatmen's boat. It is used for fishermen to go out over sand bars in the Northwest.

Boats range in size from the 5-foot Wee Craft, built for kids, to a 36-foot Chris Craft cruiser. A 28-foot Triton sailboat, with a 36-foot mast, is also entered.

Harold's Club of Reno will display its famous gun collection and will have an attendant to explain the guns and answer questions.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS,
I-J Fish and Game Writer

STEVENS

Frank Quan of China Camp lamented the lack of anglers over the weekend but assured us the fishing was fair to good for the few who braved the elements and took a chance.

Frank also informed us that one or two of the native nimrods downed limits of ducks early on Sunday morning.

We contacted Gene Thompson of the Western Sports Shop in San Rafael and learned that some of the locals did fairly well shooting in the Salt Marshes, but limits were not the order of the day. However, it seems that it was a matter of geography—Jim Grant and Ernie Mazet took their legal limits of bluies while shooting on the Hamilton Flats. Gene had no exciting news anent fishing.

Sid MacMullen of Caruso's Bait and Tackle in Sausalito, talked down the salmon fishing. "Pretty slow, Ralph," he admitted, "but it's plenty fast for bass in the Racoon Straight and in the Alcatraz areas. Also some fair fishing on bait has been had off Strawberry Point in Richardson Bay. And Bill O'conner took a nice limit of bass to 12 pounds in San Pablo Bay at the pump house."

The report of slow salmon and fast bass was verified by Al Miller of Lee Anderson's Bait Shop in Oakland. Al reported the Sea Horse taking three salmon to 28 pounds, then rounding out the trip by hooking 12 striped bass to nine pounds off Alcatraz.

Once again we suggest to our readers that, if possible, go fishing during the week instead of only on Saturday or Sunday. It will be more pleasant, probably more productive and it will give the lads and lassies who can only get out on weekends a better chance to get aboard a party boat or to rent a skiff. Several of the skippers reported that the trolling in the Racoon Straight over every weekend has been hampered by the great number of boats plying the waters.

Champ Meets Teener Sunday In M.V. Golf

The same day a sensational playoff for medalist honors was won by young Bob Lunn who fired three straight birdies to beat Byron Eggleston in the "sudden death" playoff. Eggleston birdied the first two holes with Lunn but barely missed a bird on the third extra hole.

This Sunday's pairings and starting times:

FIRST FLIGHT (8:45 a.m.)—Bill Canhan vs. Bruce Hubbell, Hank Torget vs. Russ Braun, Charles McCrum vs. Rick Webb, Mat Simone vs. Wally Allen.

Giants Rained Out

SENDIA, Japan (AP) — Rain today washed out the fifth game between the visiting San Francisco Giants and the Japan All Stars at this city's stadium.

The game was rescheduled for Friday.

TITLE GO TOMORROW

Brown Promises To Knock Out Andrade

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Lightweight champion Joe Brown promises to knock Cisco Andrade into retirement when they meet for the title tomorrow night in the Olympic Auditorium.

Brown, usually mild-mannered except in ring action, described the California veteran yesterday as "arrogant." He compared him to Art Aragon, the now retired local idol who doted on a pose of arrogance—and made it pay off in big box-office figures.

"He's a second Aragon, swaggering around," said the champion, apparently in a testy mood as his title defense approaches.

At 34, Brown himself has no thought of retiring, or getting swatted to the sidelines by the Cisco Kid in their 15-round non-televised match.

The Houston, Tex., knockout specialist, a native of Baton Rouge, La., said he plans on boxing two or three more years. He sees no immediate threat from any other boxer on the scene now.

Andrade, at 30 no kid himself, is a 2-1 underdog in his belated bid for the 135-pound division crown.

Both boxers were in virtual seclusion today. Neither seemed concerned about making the weight. Weigh-in time is 11 a.m. tomorrow.

Andrade has been stopped but once, by Aragon in nine rounds.

Raiders May Switch Games To East Bay

The Oakland Raiders, disappointed with attendance at their games in San Francisco's Kezar Stadium, are thinking of playing their final three 1960 American Football League games at a high school field in nearby San Leandro.

The eight-mile San Francisco-Oakland Bay Bridge, Raider officials feel, is the basis of their attendance problem.

"We're an East Bay community ball club," Bud Hastings, the Raiders' assistant general manager said yesterday. "At Kezar Stadium we just aren't at home. We've had a number of people tell us they would go to games if they were held in the East Bay."

Hastings said the Raiders have been investigating possibilities of playing their last three games this year at Pacific High School's field in San Leandro.

The Pacific field, surrounded by a wire fence and currently seating only 500, could be enlarged easily, Hastings said, to 20,000 or 25,000 bleacher seats.

That would be almost double the seating the Raiders have needed thus far at their games in 59,000-seat Kezar Stadium.

Many feel, however, that the distance is but one of several factors keeping Raider attendance below owner expectations. The fact that this is the AFL's first season and the prices of tickets — same as the established National Football League —have been described as contributors to the disappointments at the ticket booths.

Should the Raiders and San Leandro officials agree to use the high school field, that's where they'd meet the Los Angeles Chargers, Dec. 4; the New York Titans, Dec. 11; and the Denver Broncos, Dec. 16.

'Pack Rats Paradise' Scheduled By Club

Members of the Sausalito Woman's Club are all engaged in one way or another to insure the success of the club's one fund raising project of the year.

Titled "Pack Rats' Paradise" and scheduled for Thursday, Nov. 10, Mrs. Justin M. Day, general chairman, describes the event as a 'rummage' and 'treasure' sale.

Collection of articles has been under way since late summer and items of interest to all ages have been gathered. There is an outboard motor to entice the male contingent and also available will be many good books, clothing (including two ribbon knits), a pair of quilts designed by Eleanor Beard, a fine Kakemona, an antique settee, an excellent assortment of costume jewelry—in fact, a really elegant rummage sale.

The hours make it possible for commuters to attend. Opening at 10 a.m. the sale will continue until 10 p.m. with coffee and sandwiches on sale all during the day.

Serving on the committee are Mesdames Raymond G. Gergus, Willard A. Hall, Leonard G. James and Frederic Palmer III, all of whom are available for picking up donated articles through Nov. 9. Mrs. M. E. McAninch designed the pink posters advertising the event and on snack bar duty will be Mesdames W. L. C. Brown, John F. Partridge, James G. Sweet and Miss Colette Shillig.

Cashiers during the sale will be Mesdames Leonard E. Blakely, Jackson S. Perry and George W. Quinn Jr.

Mrs. S. C. Stapp, club president, stresses that the sale is open to the public and not confined to club members.

Number Of Collectors Is On The Increase

By GAY PAULEY

NEW YORK (UPI)—As a squirrel caches nuts, many of us collect things for the home.

Decorators say the number of collectors is on the increase, and those to whom I've talked list three major reasons. More of us have the money to spend on a collecting hobby, some of us are urged by nostalgia to start gathering glass, china or other items remembered from childhood, and often we have the profit motive in mind — hope that collections will grow in value through the years.

Some of the reasons buried in our psyche also were examined at a recent New York fashion group meeting on the "ABC's of Collecting."

One of the speakers was Edward J. Wormley, the well-known designer of furniture and interiors, and a collector, who called collecting "No mere illness, but obviously a virulent disease."

I remembered as he spoke how one decorator recently had said much the same thing — adding that the disease can be treated only with the "medicine of a new purchase—and relief even then is only temporary."

But Wormley, who called his talk the "A-B-Seize of Collecting," had gathered comment from experts in the field of psychiatry and sociology on why we catch the disease.

One psychiatrist saw collecting often motivated by a rationalization for the fear of poverty which many people have. Collecting to them is like putting money in the bank for a rainy day. Another saw collecting as "In part the beginning of a transfer of love of people to love of things." Still another saw the true collector, not as a squirrel-like hoarder, but as the "educated amateur who collects things for the love of them—and in that sense he is making his life livable."

Wormley told the group that his "Excursion through the jungles of human motivation" left him a little embarrassed "because I find such inordinate . . . pleasure in pursuing my own instincts of a packrat."

Wormley said people "Do collect the oddest things. I have before me 'The Beginning Antique Collector's Handbook and Guide to 1,000 items to collect."

It listed, among other things, grape scissors, gemels, eye cups, whimseys, puzzle mugs, Naughty Nellie boot jacks, patch boxes for beauty spots, Bible clasps, watch papers, swan skin fans, buskboards, corset lacers, moustache curlers, tiddly-winks, gophering irons, courting mirrors and finally something called zoetropes.

"These merely give you an idea," said the designer. "The only collectibles missing from this listing I can think of are: money. And names, for dropping purposes."

Alpha Chi Omega Alumnae Aid School Through Project

Marin County's school for orthopedically handicapped children, Marindale, was recently the recipient of specialized equipment made for them by the Alpha Chi Omega Alumnae at one of its regular workshop meetings.

The zipper, button, lacing, and buckle boards are made in such fashion as to be attractive and colorful while performing the educational purpose of helping these children to learn more easily to perform such routine tasks as are involved in learning to manipulate ordinary clothing fastenings. Such training is but one of the many areas of specialized training which this part of Marin's public school system provides for one group of "special" children —those whose physical handicaps are such as to preclude their attendance at regular classes.

The school is operated by the Marin Department of Education, employs two teachers, and a principal, John Arena.

First established in 1954 as a single class which accommodated 12 pupils in an "extra" room at Marin General Hospital, the school has been in its present quarters since April 1958, and is now equipped to handle up to 36 students.

Alpha Chi's altruistic chairmen, Mrs. Charles Oldenburg and Mrs. Eugene Grilli were in charge of this particular project. Additional workshops will be held in January and March, and on Nov. 10, the club will meet at 10 a.m. in the home of Mrs. W. A. Lewis, 851 Rosal Way, San Rafael, to construct and fill Christmas socks for distribution at the annual Christfas party for crippled children, sponsored by United Cerebral Palsy.

PLEASED WITH the progress of Jay Andrew Reichbell who is learning to manipulate the button boards so as to more easily perform routine tasks in manipulating clothing fastenings are Alpha Chi Omega alumnae members, from left, Mesdames Alex Myers and W. D. McGregor. Jay is a student at Marindale School. Members of the alumnae made the boards for the students at a recent workshop meeting.

Music Teachers Program Given By O'Bannons

Sonatas for violin and piano were the feature for the recent meeting of the Marin County Music Teachers Assn. held at the Marin Academy of Music in San Rafael. Acting hostess for the evening was Mrs. Dennis Cormack of Corte Madera.

Following the business meeting, conducted by Mrs. Charles Meacham, president, the program was presented by Nancy and Everett O'Bannon of Mill Valley. Mr. O'Bannon, violinist, is a member of the San Francisco Symphony, Marin Symphony and Marin Arts Quarter: Mrs. O'Bannon, pianist, is also a cellist and teacher and an accomplished painter.

The program consisted of Sonata in A Major, Op. 5 No. 6 by Corelli, the Hindemith Sonata in G Major, K.301 of Mozart.

Cook Book Of AAUW Now On Sale

Mrs. Victor Rowe has been appointed sales manager for the cook book entitled "Another Out of This World Cookbook." The Mill Valley Branch members of the American Association of University Women received copies of the book for sale at their general meeting last night at the Mill Valley Community Church Hall.

Mrs. Rowe reports the group has also made aprons with a hand screened motive that matches the cookbook cover design. Both designs are the work of Mrs. Viking Leon. Mesdames Harry Miller, Ross S. Shade and Pat O'Conner are also on the apron committee.

The cookbook was compiled under the direction of Mrs. Charles A. Smith who formerly was a nutrition writer for the National Dairy Council in Chicago and was assistant to the food editor of a San Francisco newspaper. She reports that her committee has succeeded in producing an efficient, easy to use cookbook made up of favorite recipes of branch members. Her committee includes Mesdames E. Eugene Spitler, Fred E. Fuller and Thomas W. Baker.

For information about the cookbook or aprons contact any member of the Mill Valley Branch of the AAUW or Mrs. Rowe at 100 Homestead Blvd. in Mill Valley. The group plans to have both items for sale at various food markets in the area on Saturday, Oct. 29.

How to
OUTWIT YOUR APPETITE

Try The Profile Bread Method Of "Planned Nibbling" To Help Avoid Overeating At The Table And Going On Wild Calorie Binges Between Meals

IF you want to avoid overeating at meals, or avoid going on hog-wild calorie binges between meals—then the "Profile Bread Method" to outwit your appetite may prove most helpful.

Because the Profile Bread Method depends upon "planned nibbling"—a dietetic approach to the problem of overeating.

"PLANNED NIBBLING"

Remember what your mother used to say: "Don't eat it now, it will spoil your dinner."

Many dieticians recognize the same principle in "planned nibbling." Which means eating about 150 calories of any carbohydrate-protein food about 30 minutes before a meal. Or, when tempted, between meals. The carbohydrate acts fast; the protein keeps working longer.

Try a tablespoonful of sugar in a half glass of skim milk. Or a couple of slices of Profile Bread. Or a slice of Profile with jam on it. Anything light that spoils your appetite and keeps you from overeating at the table or between meals.

PROFILE BREAD

Profile Bread contains about 40% more complete protein than many white breads. It's flecked with tiny bits of cracked wheat and the flavor is fine—plain or toasted.

In addition, Profile Bread is fortified with calcium, phosphorus, iron and Vitamins B_1, B_2 and niacin, and has about 65 calories per slice. For "planned nibbling" you may find Profile Bread ideal.

Get a loaf of Profile Bread fresh at your favorite grocer's today. And try the Profile Bread Method of "planned nibbling" to outwit your appetite. You may be very glad you did.

"PLANNED NIBBLING"

Remember what your mother used to say: "Don't eat it now, it will spoil your dinner."

Many dieticians recognize the same principle in "planned nibbling." Which means eating about 150 calories of any carbohydrate-protein food about 30 minutes before a meal. Or, when tempted, between meals. The carbohydrate acts fast; the protein keeps working longer.

Try a tablespoonful of sugar in a half glass of skim milk. Or a couple of slices of Profile Bread. Or a slice of Profile with jam on it. Anything light that spoils your appetite and keeps you from overeating at the table or between meals.

PROFILE BREAD

Profile Bread contains about 40% more complete protein than many white breads. It's flecked with tiny bits of cracked wheat and the flavor is fine—plain or toasted.

In addition, Profile Bread is fortified with calcium, phosphorus, iron and Vitamins B_1, B_2 and niacin, and has about 65 calories per slice. For "planned nibbling" you may find Profile Bread ideal.

Get a loaf of Profile Bread fresh at your favorite grocer's today. And try the Profile Bread Method of "planned nibbling" to outwit your appetite. You may be very glad you did.

Vote Yes On Some Things That Shouldn't Be There

California's state constitution is the largest, most messed up document to be found anywhere. It is outdated, obsolete in many instances and cluttered up with detail and trivia which should never be incorporated in a document of this kind.

Take for instance some of the ballot propositions on which you are called upon to vote Nov. 8:

PROPOSITION 7 asks all the people of this state to decide whether or not to permit two chiropractors from the same chiropractic college to be members of the State Board of Chiropractic Examiners. Now isn't that something? It would have some meaning if it put a member of the general public on the state board.

Whether there are two or five members of the same college on the board isn't something the public should decide. It should be an administrative matter. But because the Chiropractic Act of 1922 was passed by initiative, all amendments to it must also be passed by the voters.

This includes the other part of the proposition. This gives to the legislature the right to set the chiropractic license fees and the compensation given to the members of the board. That certainly should be a legislative prerogative and not frozen in the constitution at 1922 levels or wherever they are now.

The whole thing's absurd, but vote Yes on Proposition 7 anyway.

PROPOSITION 9 isn't quite so bad. It would allow the legislature to require charter cities and counties to follow certain procedures in presentations of claims against them.

The legislature already has required all non-charter cities to follow the same procedures so that a citizen would not be caught short by a technicality just because he had to file the claim in a different way for different cities or counties.

The charter cities and counties should have the same requirement for the protection of the public.

We urge a Yes vote on Proposition 9.

AND THEN THERE'S PROPOSITION 12. It's getting to be a regular fixture on our ballot. Each year more obsolete and superceded provisions are unearthed by diggers in our constitution. Every two years we're called upon to eliminate some of them.

Certainly we want you to vote Yes on Proposition 12.

But wouldn't it be so much better if the lawyers and the legislators would get together and rewrite the whole state constitution, make it a basic document and eliminate all the non-essential parts?

How we would work to pass a proposition which would bring that about!

Vote Yes On Fluoridation

Proposition B on the Nov. 8 ballot would fluoridate the water of Marin Municipal Water District.

Much has been said on both sides of this argument. We do not intend to detail or repeat them here. Suffice it to say that we believe there is no danger whatsoever in putting fluorides in water. We have confidence in the assurances of both the American Medical Association and the American Dental Association that fluoridation of water supplies is both harmless and beneficial.

We do not believe that our doctors and dentists are being used either by subversive forces or commercial interests. We do believe they have studied the matter thoroughly for many years, have determined that fluoridation of water brings major benefits to a community through improved dental health.

We again urge a Yes vote on Proposition B.

Fairfax Can't Afford A Bus

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

"Bus runs for San Jose School District, why not Fairfax?"

Several Fairfax residents questioned the article "Fairfax Bus Will Earn Its Keep" (I-J Oct. 19). If the bus can run for San Jose School District, why not for Fairfax?

Fairfax School District is lacking funds to operate and put our "crippled bus" back into operation and neither can it afford to pay for a bus driver, whereas, the San Jose School District is willing to repair the bus at an expense of $200 or $300. An important consideration, they can also pay the bus driver and maintain the bus.

However, the financial benefits that will obtain from the lease of the bus, in view of the lack of funds in the Fairfax School District, is still insufficient to operate a bus for our own use.

May this be another example of the plight of the Fairfax School District and a further argument in favoring a Yes vote for Fairfax School District tax increase.

How Far Will Taxpayers Go In Paying For Public Recreation?

SACRAMENTO (CNS) — Eventually, the taxpayers of California may have to come to a decision as to just how far they want to go in the promotion and subsidy of recreation in this state.

The growing costs of the projects already committed and the increased demands for the taxpayers' dollar from the various departments engaged in the recreational field make this imperative.

THE STATE Division of Fish and Game probably was the first department dealing with things other than necessities. Financed through issuance of fish and game licenses, the department is more than a government organization devoted solely to the pleasure of the people. It does regulate certain aspects of commercial fishing.

The State Division of Beaches and Parks was set up in the early 1930's to acquire and develop areas throughout the state for the use of the people as well as to preserve historical monuments and providing riding and hiking trials.

Lately, a Division of Recreation has been set up in the Department of Natural Resources to give assistance to local governments in promoting recreational facilities.

THE LEGISLATURE also set up an agency for the handling of small boats. This agency grants money to local governments for docks and landing facilities, so that the lakes, rivers and reservoirs may be utilized for small craft.

Various state departments, which have to do with state institutions such as prisons and mental hospitals, of late years have set up special groups for the promotion of recreation in these facilities.

The question then, is how far can the state go in developing these promotions?

A SAMPLE is the suggestion of State Sen. Ronald Cameron that another $2.1 million will be needed to complete developments in the Squaw Valley area, to provide attractions for skiers during the winter months.

This is despite the fact that the Division of Beaches and Parks recently leased out the facilities of Squaw Valley for 27 years to William A. Newsome, member of the Unemployment Insurance Appeals Board, and a long-time friend of Gov. Edmund G. Brown.

Newsome and a partner are starting to put the state's facilities in shape at Squaw Valley.

Another $2.1 million for development of Squaw Valley, especially after the nearly $10 million the state sunk in the 1960 Olympic Games, may appear a bit thick to the taxpayers, especially those who don't ski.

Artist Putnam drew the sprightly illustrations.

Male members of the group have been spending their Saturdays working on the campaign. But the women have had a share, too, manning the information headquarters at 17 Bolinas Avenue each afternoon.

The voters group officially was organized in September after a number of residents realized the district school board needed some evidence that people were willing to support a tax increase.

THE APATHY of many persons in the city was affecting school personnel, and something had to be done to show that someone was concerned.

Through distribution of literature, personal and telephone contact, the voters group is determined to make it clear to all residents just why an 80-cent increase in the tax rate is needed.

Deploring the apathy that has plagued Fairfax, one of the workers observed that it basically is a moral problem:

Should people accept the fact that children's education is everyone's job?

Whether the tax increase is approved or not, the voters group hopes to continue its work as an educational unit.

If the increase is not approved, look for more drastic reductions in the district's educational program. Since 1945 these services have been gradually discontinued in Fairfax: manual training, homemaking, speech therapy, remedial reading, vocal and instrumental music, and, this year, transportation.

PROPONENTS OF the tax increase point out that education has not suffered this year, despite the shortage of funds; only transportation has been dropped. But if the increase fails to pass, the education program undoubtedly will face more reductions next year.

Few Viewers Want Fifth Debate; If It Comes, Shouldn't Be All Cuba

WASHINGTON—So far I have not met anyone who heard the fourth debate and is yearning to have a fifth.

Jack Kennedy, however, is pressing for a fifth, and Richard Nixon, after explaining that he was too busy, is now in favor of a fifth, provided it is devoted exclusively to the subject of Castro.

Kennedy's main reason for wanting another debate is that this is the best way he can meet some last minute surprise, some last minute "crisis" which his opponents may bring off. Nixon's reason is that he thinks he has found in Cuba a good talking point.

On the whole, it is better, I would say, to have a fifth debate than not to have it. But to devote it exclusively to Castro would be preposterous. Castro is not all that important. To set him up as the main issue to decide who should be President of the United States is beneath the dignity of this country.

Having said this, I must admit that I have not liked Kennedy's making so much of a campaign issue of Cuba. Although he is right in criticizing the support which we gave to Batista, although he is sound in his criticism of our support of other Latin American dictators and of our general failure to support and sympathize with the progressive movements in Latin America, I do not think he is right when he talks as if there were anything effective which this country can now do to get rid of Castro.

The policy of the administration since the fall of Batista has been, so I believe, about the best that was possible given all the circumstances.

However, until last week Kennedy was on a sound line when he attacked the general policy of the administration in its relations with dictators, reactionaries, and progressives in Latin America.

Then he made a mistake, which was to make it sound as if he were promising support to the Cuban enemies, barring the Batista men, of Castro. This was contrary to the letter and the spirit of our many treaties and pledges made to our American neighbors. Kennedy, who would, I believe, make much the better President, is not infallible. He is human and it is human to err.

Nixon's show of righteous indignation is, however, false and insincere. What he is advocating is an "economic and poiltical quarantine" of Castro's Cuba. This is false on two counts. In the first place what the administration is doing in Cuba is not, as administration experts are at great pains to explain, a political and economic quarantine. If it were, it would be a major violation of that very Inter-American Treaty which Nixon quotes against Kennedy.

Moreover, what Kennedy advocated looks towards doing in Cuba what the administration, as all the world knows, did do in Guatemala. The only difference is that Kennedy very unwisely said what he would do about Cuba in the future, whereas the Eisenhower administration has been boasting about what it did do in the past in Guatemala.

What this shows is that neither side seems to have learned the lesson, so flagrantly illustrated in the U-2 affair, that when a government goes into the political black market it must keep its mouth shut.

Few Viewers Want Fifth Debate; If It Comes, Shouldn't Be All Cuba

WASHINGTON—So far I have not met anyone who heard the fourth debate and is yearning to have a fifth.

Jack Kennedy, however, is pressing for a fifth, and Richard Nixon, after explaining that he was too busy, is now in favor of a fifth, provided it is devoted exclusively to the subject of Castro.

Kennedy's main reason for wanting another debate is that this is the best way he can meet some last minute surprise, some last minute "crisis" which his opponents may bring off. Nixon's reason is that he thinks he has found in Cuba a good talking point.

On the whole, it is better, I would say, to have a fifth debate than not to have it. But to devote it exclusively to Castro would be preposterous. Castro is not all that important. To set him up as the main issue to decide who should be President of the United States is beneath the dignity of this country.

Having said this, I must admit that I have not liked Kennedy's making so much of a campaign issue of Cuba. Although he is right in criticizing the support which we gave to Batista, although he is sound in his criticism of our support of other Latin American dictators and of our general failure to support and sympathize with the progressive movements in Latin America, I do not think he is right when he talks as if there were anything effective which this country can now do to get rid of Castro.

The policy of the administration since the fall of Batista has been, so I believe, about the best that was possible given all the circumstances.

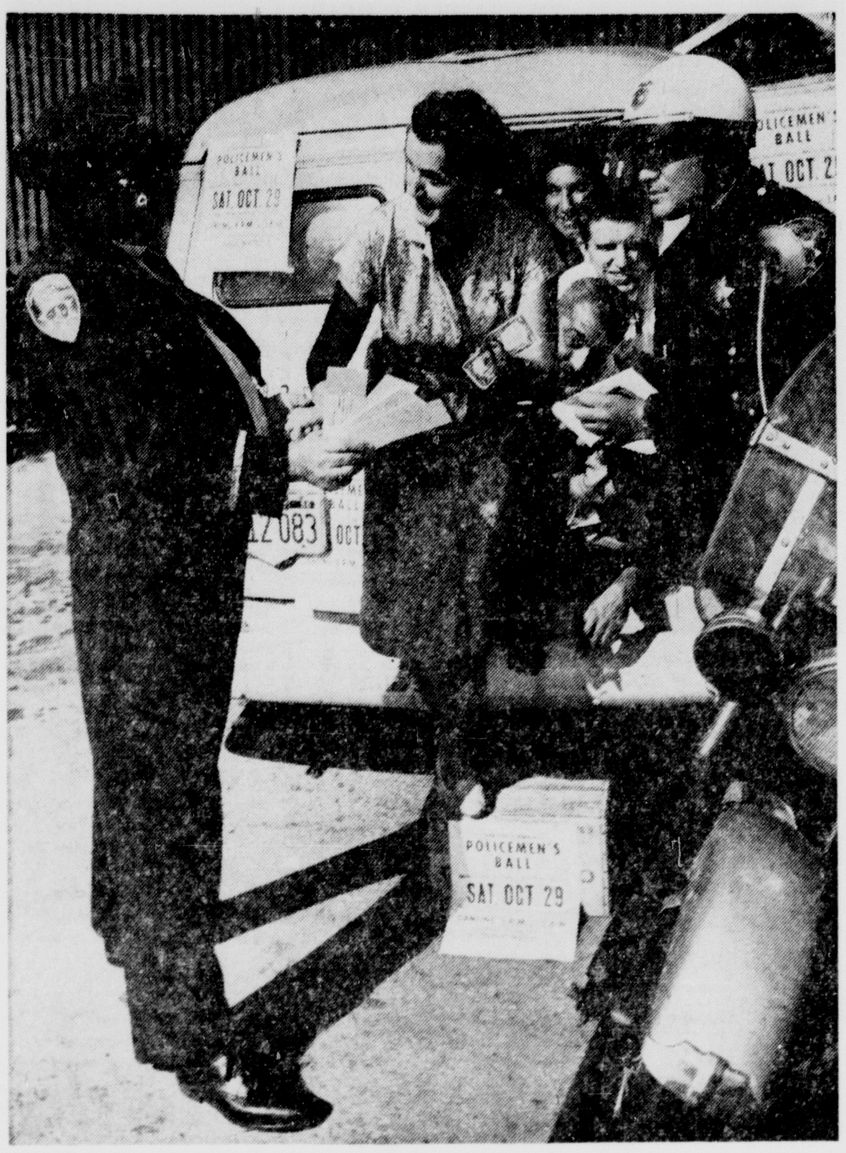
However, until last week Kennedy was on a sound line when he attacked the general policy of the administration in its relations with dictators, reactionaries, and progressives in Latin America.

Then he made a mistake, which was to make it sound as if he were promising support to the Cuban enemies, barring the Batista men, of Castro. This was contrary to the letter and the spirit of our many treaties and pledges made to our American neighbors. Kennedy, who would, I believe, make much the better President, is not infallible. He is human and it is human to err.

Nixon's show of righteous indignation is, however, false and insincere. What he is advocating is an "economic and poiltical quarantine" of Castro's Cuba. This is false on two counts. In the first place what the administration is doing in Cuba is not, as administration experts are at great pains to explain, a political and economic quarantine. If it were, it would be a major violation of that very Inter-American Treaty which Nixon quotes against Kennedy.

Moreover, what Kennedy advocated looks towards doing in Cuba what the administration, as all the world knows, did do in Guatemala. The only difference is that Kennedy very unwisely said what he would do about Cuba in the future, whereas the Eisenhower administration has been boasting about what it did do in the past in Guatemala.

What this shows is that neither side seems to have learned the lesson, so flagrantly illustrated in the U-2 affair, that when a government goes into the political black market it must keep its mouth shut.



'TICKET FIX' IN SAN ANSELMO — "Pay up right now and I'll fix a ticket for everyone in your car," Asst. Chief Sam N. Serio of San Anselmo police tells Mrs. Peter Maggi. Police Organizations Plan Holiday Dance

The occasion will be the 13th annual police ball of the San Anselmo Police Protective Assn. and Marin County Reserve Police, from 9 p.m. Saturday to 1 a.m. Sunday.

Candidates for Congress, State Senate and Assembly, or their representatives, will be introduced and speak from 11:30 p.m. to midnight, announced Sam N. Serio, assistant police chief and general chairman of the ball.

Halloween decorations are to be placed by a committee headed by Patrolman George Alberighi. Police Chief Raymond R. Buchignani and Sgt. James Orr head the ticket committee.

Thieves Take Off With Store's Sign

The sign in front of the Purity Store in San Raafel's Montecito Shopping Center said "Pick Up Parcels Here," but thieves Tuesday night picked up the sign instead.

Store manager James L. Painter of 1528 Buchanan Street, Novato, reported the loss to San Rafael police at 7:30 a.m. today.

THE PARENTS' CORNER

Guidance Counsellor

Nudity In The Home Depends On The Attitude Of The Parents

"I shocked my sister-in-law," a mother writes, "by getting into the tub with my 7-year-old son.

"We both needed baths. We were in a hurry. My sister-in-law said bathing that way was a sin. She believes the sight of a woman's body will corrupt a boy. She would never do what I did. I can't understand her.

You may be right. However, there are complications.

Many parents feel strongly about nakedness. Their attitudes determine what they should do. If being seen by her children without clothes would be embarrassing to your sister-in-law, she shouldn't be seen. She should never do what you did. Her children would catch her feelings. They'd draw some harmful conclusions. Seeing their parents without clothes can be a shocking, destructive experience to children raised the way she is raising hers.

However, you are different. You've no feeling of embarrassment. You are matter-of-fact. Probably your children have seen you undressed many times. They accept it without undue emotion. Possibly your children will have fewer hidden preoccupations about bodies than your sister-in-law's children. Possibly not.

Other things equal, a casual attitude toward male and female anatomy is better than a very restricted attitude. But other things never are equal. You and your sister-in-law both are right, for your own homes.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "My husband won't let us take our children to a restaurant. They are 2 and 4 years old. Aren't they old enough to eat out?"

E.O.S.

(A) I think so. Rectaurants are prepared for them. Give the children a pep talk in advance, so they'll try to behave. Order meals which can be served promptly. There is no reason not to take them.

DAILY CRYPTOQUOTE — Here's how to work it:

is L O N G F E L L O W

One letter simply stands for another. In this sample A is used for the three L's, X for the two O's, etc. Single letters, apostrophies, the length and formation of the words are all hints. Each day the code letters are different.

THE PARENTS' CORNER

Guidance Counsellor

Nudity In The Home Depends On The Attitude Of The Parents

"I shocked my sister-in-law," a mother writes, "by getting into the tub with my 7-year-old son.

"We both needed baths. We were in a hurry. My sister-in-law said bathing that way was a sin. She believes the sight of a woman's body will corrupt a boy. She would never do what I did. I can't understand her.

You may be right. However, there are complications.

Many parents feel strongly about nakedness. Their attitudes determine what they should do. If being seen by her children without clothes would be embarrassing to your sister-in-law, she shouldn't be seen. She should never do what you did. Her children would catch her feelings. They'd draw some harmful conclusions. Seeing their parents without clothes can be a shocking, destructive experience to children raised the way she is raising hers.

However, you are different. You've no feeling of embarrassment. You are matter-of-fact. Probably your children have seen you undressed many times. They accept it without undue emotion. Possibly your children will have fewer hidden preoccupations about bodies than your sister-in-law's children. Possibly not.

Other things equal, a casual attitude toward male and female anatomy is better than a very restricted attitude. But other things never are equal. You and your sister-in-law both are right, for your own homes.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "My husband won't let us take our children to a restaurant. They are 2 and 4 years old. Aren't they old enough to eat out?"

E.O.S.

(A) I think so. Rectaurants are prepared for them. Give the children a pep talk in advance, so they'll try to behave. Order meals which can be served promptly. There is no reason not to take them.

Planners Continue Novato Doughnut Shop Hearing

The Novato Planning Commission Monday night continued a hearing on proposed construction of a doughnut shop until its Nov. 14 meeting.

Jack Caristi had requested permission to construct a small, one-story shop at Second Street and Industrial Way. But planners must decide whether approval would be legal, as the lot originally was set aside as a parking space for Carrara's Florist Shop.

Planners approved a permit for erection of a 20-square-foot sign overhanging the sidewalk for Howard's Toy Box, 910 Grant Avenue, a new store opening in about three weeks. They approved grading plans for Novato Hill Subdivision Unit 2.

Board Rejects Suit Over Blood

The $11,435 claim against the county of a man who says a blood sample was removed from him illegally after an accident last June has been rejected by the Marin County Board of Supervisors.

After receiving an opinion from the county counsel and a report of county's insurance carrier that the county is neither liable nor covered by insurance for such a claim, the board unanimously denied the claim by Jackie Edson Hermann of Sausalito.

Nor would the supervisors allow Hermann's attorney, A. L. Bjorklund, to speak. They told him any argument he had with the county counsel's opinion should be in a formal court hearing.

Kennedy Wants 'Final Answer' On 5th Debate

Vice President Says Depression Talk Won't Work

Demo Nominee Campaigning In Pennsylvania

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

Vice President Richard M. Nixon charged today that Sen. John F. Kennedy is trying to scare Americans into voting Democratic by predicting a depression. But it won't work, Nixon said.

"It won't work because the American people have more sense than Kennedy has," Nixon told one of a series of cheering crowds which turned out to greet his campaign special train on its whistle stop tour across the pivotal state of Illinois.

HAS A PUN

"Note that I said sense, not dollars," Nixon punned. "He's got more dollars than you have but you have more sense than he does."

The GOP presidential nominee was apparently getting the best of a bad cold and sore throat which plagued him during yesterday's hectic campaigning in Michigan. Egg throwing incidents in Michigan helped heat up Nixon's temper, but he was busy today wooing Illinois' 27 electoral votes on a schedule which took him all the way to Davenport, Iowa.

Tomorrow Nixon flies back into Illinois, where he will spend the day motorcading through Chicago's heavily populated and traditionally Republican suburbs.

HEAPS SCORN

In one rear platform talk after another today Nixon heaped scorn on Kennedy's warning in Michigan Wednesday that the economy was sliding into a slump under GOP rule.

Nixon said Detroit newspapers that headlined this charge also were proclaiming in other headlines that auto sales had just reached a new high.

"Sen. Kennedy is betting on a recession," Nixon said at Mattoon, Ill. "But the American people are betting on prosperity. Kennedy is wrong and the people are right, and that's why they are not going to elect him on Nov. 8."

Sen. John F. Kennedy called on Vice President Richard M. Nixon today to give a "final answer by tomorrow night" on whether he will agree to a time and place for a fifth television debate.

He said in a telegram to the GOP candidate that "the American people will know where to place the responsibility if Nixon's answer is negative."

READY TO MEET

The Democratic nominee added:

"I am ready to meet for the debate at any time in any city."

Kennedy's statement came as representatives of both sides met again in an effort to work out an acceptable format for the program.

In a bid for the Keystone State's 32 electoral votes, Kennedy said Nixon dared not use his "never had it so good" slogan in these economically depressed areas.

The nominee, answering Nixon's charges that Kennedy was "downgrading America," said:

SELLING SHORT

"It is Mr. Nixon—not I—who is downgrading America. It is Mr. Nixon—not I—who is selling America short.

In a speech prepared for delivery at Scranton, Kennedy said Nixon came to Scranton last month "to apologize" for two Republicans vetoes of Democratic bills to aid depressed areas and also "to make some new promises."

"I do not come to apologize," Kennedy said, "the Democratic Party comes with a record of performance and I advise you not to trade performance for promises."

Russ Demand Dag Seek Spy Release

NOBEL COMMITTEE RULES OUT 1960 PEACE PRIZE

OSLO, Norway (UPI) — The Nobel Committee of the Norwegian Parliament announced today that there will be no 1960 peace prize. It was the 14th time that no award was made.

The prime candidate was reported to have been United Nations Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold for his efforts in the Congo. But he was ineligible since the Congo crisis came after the Jan. 31 deadline for consideration of candidates.

The committee gave no reason for its decision.

The prize money was reserved for next year, a brief announcement from the committee said. The amount of this year's prize was not disclosed.

Protest Made In U.N. Talk

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union demanded publicly today that Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold seek the release of a Russian U.N. official arrested by U.S. authorities on spy charges.

Soviet Delegate Platon D. Morozov threw this demand into a speech in the General Assembly's Legal Committee.

"The secretary-general," he said, "should take immediate steps to put an end to this act against this Soviet citizen, who had an important post in the secretariat and has been deprived of the possibility of carrying out his functions at a very important time, and without justification."

The Russian suspect, Igor Yakovlevich Melikh, 47, was arrested last night in New York, along with an accused accomplice, German-born Willie Hirsch, 52.

The United States today gave Russian officials permission to interview Melekh. The State Department said U.S. authorities should have the same right to see U.S. airmen imprisoned in the Soviet Union.

More Financing For Roads Urged

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — State Sen Randolph Collier of Yreka called for additional financing for both state highways and local roads in a speech at the Redwood Empire Assn. convention here today.

Collier said that by 1980, county roads and city streets will have to accommodate twice as many cars as they now do. Financing presents a problem.

Passage of legislation for increased gasoline taxes would be difficult, he said.

He suggested possibility of an increase in motor vehicle license fees or the in-lieu tax. He seemed to favor the in-lieu tax idea, which is the state charge against automobiles in place of county taxation on personal property.

An in-lieu increase should be reserved to the cities and counties for road use, he said, but local government agencies should produce matching funds.

Turning to the proposed revision of the split in gas tax funds between northern and southern California, Collier said he had no fear about revision to the possible detriment to the north of the present split of gas tax funds, 45 per cent to the north and 55 to the south.

A recent highway study showed that more than 50 per cent of the road deficiencies in the state were in northern California, he said. However, he warned that if Proposition 15 passes and the south gains control of both the Assembly and State Senate, the division of highway funds might be imperilled.

Collier said that the federal government must develop a more stable policy in regard to federal highways. No proper highway planning can be done, he pointed out, if financing is on a year-to-year basis.

It is time that aviation, too, must support itself, the senator went on. Airports must "get off the backs" of the

Pillowcase Thief Takes $4,000 In Loot

Sausalito was struck last night by a "pillowcase" burglar who made away with approximately $4,000 worth of loot, including gold and silver tableware.

The loot was so large the thief took bed sheets as well as pillowcases to carry it way, said Sausalito police.

Victims were Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Vredenburg, who recently moved into a new home at 125 Cloud View Road.

Mrs. Vredenburg told police she returned home about 9 o'clock last night to find her house ransacked, the floor strewn with all manner of belongings. Entry had been made through a front window, which had been jarred open with a screwdriver.

Mrs. Vredenburg, had only a partial list of missing things this morning. She said she is missing two Bavarian gold dishes, a set of gold salt and pepper shakers eight inches tall, gold relish dishes, sterling silver salt and pepper shakers as well as other silver, candle holders, three watches, two cameras and a box of cuff links.

U.N. Support Sought On Arms Compromise

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—In an effort to head off a Soviet bloc boycott of U.N. disarmament debate, India and six other nations sought support today for a compromise proposal aimed at bringing the West and the Soviets back to the arms negotiating table.

Indian Defense Minister V. K. Krishna Menon hinted at the plan last night in a two-hour speech before the 99-nation political committee.

Informed sources said India has drawn up a nine-point proposal with Burma, Mexico, Sweden, Venezuela, the United Arab Republic and Yugoslavia.

Diplomatic informants said the United States reacted favorably to the proposal, but the Soviets complained it left out any mention of Premier Khrushchev's proposals for a general disarmament pact.

The Soviet Union and other Soviet bloc members have threatened to boycott the disarmament debate here unless Khrushchev's plan is accepted as the sole basis for negotiations.

Sonoma Wins Title To Bodega Bay

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Sonoma County has won title to Bodega Bay, previously held by the State Lands Commission, after a presentation by consulting engineers and the commission staff.

The move was approved yesterday by the commission after Supervisor N. Guidotti of Sonoma County appeared briefly before the group and introduced the Santa Rosa consulting engineer of the firm of Sarles, Brelje and Race to make the county's presentation.

Details of the proposal were explained to the commission and a staff recommendation as to the acceptability was approved.

The staff recommendation read in part:

"The County of Sonoma having presented to the State Lands Commission under date of Sept. 29, 1960, a plan for improvement and development of certain tide and submerged lands in Bodega Bay . . . the commission now determines that such a plan and the improvement contemplated therein would if completed constitute substantial improvement within the meaning of the statutes of 1959 and said plan is hereby conditionally approved . . ."

12 Die In Montana Airliner Crash

MISSOULA, Mont. (UPI) — A Northwest Orient Airlines four-engine DC-4 crashed into a mountainside 22 miles west of here today, killing all 12 persons aboard.

Newsman Don Kinney telephoned from the scene that there were no survivors.

He said witnesses told him the plane, flying upside down, smashed into the mountain and burned.

1st Half Of '60 Showed Crime Rise, Mosk Says

PALO ALTO (AP)—Atty. Gen. Stanley Mosk said today the first half of 1960 showed an increase in crimes in California proportionally greater than the increase in the state's population for that period.

In an address at the annual meeting of sheriffs of California, Mosk said that there had been an increase of 17.1 per cent in the number of crimes reported by sheriffs and police the first half of this year over the comparable period last year.

The attorney general noted that there was one bright aspect in the state's crime picture—the absence of the syndicate type of operation.

Quoting figures from a mid-year summary compiled by the State Bureau of Criminal Statistics, Mosk said that 20,705 felony complaints were filed after arrests in California for the first six months of 1960 compared with 17,750 for the same period in 1959.

Among these were 329 homicide complaints this year, compared with 259 for the first half of last year, or a boost of 22.8 per cent. There likewise were increases in forgery, burglary, grand theft, robbery, aggravated assault, sex offenses and auto theft complaints filed.

Mosk said that the number of narcotics complaints filed was the only category in which there was a decrease in the first half of 1960 compared with the first half of 1959, dropping 2.5 per cent.

Juvenile delinquency arrests by sheriffs and police in the first six months this year totaled 89,789, up 9.1 per cent above the 79,478 arrests in the first half of last year.

In this category, San Francisco Bay Area arrests totaled 24,384 the first six months of the year against 19,230 in the 1959 period, for an increase of 25 per cent.

Incidents May Cancel Marin Football Game

Rising football fever at Tamalpais and Redwood High Schools, which almost bubbled into violence yesterday, remained below the boiling point today with this warning:

If any further incidents develop, tomorrow afternoon's game at Kentfield between the two schools will be canceled.

Sheriff's deputies and police remained poised for action all day yesterday and today, as reports of impending raids and gang fights filtered into police headquarters.

Actual physical damage thus far has been almost nil. Yesterday morning, Redwood students raided Tamalpais territory and changed the big T on the hill just east of the school to an R.

Then about noon, word flashed that Tamalpais students were headed for Greenbrae to retaliate against a big R on a hill near Marin General Hospital.

Larkspur police and sheriff's deputies reached the rendezvous point and dispersed about 50 boys from both schools.

About 6 p.m., Corte Madera police learned that a gang of Tamalpais students were "en route to wreck the Redwood campus."

Larkspur Police Chief Howard Clark dispatched a police car to the campus, but all was quiet. However, a Redwood Giant sign on the campus had been cut down.

At Tamalpais High School, Vice Principal John George said a sign on the senior bench was removed recently, and in its place was a sign that read: "Beat Tam."

An exchange rally scheduled between both schools was canceled yesterday because of the increasing number of incidents.

Seventeen Redwood students were suspended from school for two days yesterday. Tamalpais boys who raided Greenbrae were put on supervised study for two hours as punishment for going off campus.

AMUSEMENT BUSINESS

Truman Suggests Nixonland Park

OAKLAND (AP)—Former President Harry S. Truman suggests that Vice President Richard M. Nixon open a Nixonland amusement park "when he has to leave Washington on Jan. 20."

Truman's tongue-in-cheek address, prepared for a fund-raising dinner tonight, was released in advance.

"I do not feel bitterness tonight toward Richard Nixon," Truman's text said. "I feel concern and a touch of pity. I have been wondering what he could do after the election returns are in. He is too young to retire, and he will have to have some kind of a job.

"I think I have discovered what Nixon can do. He has considerable gifts of showmanship, and the ability to create all kinds of illusions. He should go into this amusement park business and open one of his own, which we could call Nixonland.

"One of the rules in Nixonland would be 'no cuss words' —because of the children there. Of course, in Nixonland there would be nothing to cuss about, because there our prestige would always be at an all-time high—and we would all be morally, spiritually, economically and militarily stronger than anybody else anywhere.

Nixonland would also be very neat. In fact, it would be as clean as a hound's tooth.

"The first thing to do in Nixonland would be to take a ride on the Nixon train. This would go — rather quickly — through 50-odd countries. The end of this ride would be quite exciting, with howling Communist mobs, and all the passengers would have to be rescued by the United States Marines.

"Then there would be the Nixon trip up the Congo River, through Communistland. And you would see stuffed Communists popping out from behind every bush. And Nixon would stand in the bow of the boat, and shoot them dead — with blanks.

"Another popular attraction would be the great Nixon submarine ride to the offshore islands. This submarine would go to Quemoy and Matsu, but not to Cuba. In fact, there would be a rule in Nixonland against mentioning Cuba. Anybody who mentioned Cuba would have to get off the submarine and swim home."

Nixon Would Visit Europe Satellites

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Vice President Richard M. Nixon promised yesterday that if he is elected president he will visit all of the satellite nations of Eastern Europe.

Nixon, shrugging off heckling as he campaigned through Michigan and a possible attempt to derail his train, said the purpose of the visits would be to "proclaim again America's friendship for these people, to reaffirm our trust in their ultimate deliverance."

He carried his bid for votes in the industrial states into Illinois today.

EGGS THROWN

Although he twice was made a target by egg throwers and was subjected to what his press secretary called "goon squad" heckling, Nixon pronounced a whistle-stopping run through Michigan the best day of his Republican presidential campaign.

He pointed his special train toward primarily Republican sections of Illinois before a night speech across the Iowa line in Davenport. He bid for minority bloc support with the pledge to visit European Communist satellites if elected.

Herbert G. Klein, Nixon's press secretary, announced that a track foreman had discovered near Fort Wayne, Ind., a piece of metal tied to a track over which the Nixon special was to pass during the night.

NOT A BOMB

He said Secret Service operatives had investigated and found that the metal, which appeared to be part of an old transformer, was not a bomb. He said that C. R. Frew, Pennsylvania Railroad trainmaster at Fort Wayne, had reported the metal might have derailed a train if it had not been discovered.

Charles J. Flaherty, a superintendent of transportation for the Pennsylvania Railroad said that although the metal could have derailed the train he suspects that only a Halloween trick may have been involved.

At an outdoor rally in Muskegon, Mich., last night—where he attacked vigorously the economic views of his Democratic rival, Sen. John F. Kennedy—Nixon encountered heckling from a small segment of the otherwise friendly crowd.

BAD MANNERS

"I've been heckled by experts, and we'll take care of you," the vice president told the group. "All you do is show your bad manners. I didn't hire you, now go away."

Some of the hecklers bore Kennedy signs aloft. Their catcalls and shouts for Kennedy died out after Nixon's rebuke.

It was the third time during the day that Nixon had been a target. Badly aimed eggs, which fell far short, were tossed in his direction when he was speaking at Jackson, Mich. In Grand Rapids earlier, three tomatoes were tossed his way.

Klein said these demonstrations from otherwise friendly crowds indicated that "organized goon squads" were attempting "disruptive" tactics.

Nixon told an applauding crowd at the dedication of a field house in Muskegon that if he is elected president he intends to visit all of the satellite nations of Eastern Europe. He specifically named Poland, which he has visited previously, Czechoslovakia, Bulgaria and Romania.

He said he hopes that if Senator Kennedy wins he will make such visits.

Columnist's Nixon Charge Held Baseless

WASHINGTON (UPI) — The Justice Department has branded as baseless "innuendo" a report by columnist Drew Pearson that it settled an anti-trust case against a company owned by industrialist Howard Hughes because he made a $205,000 loan to Vice President Richard M. Nixon's brother, Don.

"The fact is that this department commenced its action against this company after the loan was made," the department said in a statement yesterday.

'IMPROVEMENT'

Pearson wrote that "the family of Richard M. Nixon" received the loan from the Hughes Tool Co. on Dec. 10, 1956. He said that problems Hughes had been having with the government subsequently had undergone an "improvement."

The Justice Department said it filed an anti-trust complaint in New York against the Hughes company, on Aug. 2, 1957. It said the case was settled on April 4, 1958.

COMPLAINT CHARGE

The complaint charged the Hughes concern with conspiring with three German manufacturers of oil drilling equipment to limit imports into the United States and suppress competition in that field.

The consent judgment arrived at in the case "is regarded as a completely satisfactory settlement by the department," the statement said.

Nixon's campaign manager, Robert N. Finch, previously called the Pearson report "absolute nonsense" and "another Pearson smear." He said the loan in no way involved the vice president.

Pope's Envoy Rules Out Any Political Stand

MOBILE, Ala. (AP)—Pope John XXIII's top spokesman in this nation says "the Catholic bishops of the United States have never taken any political position similar to that taken by the bishops of Puerto Rico."

Archbishop Egidio Vagnozzi, apostolic delegate to the United States, added in a statement yesterday: "I am confident, also, no such action would ever be taken by the heirarchy in this country."

The archbishop commented concerning the action of the three Roman Catholic bishops of Puerto Rico who had a pastoral letter read last Sunday directing Puerto Rican Catholics not to vote for the Popular Democratic Party, which it said had passed laws permitting the teaching of birth control and permitting sterilization.

The letter brought strong criticism in the island and in the United States, where Democratic presidential candidate John F. Kennedy's Catholic religion has been made an issue.

Vagnozzi released his statement without elaboration while in Mobile to attend the 50th anniversary ceremony of Archbishop Thomas J. Toolen's ordination as a priest.

Agreement with the apostolic delegate's statement came immediately from Richard Cardinal Cushing, Roman Catholic archbishop of Boston, who said: "It is totally out of step with American tradition for ecclesiastical authority here to dictate the political voting of citizens."

Proposition 15 Fighters Form

David Winslow and Harold Morgan, co-chairmen of the Marin County Californians Against Proposition 15, announced today the formation of a 20-member steering committee to wage an all-out campaign against what he called a "Senate-packing measure."

The Nov. 8 ballot measure seeks to reapportion the State Senate and give seven senators to Los Angeles County.

"Under the terms of this Los Angeles-inspired scheme," they said in a joint statement, "Marin County would lose its senator and we would be forced to share a senator with Sonoma County."

Death Probe Closes

LOS ANGELES (UPI)—Dist. Atty. William B. McKesson yesterday closed the re-investigation of the 28-year-old death of actress Jean Harlow's husband with a slap at writer Ben Hecht for saying the suicide was a murder. "It now appears, by Hecht's own admission, that he apparently was peddling a wild and unconfirmed rumor as fact," McKesson said.

The action came after a district attorney spokesman yesterday questioned film director Henry Hathaway, named by Hecht in a recent Playboy magazine article as knowing undisclosed facts about Bern's gunshot death in 1932. The interview with Hathaway revealed nothing but rumors, said McKesson.

Oilman Mailed Anti-Catholic Sermon Copies

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Wealthy Dallas oilman H. L. Hunt said yesterday he mailed copies of an anti-Catholic sermon prior to the Democratic National Convention in an effort to win the nomination for Texas Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson.

Hunt said he has not taken part in the presidential campaign between Sen. John F. Kennedy, a Roman Catholic, and Vice President Richard M. Nixon, a Quaker.

An official of a Senate investigating committee last week said he had evidence that Hunt paid for the printing and mailing of 102,000 copies of a sermon delivered by Dr. W. A. Criswell, pastor of the First Baptist church in Dallas.

"Many of my very best friends, including clergymen, are Catholic and I am not at all critical of the Catholic church," Hunt said in a statement.

He said the sermon "was indicative of the bitter controversy that would result if a religious issue were injected into the 1960 presidential campaign."

Illustrator, Russ U.N. Aide Arrested On Spying Charge

Pair Attempted To Map Military Installations

WILLIE HIRSCH
Espionage charge

IGOR MELEKH
Job at U.N.

NEW YORK (UPI)—A Russian United Nations secretariat official and a German-born illustrator were held today in $50,000 bail each on charges of spying for the Soviet Union. They allegedly sought military information for use in picking bombing targets.

Igor Yakovlevich Melekh, 47, who was in charge of translating U.N. documents in the Russian language, and Willie Hirsch, 52, were arrested swiftly and suddenly last night on a federal indictment charging they conspired with a former Russian U.N. official to obtain aerial photographs and a map of military installations around Chicago.

FOR TARGETS

The FBI said Melekh indicated the information was to be used to pinpoint bombing targets.

Melekh was seized in his West Side apartment in the middle of a birthday party for his 6-year-old son, Mikhail. Hirsch, who came to this country as a youth but was never naturalized, was arrested in his Greenwich Village apartment.

The other Russian left this country at the request of the United States after his contract with the United Nations ran out in March, 1959. He is Kirill S. Doronkin, former film editor of the U.N. secretariat's radio and visual division of public information. In January, 1959, the U.S. mission to the United Nations asked the secretary general to fire him for his activities in obtaining aerial photographs of the Chicago area.

INDICTMENT IN CHICAGO

Doronkin was named a co-conspirator but not a defendant in the indictment handed up yesterday by a federal grand jury in Chicago.

The indictment charged that Hirsch and Melekh met with "an individual" in Chicago, Newark, N.J., and New York several times in late 1958 and early 1959, and paid sums of money, presumably for information. It was not made clear whether one or more persons were involved, and the "individual" was not named in any of the encounters.

They also were charged with conspiring to violate the law requiring foreign agents to register with the State Department.

If convicted, they could receive fines of $25,000 or 25-year jail sentences, or both.

Hirsch, a medical artist who has been using the name John Gilmore, was described by a physician friend as "one of the world's greatest medical illustrators."

Soviet Minister Says Arrest Made To Divert Attention

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UPI)—Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister Valerian A. Zorin said today the arrest of a Soviet member of the U.N. secretariat on espionage charges is "an obvious provocation."

Zorin said the arrest had been planned by Allen W. Dulles, head of the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency, to divert attention of the U.S. spy plane flights over Soviet territory.

"Allen Dulles had to work it up to justify his acts," Zorin told a reporter.

The Soviet delegate said his delegation had protested last night to Andrew W. Cordier, executive assistant to U.N. Secretary-General Dag Hammarskjold. The United Nations, so far, has maintained silence on the case involving Igor Melekh, head of the Russian language section of the Office of Conference Services.

Woman Loses $100,000 Suit For Damages

Novato housewife Patricia Stevens yesterday lost a $100,000 damage suit which she filed against San Rafael General Hospital and a San Rafael doctor for injuries she said she suffered after surgery.

A jury in the court of Judge Thomas F. Keating deliberated for about an hour and one-half and decided that Mrs. Patricia Stevens should get nothing. She had sued the hospital and Dr. James Marr Jr.

Mrs. Stevens claimed she had surgery on the left leg in February of 1958 by Dr. Marr. After the operation, she said, the bandages were applied too tightly, thus damaging the nerves and tissues of her leg.

Mystery Man Skips In Two-Death Probe

Jaimes Enrique Sandoval, mystery man in the deaths of Donald and Virginia Douglas of Millbrae, vanished from his San Francisco apartment today instead of keeping a date for interrogation by Dist. Atty. Keith Sorenson of San Mateo County.

Police Chief Larry Pickett of Millbrae promptly signed a warrant for Sandoval's arrest on a charge of perversion involving one of the Douglases' two sons. Bail was set at $10,000 cash or $20,000 bonds.

Sandoval had agreed to appear voluntarily at Sorensen's office in Redwood City at 10 a.m. today with his attorney, Arthur Hyman of San Francisco. The attorney appeared, but no Sandoval.

Sorenson planned to question Sandoval particularly regarding the reported death of 42-year-old Mrs. Douglas. There is only Sandoval's word that she fell from a Puerto Rican cliff into the sea. She had accompanied 29-year-old Sandoval to Puerto Rico, his native island, where he claimed he was going to collect a large estate.

Her husband, also 42, was found dead in his automobile in a secluded spot in Lucas Valley after he had flown to Puerto Rico to help in a futile search for his wife's body. He left a two and one-half page letter, addressed to Chief Pickett, which said "I was taken in very stupidly by Sandoval." The letter admitted he had advanced large sums to Sandoval to help him "collect the estate," and had forged Mrs. Douglas's name to a $16,000 mortgage to raise money for the mysterious Puerto Rican.

The charge lodged today was the second perversion charge against Sandoval. In 1957, he was convicted in Marin County of a perversion charge involving a teen-age boy. He was sentenced April 29, 1957, to 120 days in the county jail, and paroled on June 25 of the same year.

Douglas was an executive of a San Francisco firm and a civic leader in his home town of Millbrae. Mrs. Douglas worked part-time in the Millbrae city clerk's office.

Pair Arrested For Stealing From Store

Two San Rafael youths, already facing a trial on charges of auto theft, were arrested last night on charges of stealing clothes from Macy's Department Store in San Rafael

Police Officer John Kingston found $78.81 worth of clothing in a suitcase one of the suspects was carrying when he stopped them at Third and C Streets about 9:15 p.m.

Booked on a charge of petty theft were John S. Green, 21, a part time stock clerk at Macy's, and David M. Christian, 18, a student at Marin Junior College. Both live at 116 Greenfield Avenue, San Rafael.

Kingston said he saw the pair walking away from the department store parking lot at Fourth and Court Streets about 9 p.m. but did not stop them at that time.

The clothing, which included dungarees, handkerchiefs, a sweater, sport shirt, socks and two pairs of shoes, was believed to be taken from trash boxes behind the store where it had been hidden earlier in the day.

Green and Christian were held in lieu of $262.50 bail each to be arraigned this afternoon.

They are awaiting a court trial in superior court on Nov. 29 on a charge of stealing a San Anselmo woman's convertible on Sept. 15, and abandoning it in San Rafael. They were arrested the next day after police said they tried to pawn some golf clubs in a San Francisco pawn shop.

Artists' Reception Will Be Tomorrow

ONE PROTEST RAISED AS GERMANS ENTER

NANCY, France (AP) — The peaceful passage of West German troops across eastern France for training near Reims provoked a lone official cry of protest last night.

A village councilman at the special meeting called to approve the ban pointed out that Auboue was well off the Germans' route.

But for the mayor it was the principle of the thing.

"They shall not pass," said the mayor—and the council approved the measure by acclamation.

Marin City Boy On Bike Injured

An 11-year-old Marin City boy was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital after a bicycle he was riding collided with an automobile on Bridgeway last night near Gate 5.

The boy, Wayne Olivera, of 113 Drake Avenue, is being treated for head injuries.

Police said that both Olivera, on his bike, and Larry Lehman, 30, of 383 Lovell Avenue, Mill Valley, were going south on Bridgeway at about 5:30 p.m. Lehman told police that the boy was riding near the curb and then he turned into the side of the vehicle.

Girl's Hand Hurt By Elevator Door

Valerin Samantas, of 5 Dolores Street, San Rafael, had three stitches taken at San Rafael General Hospital to close the wounds. Mrs. Rachel Samantas, the mother, was pushing the stroller into the elevator on the second floor of the old courthouse when the little girl's hand was apparently caught between the door and the metal arm rest of the stroller.

Death Bed Confession Of Slaying

REDWOOD CITY (UPI)—Bones found in the garage of an elderly woman recluse were studied by laboratory technicians today to determine whether they were the remains of a young man she claimed to have murdered 33 years ago.

Authorities reported yesterday that Olive Jean Koempel confessed the crime shortly before she died Oct. 12 at the age of 80. The bones found at her home tended to verify her story.

ONCE A NURSE

Mrs. Koempel was supervising head nurse at Baltimore General Hospital in the early 1920s. In her confession to a friend, she said the victim was a hitchhiker she picked up while driving near Los Angeles in 1927.

Mrs. Koempel said she ordered the man from her car when he made improper advances — and then ran him down in anger. She said she took the body to her home, dismembered it, and buried it on her property.

Neighbors said Mrs. Koempel began a life of a recluse here. She lived in a shack, without water, lights or gas—and virtually covered her property with any type of junk she could find or steal.

Several years ago, she was cited by medical authorities for keeping 91 chickens, 13 dogs, 5 cats and 30 ducks on her premises.

When authorities descended on her property to check her story of murder, they found pathways leading through the junk, newspapers, old doors, chunks of corrugated iron, and dozens of wheeled supermarket carts which were jammed into the small house.

They found that 30 dogs and cats also shared her quarters.

Car With 4 Teeners Flips, Perils House

A carload of teen-agers plunged over a 50-foot embankment on Seaview Avenue in San Rafael last night, rolled end-over-end down the slope and plopped to a half within six inches of a house.

Three youths were treated for cuts and bruises at San Rafael General Hospital.

Police Officer Gerald R. Souza said the accident happened about 10:30 p.m. when a car driven by Sigfried K. Herzog Jr., 18, of 1440 Grand Avenue, San Rafael, failed to make a curve and went over the embankment at 35 West Seaview Avenue.

Flipping down the bank, the car bounced off an acacia tree and landed upright, crushing a small pear tree, a chaise lounge and a patio chair.

The four occupants crawled out through the smashed rear window. The car was wedged in the patio between the embankment and the house of Harold E. Schioldager.

Treated at San Rafael General Hospital were the driver, Herzog, for bruised chest, injured wrist and multiple cuts; George F. Powers, 18, of 28 Knoll Road, San Rafael, bruises and abrasions of the right shoulder and cuts of the right hand and William A. Kane, 18, of 6 Via Van Vuren, Terra Linda, bruises and abrasions of the left shoulder and a cut thumb. A fourth passenger, Arthur J. Omli, 18, of 49 Reservoir Road, San Rafael, was not injured.

Mrs. Schioldager, who was watching television in the family room next to the patio, said she saw the lights coming down the hill at the house.

"I thought it was an airplane," she exclaimed.

Apartment Fuss Suit Goes To Court

A full-scale jury trial opened today in Marin Municipal Court for a San Anselmo home owner accused of illegally converting his single-family home into a duplex.

Anthony Curro of Ross, who owns the home at 41 Austin Avenue, San Anselmo, is accused by the City of San Anselmo of violating the city zoning ordinance.

City councilmen decided to press the suit unless Curro removed all plumbing and kitchen facilities in the lower apartment. City Atty. John G. Bursh contends the area is restricted to one-family homes, whereas Curro's property is clearly set up for two housekeeping units.

Curro, a planning consultant for an insurance firm, is defended by Kenneth W. Larson of San Francisco. Jury picking began this morning before Judge Joseph G. Wilson.

REDWOOD AREA MEETING

Kuchel Aide Warns Of One-Party Drift

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — The administrative assistant of Sen. Thomas Kuchel warned newsmen today of "the danger of a drift to one-party government."

M. S. (Pop) Small told the newspaper, radio and television units of the Redwood Empire Assn. at a breakfast meeting here that there is a growing tendency to reduce the number of the minority parties to the detriment of good government.

He pointed to the south as an example of the evils of one-party government. He said the southerners are "still fighting the Civil War," but at the same time southern legislators are "controlling our government."

As an example, he said Howard W. Smith of Virginia, chairman of the House rules committee, was able to block both the aid to education bill and the civil rights bill in the last session of Congress "because his cow was sick." He said that Smith had to go to his Virginia farm to tend to the cow just at the time the two bills could have been voted out of committee, and as a result Congress was unable to act on them.

Small, who is moving his main office from Washington to Sacramento to be Kuchel's representative throughout the state, said the divided government of the last six years, with the president of one party and the congress of another, "hasn't been such a bad thing."

"We were headed down a long road of inflation," he said, "but that has been checked." Business has slowed down slightly, he said, but that has been needed.

He denied that the present administration has failed to make new starts in public works, and pointed to a number of them inside the Redwood Empire, including the Bodega Bay project. He gave credit to Democratic leaders Sen. Lyndon Johnson and Rep. Sam Rayburn for cooperation with the Republican administration in the public works program.

He called it amazing for Senator Johnson now to say in the heat of the campaign that no new starts were made.

Small, returning to California for the first time in nearly eight years, said he was concerned to see that Gov. Edmund G. Brown had become violently partisan.

Senator Kuchel has cooperated with all 30 members of the California delegation in Congress, regardless of party, Small said.

There is a growing jealousy of California in Congress, he warned. This jealousy could result in holding up vital appropriations to the state, if it continues, Small claimed.

He urged the newsmen to be non-partisan in their appraisal of political candidates. He said they should look for quality in the individual, not be tied down to narrow partisanship.

The challenge of the newspapermen, he said, is to ask and to urge others to ask in this manner.

Qualifications he recommended for a candidate are: (1) integrity, (2) independence, (3) competence and dedication, and (4), which he called very important, toleration of the other fellow and guardianship of the rights of the minority.

William Duddelson, executive secretary to Rep. Clement W. Miller, told the newsmen in a brief talk that he could testify to the fact that in all dealings of Miller with the Kuchel office, there had been only one standard: "What is good for California and what is good for the first district?"

Sausalito Bank Exec Retiring This Month

Ivan Conn will retire as manager and assistant vice president of the Sausalito office of Wells Fargo Bank-American Trust Co. at the end of this month and be succeeded as manager by Clifford E. Christison, according to announcement by Ransom M. Cook, bank president.

Conn refers to his Sausalito work as "a three-month assignment that lasted 23 years." He went to the American Trust Co. there in January of 1937, the winter before the Golden Gate Bridge was opened, on what was to be a temporary job, and with his wife, Nina, "fell in love with Sausalito and Marin County."

They have lived at the same address, 14 Excelsior Lane, for 24 years, rearing a son and daughter and watching arrival of six grandchildren.

His association with the bank dates back to 47 years to April 1, 1913, when he joined what was then the First National Bank of Richmond as messenger boy.

In Sausalito he has been president of the Lions and Rotary clubs, longtime treasurer of the Salvation Army, and member of the American Legion, Elks and Masons.

A dinner at the Alta Mira Hotel will honor him next Wednesday. His plans, Conn says, include rest and later some travel.

Christison, with his wife Elizabeth, moved last week to 337 North Almenar Drive, Greenbrae, from San Carlos. He joined the bank in 1939, was made assistant manager at the Elmhurst office in Oakland in 1950 and assistant manager at the San Carlos office in 1958.

Bond Issue Mulled In Terra Linda

Terra Linda Recreation District directors have decided to ask the county counsel's help in taking the first step toward getting a bond issue before the voters.

Board Chairman Walter J. Fairweather said they asked the counsel to determine if the district had been legally formed so that it could sell bonds.

The decision was made at a special meeting Wednesday in the Bernard Hoffman School. Earlier in the evening the board met with the directors of the services district to consider a joint exercise of powers agreement.

They will also consider, at that time, how much of the $5,000 services district recreation fund will be given to the recreation board.

Talk On Will Slated

Robert M. Clark of Mill Valley, assistant trust officer of the Bank of America in San Francisco, will speak on state matters concerning wills at the noon luncheon meeting of the Mill Valley Rotary Club at the Municipal Golf clubhouse on Tuesday.

Suit Alleges Dog Attack

A Fairfax father is seeking $100,000 damages for injuries suffered on his 7-year-old daughter when she was attacked by a dog last month.

Robert Wunner of 27 Vista Way is suing in Marin Superior Court for his daughter, Susan. The Wunners allege that Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bertini of 7 Vista Way owned a "vicious dog which was accustomed to bite mankind," and let it run at large.

According to the complaint, the Bertinis' dog attacked Susan about 6 p.m. on Sept. 5. Wunner claims his daughter suffered injuries about the head, face and throat. He seeks $100,000 damages plus medical and other costs.

Apartments, Boatel Planned At Greenwood

Two large developments in the Greenwood Lagoon area on Tiburon peninsula were announced today: One to include 285 apartments with boating facilities, the other to include a 93-unit boatel, a restaurant, gas station and some specialty shops.

Both developments, in an area zoned planned residential, will come before the Marin County Planning Commission Nov. 7 and 21 for plan approval.

Costs were not disclosed in either development.

Mrs. Mary Burrell of Belvedere, president of Reedlands, Inc., which developed the Reedlands, proposes the boatel, restaurant, gas station and specialty shops, to be built on eight acres east of the Westminster Presbyterian Church. She said if the plan was approved, construction would start within a year.

Mrs. Burrell said the boatels, designed by San Francisco architect Kenneth Krueger, are planned for people to stay for weekends or a season. Each is to have a balcony, a deck and a float for a boat.

Ernest Chamberlain of the Maritime Center in Tiburon will handle the marine service, providing marine supplies and leasing and chartering boats.

The apartments, to be built by Harry Hicks and Hugo Nadaner, co-owners of Associated Contractors, Palo Alto, are to be located in about 30 low buildings on the 20 acres adjoining Mrs. Burrell's development and reaching to the Marin Conservation League property. The builders plan an immediate start if the county planning commission gives the go-ahead.

Three-fourths of the apartments would be on the water, each apartment having its own terrace over the water and docking facilities. The rest would have access to the water via a dock.

Belvedere architect John Lord King and Elmore Hutchison, civil engineer, are working together on designing the apartments. One feature will be complete separation of the living areas from the automobile parking areas, King said. There will be a swimming pool for each court in the development.

King said there would be very little change made in the lagoon but that dredging would have to be done.

Pay Request In Novato Under Study

Negotiation of a high school teacher request for a 12 per cent salary increase in the Novato Unified School District will continue through committees, trustees decided Tuesday night.

Teachers at a special meeting with trustees on Oct. 18 had requested the raise—and an answer to the request by Dec. 15.

Trustees last night agreed to formation of a committee of board members, teachers and residents, much like a salary study committee which in May brought in a series of recommendations, including a 3 per cent raise for all of the district's teachers. The 12 per cent pay hike request came from all of the district's 44 high school teachers.

On the teacher side, a committee is being formed through the Novato Teachers Assn. to study salaries. The groups are expected to meet together in an attempt to come to an agreement.

DINING OUT AND INNS

Cuisine Honoring United Nations Offered At Food Executives Affair

President Eisenhower designated last Monday night as a time to honor the cuisine of the United Nations. It was my good fortune to be invited through Gene Lackenbach to the monthly meeting of the Bay Area chapter of the Food Executives Assn. which coincided with that date, and sample an unusual menu being served throughout the country, including the White House.

The affair was held in the Hyatt House at the International Airport. This place itself is something to write about in the way of deluxe hostelries and I am sorry it isn't located in Marin.

The kitchen, without doubt, is one of the largest I have ever seen and had not catering manager David Salm been along to escort us through it from beginning to end I might still be there trying to find my way out.

I don't know how the chief executive of the land and his lady made out with the menu but if the courses were anything like those turned out by chef Hans Kolitsky I shouldn't be surprised to find a motion introduced in the Security Council to broaden U.N. powers beyond the provinces of state.

This was the order of the menu: A mixed salad from Indonesia, pea soup croutons souffle from the Netherlands, a fish souffle from Belgium with Danish tomatoes, veal paprika from Austria with creamed potatoes from Ecuador and string beans from Uruguay, Swedish rye bread and rye krisp, almond blanc manche garni from Switzerland and Brazilian coffee.

Alas, I am afraid it would only be vetoed by Russia.

There was no borsch.

FORTUNATELY for devotees of the outdoor enclosed patio at La Petite Auberge in San Rafael, the weather has held fair. Dining is pleasant. May I suggest lobster a la Francaise or brochette de filet marinated in Burgundy wine?

MONIE MULCAHY, organist at Sabella's will take to the "high Cs" with her playing on the President Cleveland when it sails for the Orient on Nov. 13.

The lady with the light touch on the keyboard who has racked up almost eight years at the 101 Highway seafood restaurant will perform aboard the Cleveland all during its six-week holiday cruise, returning just before Christmas.

GOOD NEWS for El Paseo Restaurant has come along in the form of recommendations by several of its customers to Gourmet Guide which is now seeking information from Mary and Earl Harkins preparatory to its listing.

These good people must have been inspired after tasting Earl's chicken cordon bleu with smitaine sauce made with cherries, cream and sherry wine, and Mary's pastries, salads and popovers that they could not refrain from passing on their tribute to the little spot.

It has always been a mystery to me how Mary's popovers keep rising to new heights of perpendicular inflation.

SOUNDS emanating from the Blue Rock Inn, Larkspur, at odd hours during the middle of the week may give rise to speculation that Herb Saman is working overtime at the rinky-tink piano.

If you take a quick look inside you may even be convinced Herb is hiding in a back room making like the "little man who wasn't there" by remote control.

But look again. The source of this increased plinking is a new addition—an old fashioned automatic piano moved in by Gil Freitas to supplement Herb's performance when he is off duty.

A HALLOWEEN PARTY will be given tomorrow night at the Colonel's Ranch Wagon. Costumes are in order and prizes will be awarded late in the evening. The Colonel now has parking attendants to handle cars on busy nights.

Bagley Asks 'No' On Proposition 15

William T. Bagley, Republican candidate for Assemblyman for Sonoma-Marin, today called for a "no" vote on Proposition 15 in the Nov. 8 election.

"A power grab by certain Los Angeles interests, bought onto the ballot at a cost of $200,000, Proposition 15 must be recognized for what it is and defeated," Bagley declared.

"As a practical example, the success of this proposition would reduce Marin County to one-half senator and increase Los Angeles County from one senator to seven senators."

Incentive Awards Given Employees

Everett W. Gilbert of 742 Francisco Boulevard, Bernard Mitchell of 11 Manor Court, San Rafael, and Jerry D. Pruett of Pacifica, all of the S4 maintenance division shared a $200 suggestion award.

MARIN FILM FARE

Music, Action Good At Rafael Offering

By LES DARD

RAFAEL THEATER

A couple of years ago, there was a rousing Japanese film playing in these parts entitled "The Seven Samurai." The story—transplanted to Mexico—has been lifted en toto.

The Hollywood version (Panavision, color) is now titled "The Magnificent Seven," and it opens Sunday on the San Rafael screen.

Plot deals with a Mexican village constantly terrorized by a bandit chief (Eli Wallach). To protect themselves, the people hire a group of gunmen to take care of Wallach.

The gunmen are: Yul Brynner, Charles Bronson, Steve McQueen, Horst Buchholz, Brad Dexter, James Coburn and Robert Vaughn. And the theory is that by doing good—even if it's for pay—these pistol-packing bums become better guys.

Buchholz, a star in Europe, makes his U.S. debut in this film and I can see where he could become another teen idol. Brynner is satisfactory as the star, making with a laconic expression throughout.

TAMALPAIS THEATER

For two years during World War II, a German merchant ship roamed the ocean raising havoc with Allied shipping. Flying whatever flag was convenient and carrying out its sham to the point of disguising crewmen as female passengers, it would advance on unsuspecting craft. Then, at the best moment, out would come the Swastika and the guns.

This rousing sea adventure, which involves the sinking of the raider, is titled "Under Ten Flags." It stars Charles Laughton as the shore-based admiral in charge of the trackdown, and Van Heflin as the Nazi captain of the Atlantic (that was the name of the disguised surface vessel).

The main part of this hide-and-seek sea drama is in the hands of Heflin and Laughton, the former underplaying his role, the latter being an awesome but kindlier Captain Bligh.

MOTOR MOVIES

"The Mountain Road" which opens Sunday, is a drama starring Jimmy Stewart and a lovely Chinese, Lisa Lu.

Stewart plays Major Baldwin, a man on the ragged edge from long combat, who must wipe out everything in the path of advancing Japanese. Miss Lu portrays Sue-Mei, a cultured Chinese widow. The time is 1944, the setting is the Chinese mainland.

Estimate: East meets West.

SEQUOIA THEATER

"Dark at the Top of the Stairs," (Technicolor) which opens Sunday in Mill Valley, is a touching and amusing film translation of William Inge's Broadway success.

Robert Preston stars as the head of the Flood family, a harness salesman out of a job as tin lizzies begin to fill the roads. Dorothy McGuire portrays his wife. And the central fact of their life is their marital happiness. The physical break between these two is discussed openly and on an adult level.

Estimate: One to see; for adults.

TIBURON PLAYHOUSE

Story concerns the Hunnicutt family:

Robert Mitchum, shameless philanderer; Eleanor Parker whose coldness drives him into the arms of other women; George Hamilton, their sissified son, whom the father teaches to chase two-footed game (specifically Luana Patten); George Peppard, the mysterious chief hand on their ranch.

FAIRFAX THEATER

Once upon a time in a far off place called San Rafael, Calif., someone began bottling a wine which caused no end of fiscal trouble in a tiny land named the Duchy of Grand Fenwick.

Grand Fenwick's only export was a similar wine and now, impoverished by the competition, it decided to declare war on the United States. Its hope was for quick defeat—and lots of foreign aid.

This story, a charming and happy bit of satire, was written by Leonard Wibberley, a former editor of the Independent-Journal. It's titled "The Mouse That Roared" and offers comedian Peter Sellers in three roles.

LARK THEATER

"Carry On, Nurse" is a new British comedy which establishes, beyond a doubt, that the male animal cuts a pretty sad figure when bereft of his pants. It has been held over in Larkspur.

The men's ward of a hospital serves as the setting for this romp. There is no story as such. Rather, the audience follows the day and the night antics of the patients, a zany lot at best.

The crowd enjoyed this film the night I saw it.

NOVATO THEATER

"From the Terrace," in color-CinemaScope, is a truncated version of the John O'Hara best-seller. It stars Paul Newman and Joanne Woodward and opens Sunday.

Set in the post-war years, it tells of a young man (Newman) who returns home to find his mother (Myrna Loy) a hopeless drunk, his father a vicious bully. He marries a lovely but greedy girl (Woodworth).

She spurs him to fabulous success in Wall Street—and rewards him with spiteful infidelity.

He tumbles for another girl (Ina Balin), even though his wife threatens to bar this happiness. Then, in a final splurge of nobility, Newman cuts away the web that entangles his life and solves his dilemma.

Marin Demos Plan Huge Family Picnic

Rep. Clement W. Miller and candidates Charles M. Geller and Everett A. Matzen hope to meet personally with everyone at the picnic during the day. Congressman Miller is candidate for re-election. Geller and Matzen are running, respectively, for the California State Senate and Assembly.

Besides "politickin'" there will be a chicken dinner, square and round dancing, swimming, baseball and a variety of sit-down games. There will also be horseshoe pitching and a children's Halloween costume contest.

If the weather is not sunny the whole party can move inside the big barn on the property. Children under 8 will be admitted free.

The picnic has been planned by the Marin Democratic Campaign's special events committee with Ernest Schallinger as chairman.

Ross Players' 'Mame' Is Simply Terrific

By DOROTHY SLATTERY

The Ross Valley Players have a hit on their hands.

Their production of "Auntie Mame," possibly one of the funniest plays to grace the American theater, comes across the footlights loaded with power, magic and an excellent craftsmanship fused by the deft hand of director John Brebner.

The production opened last week at the Barn of the Marin Art and Garden Center, and will run again tonight and Saturday and Nov. 3-5 at 8:30 p.m.

Marie Rogers shines in her role as the madcap, marvelously Bohemian Mame. She has the walk, wears eccentric, high-style fashion and has the aristocratic face and arched eyebrows for the part. And she can swear with a verve and still sound like a lady.

The production, along with being a marvelous piece of theater, requires a number of extravagant sets and costumes. (Mame changed interior decorators the way most women do winter coats.)

Set designer Melinda Day came through with flying colors and by cleverly using space and a wide assortment of authentic props came up with a perfect background for a woman who liked to quip, "Life is a banquet while most (ahem . . .) starve to death."

The play opens in the 1920's when the socially prominent liberal Mame Dennis suddenly inherits custody of her schoolage nephew, Patrick, the son of a stuffy, pompous tycoon.

Dave Holiday, as Beauregard Jackson Pickett Burnside, the "fine southern gentleman" who rescues Mame from the deprivation of the depression, gave an outstanding performance from the moment he sidled onto stage and found Mame behind the toy department counter at Macy's.

Percy McPartland gave a superb performance as Upson, a climbing status seeker who almost became Patrick's father-in-law, and Dorothy Schuster as Gloria Upson, the almost-bride, deserves credit for her soliloquy on a ping-pong ball.

But one of the brightest performers of the evening and one who deserves a locker room full of plaudits is Dora Blunden as the Broadway actress Vera Charles. This performer's sense of timing is terrific and she has the ability to slam home a sarcastic remark with the sting of a wasp.

Bobbie Dowd was good as the sloppy sweater clad Agnes Gooch. The child Patrick Dennis was done in a wide-eyed way by young Rickey Citti. The schoolboy Pat was portrayed by Andy Irving, and Jay Irving took over as the young man.

The show had a scene stealing moppet in the form of Duncan Holaday, who played an earthy younger brother of Mame's rival for Burnside's affection.

If you don't want to miss some terrific theater, don't miss "Mame."

Incorporation Sought By Securities Company

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Secretary of State Frank M. Jordan announced Joaquin Valley Invesment Co., a San Francisco County stock and securities company, has filed articles of incorporation with his office, to be capitalized at $2,500,000 in $1 par shares.

Directors of the company were listed as Jean Ross, 7 Sequoia Drive, San Anselmo, Lorraine Peiffer, San Francisco, and Bette L. Monte, 115 Spring Grove Avenue, San Rafael.

Questionnaire On Lunches Mailed Out

Larkspur School District parents have been mailed a questionnaire designed to determine their wishes regarding a school lunch program.

The questionnaire, approved Tuesday night by the board of trustees, asks the parents if they are willing to pay 40 cents per lunch, how regularly their children will eat in the cafeteria, whether they prefer frozen or kitchen-prepared lunches, and how many children in the family can be expected to eat each day.

Since the beginning of the current school year no lunches have been served in the district's schools. Last year frozen lunches were served daily in the Henry C. Hall school and three times a week in the Neil Cummins and Larkspur-Corte Madera schools.

Mervin Gootherts, principal of Hall School, told the board last night it would cost $2,142 to equip the school cafeteria to serve kitchen-cooked meals. Of this amount, $1,060 would be paid by the state, Gootherts said.

Cuba Reported Heavily Armed

HAVANA (UPI) — Mounting shipments of arms from behind the Iron Curtain have made Cuba one of the most heavily armed nations of its size in the world, it was reported today.

Reliable informants said arms received from the Reds include tanks and artillery — and probably jet planes —from Russia, 100,000 Czech rifles and large quantities of machine guns.

The coastline of Pinar Del Rio Province, West of Havana, bristles with naval gun emplacements. The former American mining area at Moa Bay in eastern Cuba has been closed to civilians and apparently is being converted into a major military base.

The government has ordered a tight military alert to support its charge that a U.S.-supported invasion can be expected momentarily. Precautions in force include sporadic blackouts of coastal highways around Havana.

Premier Fidel Castro has not appeared publicly here for nearly two weeks, and his whereabouts are unknown.

Castro's brother Raul, Cuba's armed forces minister, has been out of sight even longer than the premiere. Reports circulating here said he has established headquarters at San Luis, near Moa Bay, where Russian and Czech technicians are schooling him in military stategy and tactics.

Flowering Tree Collector's Item

STERLING, Colo. (UPI)— Chief Custodian Willis Benz is worried about the Xanthoceras sorbifolia Bunge on the courthouse square.

Word got around that it is the only one of its kind in Colorado, and souvenir hunters have been stripping its lower extremities. In event you don't know, Xanthoceras sorbifolia Bunge is a rare flowering tree.

Give Them Time

NEW YORK (UPI)—Don't expect too much of a new parakeet. The birds are sensitive to their surroundings and it usually takes them a few days to adjust.

Until they do, they probably will act timid and drowsy.

NOT A HINT OF LINT ON HAMILTON RUNWAYS

If the little woman is hinting for a new vacuum cleaner for Christmas, take a cue from Hamilton Air Force Base.

The base is the proud owner of an eight-ton, 30-foot long, 11-foot high, 8-foot wide vacuum cleaner.

It snuffles along the base's jet runways, sucking up odd bolts, gravel, bottles, bricks and debris to prevent damage to jet engines which might inhale them. It can clean a million square feet an hour.

There's a drawback, though. Air Force officials admit it must make additional passes to suck up those nasty particles of fine sand, which are the bane of every housewife.

Fractions Count In Rifle Shoot

Young Charlie won the recent 20th annual Cataloochie rifle shoot by putting three shots into a circle the size of a silver dollar from 60 yards away.

The youngster learned well. His father was runnerup, his worst shot being an eighth of an inch away from his son's.

Fairfax Hearing Due On Zoning Ordinance

A public hearing will be held Nov. 21 on Fairfax's proposed 50-page new zoning ordinance, it was decided at a meeting of the Fairfax Planning Commission last night.

Copies of the ordinance were provided by the city clerk. It culminates five years of work by the city planner and is designed to rezone most of Fairfax, changing the present residential and commercial areas into six divisions.

Capt. Daniel M. Miller of 245 Marinda Drive, Fairfax was elected new chairman of the commission, replacing Stanley Wilsey, who has been appointed to the Fairfax City Council.

A second vacancy on the nine-member commission was created through receipt of a letter of resignation from Everett J. Jensen. The commission unanimously agreed to send a letter of commendation to Jensen.

Permission was granted J. B. Williams of 45 Woodland Avenue, San Rafael, to build two duplexes on the old railroad right of way opposite St. Rita's Church and for Lloyd D. Lenhard of 34 Arroyo Road to remodel his home into a duplex.

As the next regular meeting date falls on Thanksgiving Day, Nov. 24, the commission set its next Tuesday for Nov. 17.

From the founding of Arkansas until 1872, Arkansas governors were inaugurated the same year they were elected.

Bolinas Harbor Unit Will Hire Financial Aides

The Bolinas Harbor District board last night voted to retain Stone and Youngberg, San Francisco financial consultants, to do preliminary financial work on the district's development of a small craft harbor in Bolinas Lagoon.

District president Gene McDaniel said no time limit was set for the work. The contract calls for total payment of $2,500.

It was announced that McDaniel and Lee Sefton will run for the two vacancies on the board. Incumbent McDaniel resides at Bolinas. Sefton, an attorney who lives at Stinson Beach, will run for the post now held by Fred Thompson of Stinson Beach, who is not seeking another term. Thompson, one of the original commissioners, has served five years on the board.

The county clerk's office said today that there will be a separate ballot in the Nov. 8 election to carry the names of McDaniel and Sefton. Normally, when there is no opposition, appointment is automatic but the harbor district comes under a special voting provision. The term is for four years.

Gate Span Aide Is Authorized

Creation of a new position of "administrative assistant" was authorized today by directors of the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District.

Duties of the assistant are to be defined later by the board.

The proposal for creation of this job, its pay and duties not specified, was put before the directors by general manager James Adam who said it was required "for the proper conduct of the district." Approval was promptly voted.

The board was advised of the death from a heart attack this morning of Maurice Moskovitz, director from San Francisco since November of 1950. It adjourned as a mark of respect.

Electrical Inspector Hearing Ends

A two-day hearing for county electrical inspector Harry Grieb, who was laid off because of job cutbacks, wound up last night before the County Personnel Commission.

Commission Chairman Julius Selinger said the case will be taken under submission and a recommendation turned in to the County Board of Supervisors as soon as possible.

Grieb has worked as building inspector (specializing in electrical) for 14 years. County Public Works Director Marvin W. Brigham says only three county building inspectors are now needed because Novato incorporated. The three would handle electrical, plumbing, and structural. Since there is another electrical inspector with more seniority on the staff, Grieb was dismissed.

Grieb, represented by attorney Roderick P. Martinelli, contends that he could work as structural inspector. Brigham testified that Grieb is qualified in electrical work but not in structural. The county already has one structural inspector.

Brigham said he would have to release one plumbing inspector too, because there are two in that category.

Garety Says Police Don't Lack Incentive

Dist. Atty. Roger P. Garety, who spoke to the council of mayors Wednesday, explained today the made no statement on "lack of incentive among police officers."

A news story in Wednesday's paper made it sound as if he were critical of police officers, which is not the case, Garety said.

To get and keep officers of high caliber in police work, there must be some incentive, Garety said. In certain areas, scholarships are made available to encourage officers to continue specialized training. Promotions should be based on ability, and not entirely on length of service, he contended.

"Hoodlums, gamblers, suede shoe operators and people of that ilk are ready to descend on us if there is apathy and weakness in law enforcement," Garety said.

property taxpayers and the legislature. The most equitable financing for them, he said, would be an aviation gas tax, but the big airlines are fighting such a proposal.

The proposed realignment of the Shoreline Highway from Highway 101 to Stinson Beach came in for a great deal of discussion today.

Joseph Sinclair, assistant state highway engineer, said "since no agency is willing to support it, it is being held in inactive status. Until we can get some support, we're going to work somewhere else."

T. Fred Bagshaw of Mill Valley, assistant director of the Department of Public Works, said the project will not be abandoned, but pressure against continuing it is coming in from "all over the world." He said he'd had letters from England, France and many other parts of the world, arguing in general against destroying the beauties of the coast of Marin and Mount Tamalpais, and "we didn't have much support."

Chairman Walter R. Castro of the Marin Board of Supervisors insisted his board had been urging the project, and Supervisor James Marshall said he was expecting a proposal for making the road into a parkway.

Sinclair answered that "our study is compatible with a scenic highway. What we propose is just what you ask for."

The supervisors unit of the REA was expected to take up the proposal this afternoon.

Sinclair also reviewed construction projects planned and under way in the Marin and Redwood Empire area. Arthur Hayler, district highway engineer, reported on the proposed landscaping of the Vista Point. In response to a question by Richard L. Shirley, manager of the San Rafael Chamber of Commerce, he said an information center could be added.

OBITUARIES

Former City Postmaster Succumbs

Marion Welton, a lifelong resident of Marin County and former postmaster of San Rafael, died Wednesday at her home, 710 Belle Avenue, San Rafael. She had been ill for some time.

Coroner Frank Keaton said she apparently died in her sleep of natural causes, but an autopsy was to be performed today. She was found in bed by a friend, Miss Alice Johnson of 79 Woodland Avenue.

Mrs. Welton was named postmaster on the death of her husband, James. She was a nursing graduate of the former College Hospital, now San Rafael General, and was office nurse for Dr. Charles Marston of San Rafael for 17 years.

Mrs. Welton (then Mrs. Day) became acting postmaster in July, 1939, succeeding her second husband, Tom Day, on his death. She served until April, 1940, when she was succeeded by Charles Hilary Hayden.

She later married James F. Welton, a telephone company executive, who died about six years ago. She was the widow of George Kauffman when she married Day.

Mrs. Welton was born in Novato and was graduated from San Rafael High School.

She is survived by a sister, Mrs. Virginia N. Brusher of Oakland; a brother, Joseph Gambetta of Vallejo, and a grandson, George Robert Kaufman, in the Navy.

She was a charter member of the Young Ladies Institute, Lagan Institute, Catholic Daughters of America and St. Raphael's Ladies Aid Society.

A Solemn Requiem High Mass will be sung at 9:30 a.m. tomorrow at St. Raphael's Church, San Rafael. The cortege will form at 9:15 a.m. at Keaton's Mortuary. Interment will be in Mt. Olivet Cemetery.

The Rosary will be recited at 8 p.m. today at the Keaton Chapel.

Woodrow W. Popp, San Rafael, Dies

The body of Woodrow Wilson Popp, 47, was found in his apartment at 908 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael, yesterday.

Mrs. Marjorie M. Norman, the landlady, discovered Popp unconscious or lifeless about 1:15 p.m. She called county welfare workers, who summoned a doctor from the county medical office. The doctor pronounced Popp dead.

The body was taken to Keaton's Mortuary, where certification of cause of death awaited pathological tests. There was no indication of other than natural causes.

Coroner Frank J. Keaton said Popp had been a private in the field artillery in World War II. Since the war he had worked as a maintenance man and laborer.

He is survived by a sister, Mrs. Betty Mulligan of Helm, Fresno County.

Clara E. Wallace, Belvedere, Dies

Mrs. Clara E. Wallace of Belvedere died yesterday at a San Francisco sanatorium after a short illness. She was 74.

She had lived in Belvedere for the past 10 years, making her home at 7-E Beach Road.

A native of Rochester, Pa., Mrs. Wallace came to California about 30 years ago, living in Alhambra before moving to the Bay Area. She was a member of the First Church of Christ Scientist in Belvedere.

Surviving her are two sons, Joseph B. Wallace of Belvedere and Howard Wallace of Cleveland; a sister, Mrs. Dorothy Wojanis of Huntington Park, and seven grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held at Russell and Gooch Mortuary in Mill Valley at 2 p.m. Monday. Inurnment will be at Cypress Lawn, Colma.

George Oliver Jr. Rites Tomorrow

Funeral services will be held tomorrow for George D. (Jack) Oliver Jr., who died in his Greenbrae home Wednesday.

The coroner's office reported that the 58-year-old sales manager for the U.S. Wood Products Co. of San Francisco died of a heart attack.

Services will be held at 11:30 a.m. in Keaton's Mortuary, Fifth and E Streets, San Rafael. Inurnment will be private.

A native of Hobart Mills, California, Oliver moved to Marin County four years ago. He lived at 290 Vista Grande in Greenbrae.

Survivors are his wife, Shirley, a son Robert D. Oliver, a daughter, Arleigh Johnson; two brothers, T. K. Oliver of Medford, Ore., and C. M. Oliver of Carson City, Nev., and three grandchildren.

BUS DEPOT SUGGESTED FOR SAUSALITO

A citizens committee headed by Mrs. W. H. Washbourne is seeking a bus depot for Sausalito to be located at Bridgeway near Bay Street. This tentative drawing of a proposed station suggests a round depot, 15 feet in diameter, with space for a ticket agent and a small news and vendor shop, to cost about $2,000. Sketch is by Sausalito architect Charles E. Finney. The kiosk could be expanded to accommodate a taxi station, with taxis parking in the rear.

Auto Jumps Curb, Kills Five At Busy Chicago Crosswalk

CHICAGO (AP)—A car driven by a woman who said she blacked out jumped a sidewalk and ripped through a crowd of pedestrians last night, killing five and hurling their bodies across a busy downtown intersection.

Three persons, including the driver, were injured.

Dead and injured were thrown 25 feet as the car scooped up pedestrians and careened across the intersection at Randolph and Franklin Streets, at the west edge of the Loop.

One of the fatally injured pedestrians was sprayed with boiling tar when the careening car struck a two-wheeled hearing cart towed by a roofing firm truck.

The car, carrying some victims on its hood, then struck another car and both veered side by side out of control.

One body was found jammed beneath the second car which finally smashed to a halt.

Tour Operators Ask For Places To Sleep

I-J Special Report

SANTA ROSA — Tour bus operators told businessmen of the Redwood Empire yesterday that they need more and better sleeping accommodations and restaurants if they want to attract more tourists.

C. D. Kirkpatrick, vice president of Pacific Greyhound Lines, and James Mulpeters of Gray Line, Inc., told the wayside enterprises unit of the Redwood Empire Assn., that local businessmen should "take better care" of the tourists after they arrive.

Kirkpatrick pointed out that most of Greyhound's tours through the area originated in San Francisco or Los Angeles and are headed for the Pacific Northwest, or originate in Seattle and swing through the redwoods on their way to the southern Utah parks.

"We're not able to include an overnight stop in the redwoods because there isn't any place to stay," he said. "People don't want to sleep in a city; they'd like to be out in the redwoods, if that is what they came to see."

It is the same as to restaurants, he went on. Tourists would like to eat among the trees, to be able to walk out and touch a few of them. But such facilities aren't available for a bus load of people at a time, he claimed.

Another problem is coordination of tours with the facilities that are available, he declared. The hotel operators and the tour operators just aren't getting together to make use of accommodations.

Mulpeters said his company does not have many tours that go into the Redwood Empire because Gray Lines mostly concentrates on one-day tours. The firm operates tours to Muir Woods in Marin County. Other redwood groves are too far away for a one-day trip, he said.

Don Emerson, REA president and himself a hotel operator in Lake County, presided over the session. He called upon restaurant and hotel operators to expand and improve the facilities along the Redwood Highway.

The REA's small boat harbor committee heard Lachlan M. Richards, chief of the State Division of Small Craft Harbors, review the status of the seven small boat harbor projects planned in the area.

He said Marin's two projects, the dredging of the Richardson Bay channel for the County of Marin, and the construction of a small boat harbor by the City of Mill Valley, are awaiting a land appraisal of the area.

The two projects are tied together, he noted, with the Mill Valley project not possible unless the county project is also completed.

Feasibility studies for both projects are under way but are being held up pending the land appraisal, he said. Each is a $300,000 project.

The aviation unit of the association passed two resolutions yesterday, aimed at making an airport program self-sustaining through an aviation gasoline tax. Both went to the supervisors unit today for consideration.

One resolution called on the legislature to enact a law setting up the aviation fuel tax to "provide financing for the orderly development of a system of airports in cooperation with local political subdivisions" on a basis similar to the automobile gas tax.

The second called upon the California Supervisors Assn. to direct its staff to assist the governor and the legislature in passing such a proposal.

Dear Doctor:
Please accept my thanks for the very friendly reception extended to me last week by you and the other members of the Society who are participating in the letter campaign on behalf of Mr. Bagley.
The cooperation of you and your colleagues is, of course, the real key to the success of the campaign and we want you to know that your help is genuinely appreciated.
Confirming the program which was outlined, the following suggestions are made:
1. Addressing of envelopes to patients living in the 7th Assembly District (Marin-Sonoma) should begin promptly. These may include current and current-inactive listings. A No. 10 envelope is suggested.
2. Because this is extra work, the Physicians' Committee will pay five cents for each envelope addressed. The Committee will also provide the cost of postage.
3. Nothing is to be done by your office on the letter - only be sure to have enough of your blank letterheads available to be picked up along with the addressed envelopes.
4. The envelopes and corresponding number of blank letterheads should be ready to be picked up on October 24th or 25th. Your personnel will be reimbursed at that time.
5. At that time, also, we will need two copies of the signature that will be printed on the letter. Please sign these on your office stationery in red or black ink so that they may be properly reproduced and readily identified.
Should you or your personnel have any questions, please call Doctor Cedric Johnson at LI 6-3816, or the Public Health League office in San Francisco at GRaystone 4-1061, and I will contact you.
Again, many thanks for your help in this important undertaking.

Released Felons Should Get Vote, But Not Automatically

Living in a community which contains a major penal institution, we realize the great efforts made at rehabilitation of lawbreakers in California.

We can understand the concern and the interest of the sponsors of Proposition 8 on the November ballot in proposing that all felons, except those convicted of treason or misappropriating public funds, be able to lead a normal life after being rehabilitated. One facet of leading a normal life is the right to vote.

Proposition 8 would automatically give to persons who have served their sentences, including probation or parole, the right to vote. At present they can not regain their voting privilege unless pardoned by the governor or by going through a complicated citizenship restoration procedure set up in the Penal Code.

We'd like to see worthy, rehabilitated lawbreakers have their voting rights returned. But we don't believe it should be automatic. Completion of a sentence does not mean rehabilitation, as the huge percentage of criminals returned to prison proves.

Yet there should be some practical way in which a man could regain his right to vote.

As we said, we do not think that automatic return of this privilege is the proper method and thus urge a No vote on Proposition 8. We hope the proposition is defeated and then the legislature comes up with a fair way in which a rehabilitated man can acquire his voting privilege again.

PROPOSITION 10 puts us in a quandary. It is a complicated multi-purpose piece of legislation dealing with that most obstuse of all governmental processes, the administration of justice.

It would create a reasonable method of removing or retiring judges for willful misconduct in office, failure to perform his duties, or habitual intemperance. Some such method has long been needed.

It also increases the size of the Judicial Council, sets up a Commission on Judicial Qualifications, provides that the State Bar of California be made a public corporation with perpetual existence and requires the membership of all lawyers in the state.

Unfortunately, the proposition also provides that the Commission on Judicial Qualifications, which hears the charges brought to remove or retire a judge meets in secret. Not until the commission passes the charges along to the Supreme Court for final decision is the public allowed to know what is transpiring.

This smacks too much of Star Chamber proceedings. We believe the public has the right to know what charges are brought against an elected official, regardless of the decision of the commission.

We would hate to oppose a proposition which sets up a needed procedure for removal of unfit judges. Yet we can not support a proposition which puts into our constitution secret meetings such as this.

On Proposition 10, we have no recommendation.

Bird Signs Of Autumn

Autumn is here and Nature proclaims the fact in numerous ways. Among the signs of the changing seasons are the habits of the birds.

In the Spring and Summer, while the birds are mating and nesting, they lead a rather solitary family life. But in the Autumn and Winter, birds like the bush tits and sparrows flock together in a gregarious social life. Families of quail are an exception to this rule because the parents join together during the summer in order to do better sentry duty on their chicks.

Already the bush tits are traveling around in excitable, peeping, fluttering flocks of plump, tiny fellows. The dignified cedar waxwings arrived in Marin over a month ago in bunches and are now adorning berry bushes and hawthorns.

Flowers are not as numerous as they were in midsummer and the hummingbirds are taking increased interest in sapsucker borings.

There are other signs too, including the migrations of waterfowl.

Just as our human habits are altered by changes of season, so too are bird habits.

Yearning To Learn How To Live? Household Pets Can Help You

NEW YORK (AP) — If you want to learn how to live, get yourself a cat.

When you first get a new pet of any kind, you usually have a complacent feeling that you can teach it a thing or two.

Sometime later, you find to your surprise, you are the one being taught. Your pet teaches you more than you teach it.

Everyone in our family—my wife, Frances; my 7-year-old daughter, Tracy Ann, and myself — has learned something from her.

What can a mere cat teach a human being?

First of all she can teach the value of a life of dignity without self-pity.

Lady Dottie, like all cats, is a four-footed island of self-respect. She may compromise, but she never surrenders. She allows no outsider to violate her dignity, and she never violates it herself by feeling sorry for herself.

She yearns for no expensive toys. A box from the department store will keep her happy for two full days.

Watching her play one day, I observed aloud:

"You know, I really envy Lady Dottie."

"Oh, don't feel that way about it, Rover," said my wife. "If you want a paper box, I can get you one, too."

By nature, Lady Dottie was probably meant to roam the woodland as a wild thing. She is now a kind of a prisoner in an apartment.

For about 15 minutes each morning she likes to go out in the hallway. Then she comes back and paws at the door to be let back in.

She has seen enough of the strange outside world. She is happy to return.

Besides demonstrating the art of making the best out of what life presents, Lady Dottie also teaches another important thing — the virtue of living in the present.

SHE NEVER PINES over the sorrows of the past, or broods over the terrors of the future. She lives intensely in each moment.

When awake she is alive to the majesty inherent in every instant. She sleeps as if she had eternity at her disposal.

THESE ARE a few of the lessons in living Lady Dottie has taught us.

Sanitary District Item Not Right

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

You recently published a story about the Las Gallinas Valley Sanitary District, which has just come to my attention. In this story you state there have been complaints that "The Marin Sanitary Service is making a disproportionate profit," and that I "won election to the board on a platform promising to obtain a bigger (franchise) percentage" for the district.

These statements are not accurate. In the first place, no one I know of has charged the service with exacting an exorbitant profit. Secondly, I did not promise to obtain either a "bigger percentage" or more money for the district from the service, and neither did any other candidate in the recent board election.

I did raise the question as to whether the sanitary board has fulfilled all its responsibilities to the residents of the district and to the Marin Sanitary Service in the board's management of the 10-year exclusive franchise contract between the service and the district. I raised this question because there have been entirely too many misunderstandings about the service's rates and about the financial relationship between the Marin Sanitary Service and the sanitary district. These misunderstandings are contributing to the serious illegal dumping problem in our district.

After my election, on Oct. 13, I proposed that the board cause a limited audit of the service, as a preliminary step to clarifying the applicable district ordinances and simplifying the accounting between the district and the service. The service has repeatedly stated it would welcome an audit for any purpose. I felt that an audit of the first three months of the district's current fiscal year was called for so that any steps the board and the service might jointly take to clear up the misunderstandings which have arisen will be based upon unimpeachable facts.

Regrettably, it is difficult to raise legitimate questions about the management of a contract (financial and otherwise) without such questions being construed by some as allegations of dishonesty and corruption, and I felt that in fairness to the service and to the board a limited audit was essential to clearing the air.

The board has now decided by a vote of 3 to 2 against an audit, because of its expense. I want to emphasize that the amount of money involved in the payments to the district by the service is small. This fact was quite naturally persuasive to the majority of the board and would have been equally determinative with me had I regarded the recovery of moneys for the district as the only consideration.

I sincerely hope that the board's decision that no audit is reasonably necessary will end all questions about the good faith of the Marin Sanitary Service.

I feel sure that the board will do everything else it can to clear up the misunderstandings which have arisen and to avoid such misunderstandings in the future, and I know that the service will continue to co-operate with the board to this end.

I am confident that the board will also take some reasonable measures in the near future to mitigate our illegal dumping problem.

Property Tax Going Too High

EDITOR,
Independent-Journal:

In response to Walter Seavey's (School Tax For New Houses?) letter printed Oct. 20, I fail to see where he has made his point. In fact, if you were to follow his logic, it would suggest that a "school tax" be levied at the maternity ward of every hospital. This, too, of course, is ridiculous.

If we accept the definition that taxation is a means by which to collect funds to meet the general needs of a complex society and the theory of taxation is to spread to those both served and capable of paying, it should be obvious that real estate is upholding a staggering burden.

I think the school board is in earnest in their bid to seek additional funds. I think they underestimate the intelligence of the voters, however, in attempting to hold a separate election. Such a waste of the taxpayers' funds deserves little support.

Now I admit that as long as the attitude prevails in this county that we should give lip service to industry locating here, but in fact render no cooperation and create superfluous obstacles to these interests, we must be willing to pay the resultant costs to keep them out. Industry creates a tax base to ease the pressure on residential areas.

Another source of revenue to our county tax collector is the tourist business. It's rather technical to explain in this short letter, but when you see the results of what 15 tourists a day can spend in a community, it can be compared on an equal footing with an industry having a $100,000 annual payroll.

Additional costs placed on new construction is merely passed on to the eventual owner. When my children do get through school, I want them to be able to buy their own home. This would be impossible if we stand by and let costs and prices skyrocket.

Apology, Correction On Reader's Letter

Inadvertent and inexplicable insertion of a "not" in a letter Monday by Robert Kitchak of Novato, changed the meaning of the first sentence in his closing paragraph.

Reader Kitchak's original letter said "I do think it is wrong to try to cover up or hide this information," referring to criticism of official U.S. action. His printed letter erroneously reversed this opinion indicating he does "not" think it is wrong.

The I-J apologizes to Reader Kitchak.

Theatrical maestro Sam Harris once bought a play because he heard an outstanding dramatic star of the period, Arnold Daly, reading it to a group, and found himself profoundly moved by it. It turned out to be one of the most dismal failures of his career. "This has been a valuable lesson to me," said Harris. "This is what I get for letting a $2,000-a-week actor read a drama for me and getting a $100-a-week actor to play it!"

Russel Crouse recalls the story of a man whose wife presented him with eight daughters in a row. When the ninth baby turned out to be a boy, the delirious father went on a week-long celebration that broke several records.

On the seventh day somebody asked him, "Who does it look like: you or your wife?" "I don't know," admitted the proud parent happily. "We haven't looked at his face yet."

Kids Liked Typing, Teachers, Or Nothing In Reed Summer School

With the Reed Union School District trustees scheduled to begin discussions soon of the 1961 summer school program, district taxpayers who are interested in this program should avail themselves of the comprehensive evaluation and recommendation report made after this year's program.

A questionnaire was sent to the parents of the children attending and another given to the children. Recommendations for improvement were requested. It is the answers received from the children that we feel will brighten your evening's reading.

IN ANSWER to the question "What do you like best about summer school?" 44 replied "typing"; 5 "nothing"; 2 "teachers." Among miscellaneous answers were "getting out," "everything" and "kids."

When asked "What do you like least about summer school?", 14 replied "nothing"; 11, "getting up so early"; 5, "teacher"; and the miscellaneous answers ranged from "walking to bus," "children" to "social studies."

Typing was suggested by 30 as being what they would like to have in summer school next year, along with one suggestion of "cuter teachers." Also suggested were "harder work," "all play," "ice skating," "studies of the heart" (whether scientific or not was not specified), and "short recess."

HONEST ANSWERS to the question "Why did you go to summer school this year?" were "mother made me" by 18 students; "so I won't have to plant bushes," "I needed it," "meet new friends." 21 answered "to learn" and 19 with "typing."

The most interesting answers were in reply to the question "What did you learn in the past four weeks that you did not know before?"

They are "that other children don't know fractions," "a lot," "never to go again," "clay," "different things." 46 answered "typing" and 16 with "nothing."

PARENTAL ANSWERS to the question "what did you like about summer school" were revealing, too.

Eight answered "kept children occupied" and seven said "summer vacation is too long," while six admitted "kept children busy." Under suggested changes, recommendations were "include kindergarteners," "no radio or comic books," "eliminate recreation," "longer day" and a four-hour day beginning at 8:30 a.m.

Some of the recommendations which trustees will consider for next year's program are: having a "gifted child" class of 10-15 children that have been previously screened by the school psychologist and teachers so that a "special deluxe" program could be offered; keep remedial classes to 15 or less; budget funds for arts and crafts materials and recreational equipment for at least 300 children.

THE DISTRICT'S staff opinion is that the providing of bus service to students at the summer school was one of the factors in the over 300-student enrollment. They also recommended that trustees study the request for a foreign language program for seventh and eighth graders.

For those of you who are interested in this program, be sure and get to trustee meetings when the subject is discussed. Criticism is welcomed by the board when they can do somethng about it . . . not after they have made their decisions.

Trustee meetings are held the second and fourth Tuesday evenings monthly, usually in the Reed School multipurpose room and always promptly at 8 p.m. Let's see some new faces other than teachers and your reporter at the meetings.

ROSCOE DRUMMOND

Why Are Candidates So Far Apart On Matter Of Prestige?

WASHINGTON — Neither presidential candidate is helping us very much to decide the question: Is U. S. prestige around the world high or low, good or bad, rising or falling?

Judging the level of national prestige is about as scientific as guessing the number of beans in a bag or predicting how many mice will be in orbit next year.

So far Richard Nixon and Jack Kennedy have been offering extremely partisan, all-right and all-wrong conclusions which bear little relationship to reality: Nixon that "prestige" is at an all-time high and rising, Kennedy that it is perilously low and falling.

We are left with the impression that they are talking about two different things and two different worlds.

HOW CAN TWO such intelligent individuals be so far apart? Is this just the vice of "campaign oratory," or is there a better explanation of how they can be so far apart?

If you are confused about the status of U. S. prestige because Kennedy and Nixon are so far apart on it, don't be worried. You're normal. There are good reasons for this confusion:

1—National prestige cannot be measured by statisticians or statistics. The economists can measure the economic GNP (gross national product—total value of goods and services). But statesmen have no trustworthy means of measuring the diplomatic GNP (gross national prestige —total value of influence and esteem). It is a commodity easy to talk about, hard to assess.

2—Is there a fixed volume of prestige in the world? Thus if one country gains some prestige, must another country or group of countries lose prestige? I doubt it, although some of the political debate makes it look that way.

AFTER DEVASTATION of World War II, which left the United States economically unimpaired, many countries have achieved great economic recovery and advancement.

Russia and Red China are far stronger today than in 1945. So are Britain, Germany, France, all of Western Europe and Japan. They have moved up faster economically than the U. S. because they were down so much lower.

Because America's principal allies are vastly better off today and are able to share more in aiding the developing countries, it does not follow that U. S. prestige is lower.

3—There is another important factor in this equation of gross national prestige. Nixon leaves the impression that everything that has gone well in the world is a U. S. government success. Kennedy leaves the impression that everything that has gone badly in the world is a U. S. government failure. Neither is true.

Much that goes on in the world has little or no relationship to anything the U. S. does or fails to do.

IT CAN BE WELL argued, I think, that in being asked to cast our votes on the basis of rising or declining national prestige, we are being confronted with the wrong standard.

National prestige is very closely related to national popularity and this cold war is not a popularity contest. The U. S. may lose popularity and prestige by doing the wrong thing.

Isn't it more important that U. S. policy should be inner-directed than outer-directed and that our first objective is being true to ourselves, true to our highest sense of right? Then prestige will be added unto us.

MODEL LEGISLATURE

Marin Has Chance To Put Boy Governor In Capitol

Marin County may have a boy governor in Sacramento next February at the YMCA's 13th annual Model Legislature, if 17-year-old Terry Wade, Redwood High School senior, wins an election this weekend.

Terry, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wade, 17 Bretano Way, Greenbrae, will be Marin YMCA's candidate for governor, running against three other teen-age gubernatorial hopefuls from other parts of the state.

Candidates for this and five other legislative offices will be voted upon at an election tomorrow on the Stanford University campus, where 500 teen-agers from 35 Northern California YMCAs will gather for the first of several pre-legislative training conferences, leading up to their full-dress experience as lawmakers in the state capitol in February.

About 40 teen-agers from Marin YMCA will accompany Terry to Stanford and campaign for his election. They will also receive advice from adult experts on how to go about developing legislation which they must write for the citizen training event.

Each candidate for boy governor will deliver a speech. Terry's will be on "Proposed Changes in the Educational Curriculum." In preparing his material, he has received help from two experts: State Senator John F. McCarthy, and Chapin A. Day, Independent-Journal editor and political writer.

It is estimated that the U.S. Merchant Marine contributes more than $5 billion a year to the nation's economy.

Play Equipment Purchase Urged

The Corte Madera Parks and Recreation Commission Wednesday night decided to recommend to the Town Council acquisition of playground equipment for a proposed school site in Mariners Cove. The Larkspur School District is expected to acquire the site.

The commission also recommended that excess fill left over from filling in the two southern areas of the town park be used for the baseball field area.

The commissioners had their first look at a planting plan for the southern areas of the park, submitted by landscape architects Royston, Hanamoto and Mayes of San Francisco.

Shall the Marin Municipal Water System Become:

—AN APOTHECARY FOR MEDICINALS?
—A CLINIC FOR MEDICAL EXPERIMENTATION?
—A DISPENSARY FOR MEDICAL TREATMENT?

Your answer to the above questions and to the questions below should determine your vote on proposition B (Fluoridation)

Proponents and opponents of fluoridation of the public water supply have been and still are engaged in debating the merits or demerits of fluoridation. Such debates tend to obscure and divert thought from the broader and far reaching issue underlying fluoridation. That issue is whether a public water system should be used as a vehicle to introduce and enforce mass medical treatment. We maintain that if all which the proponents of fluoridation claim for it were true, Proposition B should nevertheless be defeated.

That fluoridation constitutes unsolicited and involuntary medical treatment was indicated in a recent St. Louis court decision. According to a United Press release, which appeared in the October 14, 1960 issue of the Independent-Journal (San Rafael), a St. Louis court, "tossing out a law calling for fluoridation, said: 'The County Council cannot compel everyone in the County to submit to dental treatment.'"

1. Do you believe that each individual should have freedom of choice to treat his health as he deems best?

If your answer to this question is "Yes," you should vote "No" on Proposition "B," because fluoridation of the public water supply does not give one such freedom of choice.

● Many dentists are uncertain as to whether or not fluoridation is an aid to teeth of pre-teenage children, as is alleged by proponents of fluoridation. These dentists regard fluoridation as a medical experiment.

2. Do you want the Marin Municipal Water System to be used as a clinic for medical experimentation?

If your answer to this question is "No," you should vote "No" on Proposition "B."

● Sodium fluoride is a medicament which is placed in water, not to treat or affect the water, as chlorine or other water disinfectants do, but rather to treat and affect a part of the human anatomy, children's teeth. This is medical treatment! That fluoridation is medical treatment is admitted by the proponents of fluoridation. In their "Argument for Fluoridation Initiative," which officially accompanied our ballots last June, a group calling itself the "Children's Dental Health Committee of Marin County" stated that, "Fluoridation is preventive medicine."

3. Do you believe that the public water supply is a proper place for one to obtain medicine?

If your answer to this question is "No," you you should vote "No" on Proposition "B."

4. Are you in favor of compulsory mass medical treatment?

If your answer to this question is "No," you you should vote "No" on Proposition "B."

Seeds Of Eucalyptus Trees Given Out Here

No less authority than B. G. Dawson, Australian government trade commissoner, vouches for this, and has taken action to improve the situation still more.

Starting an enthusiasts' experiment to grow more and different eucalypti in Marin and three neighbor countries, he has given 100 free packets of seeds to eager members of District 4A, California Garden Clubs.

Idea was that the women scurried off to their homes following their quarterly meeting yesterday at the Art and Garden Center in Ross, and presumably all started growing eucalypti.

This is a good idea, averred Dawson, because of the especially favorable setting here.

"It seems to be mostly the damp air at night that does it," he said. "Fog helps. The trees are expert at taking in moisture through their leaves and they love it here."

Mrs. J. Paul Hurd of 40 Country Club Drive, Mill Valley, who is co-director for Marin County of the state organization, started the project by going to Dawson's office in San Francisco and asking his cooperation on the clubs' study of Australian plants.

Dawson promptly arranged with the Department of Agriculture in New South Wales to provide seeds from the Royal Botanical Gardens in Melbourne and Sydney.

These he delivered, with a talk, at yesterday's meeting which included representatives of 39 clubs in Marin, Contra Costa, Alameda and San Francisco Counties, comprising District 4-A.

EDUCATION SERIES

Must Get Pupils To Ask Questions

A teacher's big job is not to give answers so much as to get children to ask questions, a San Francisco State College professor suggested last night at the College of Marin.

"The most exciting thing in the world is when children really want to find things out," Dr. Edith Merritt, head of the elementary education department at the college, declared.

Dr. Merritt spoke in the fourth session of a six-week course on "Public Education: Criticisms and Issues." She answered questions on criticisms of elementary schools.

"Give children a chance to explore in depth," Dr. Merritt urged. A good unit in the primary grades doesn't deal primarily with facts, she said. Its purpose is to get the child to think and realize there are more questions in the world than you can think of, she told the class.

Children should be taught how to identify a problem, how to get the facts about it, and what to do about it when they get the facts, she stressed.

You can get children to memorize facts, Dr. Merritt noted, but you have to get them to do something about the facts.

The professor noted that by state law American history is taught in fifth and eighth grades, high school and college. "Something is wrong with our teaching that we have to do it so many times. The big problems of the world are not of history but of economics," she said.

Children need to be getting something about economics, sociology, anthropology, Dr. Merritt said.

In social studies the facts don't stay the same, she said. "You have to teach in such a way that children can keep on accumulating facts and know how to discard the old ones," she commented.

In a discussion of grouping, Dr. Merritt noted that the reason for grouping in a classroom was a "teacher reason" and not a "child reason." In the opinion of many, it's the best way to handle a situation, and an economical way of teaching, but it won't solve problems, the professor said.

There is no such thing as "the" way to group children, she said. "We have to think of several patterns of grouping. Maybe we have to do some kind of adjustments in the classrooms, find ways children can be in several groups.

"I really believe children are different. One of the injustices is that we are trying to fit them into grade molds which are inflexible," she said.

"If we could guarantee that no teacher had to work with more than 25 children, we wouldn't have to worry about what group he is in. That's my panacea," Dr. Merritt declared.

The professor also told the class that if there was one thing she could do for teachers, she would wish that they would stop judging "unless we are going to follow judging with action."

Dr. Merritt said she was "shocked at what teachers say to parents, meaning to be helpful." She urged teachers not to "bandy about our professional information. Then parents will respect us. We have to be careful we don't assess human beings on the basis of figures alone."

GOOD EXCUSE

LEXINGTON, KY (AP)—A big truck was stopped in the street, blocking traffic, so Mrs. Mary C. Tipton stopped her car to call police.

When she returned, her attorney told Police Court Judge Thomas J. Ready, her car had a ticket on it. She was in a loading zone.

Probe Slated On Needy Aid Program

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — The state's aid-to-needy children program will be investigated.

Gov. Edmund G. Brown's Advisory Committee on Children and Youth was told yesterday that 61,000 of the 210,000 children getting assistance are illegitimate.

The committee learned that 38 per cent of the 61,000 illegitimate babies were conceived while their mothers were drawing aid to needy children.

NEVER MARRIED

Mrs. Elizabeth MacLatchie of Sacramento, chief of the Department of Social Welfare's Division of Social Security, told the committee 32 per cent of the mothers had never been married.

The coming investigation was announced yesterday after the advisory group heard the report at the opening of a two-day session here.

Mrs. MacLatchie said the great majority of the illegitimate children on relief were from minority races. She said their parents are less able to get work, are the first to be laid off, the last to resume working and draw the lowest pay.

OTHER QUESTIONS

The committee said it will consider this and other subjects during the next year including:

Delinquency prevention.

Health problems in migrant labor camps.

Recommendations on changes in the law, expected soon from the Governor's Juvenile Justice Commission, to insure greater legal protection for children.

The Department of Commerce estimates that there will be 114 million motor vehicles on the highways by 1976. There are some 70 million registered now.

HERE'S GNOOD GNUS IF YOU ARE A GNU

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The zoo knows it and the gnu knows it: It takes a he-gnu and a she-gnu to produce a new gnu.

That's why Griffith Park Zoo is making a deal with the Fresno Zoological Society.

Griffith Park has several she-gnus but no he-gnus. At Fresno, she-gnus are rare but there are he-gnus to spare.

The news is that the two zoos will be making gnus by mating gnus.

Burglar Bites Hole In Doughnut

A hopeful burglar broke into Croy's Foster Freeze at 1908 Fourth Street, San Rafael, last night and rang up $8.11 to open the cash register. There were only two 50-cent rolls of pennies inside.

Police Officer Thomas Cheetham said the burglar apparently pried a sliding plastic window loose from its frame and crawled in through the opening. He left through a rear door.

Owner Milton Martin of 87 E. Crescent Drive, San Rafael, discovered the burglary when he opened the drive-in at 8:22 a.m. today.

Printmakers Enter Member Exhibition

Five Marin members of the Bay Printmakers Society have entered recent graphic works for the annual members' exhibition at the Achenbach Foundation for Graphic Arts, California Palace of the Legion of Honor, San Francisco, from tomorrow through Nov. 27.

Rioting Over Algeria Perils De Gaulle Regime

PARIS (UPI)—Bloody riots and Communist threats of intervention in the bitter six-year-old Algerian war threatened today to plunge France back into the chaos that toppled the Fourth Republic.

Scores of leftist and right-wing demonstrators were injured and more than 500 were arrested in riots in eight French cities yesterday.

In an effort to halt the widespread violence and strife that have reached crisis proportions, President Charles de Gaulle planned to make a nationwide radio broadcast next Friday to rally Frenchmen behind his "middle of the road" approach to the Algerian question.

A series of statements emanating from Moscow and other quarters hinted possible Communist military assistance for the Algerian rebels whose war against France enters its seventh year Tuesday.

Moroccan Crown Prince Moulay Hassan said in London that "in three weeks or a month, a new, very grave factor will intervene in the war in Algeria and this new aspect could change the whole nature of the struggle."

Diplomatic observers seemed to feel this was a warning that Red Chinese "volunteers" might be thrown into the fight on the side of the rebels.

The Communist publications Pravda and Izvestia said yesterday in Moscow that the Soviet Union, which only recently granted the rebels "de facto" recognition, is ready "to help in any way to give aid to the Algerian people in their struggle for independence."

Dissension Among 49er Family? Six Marinites Played Big League

A friend of ours, who has had the opportunity to closely observe the 49er family at work and play over recent years, thinks he has pin-pointed their trouble this season.

After watching the team's smellovision performance last Sunday, our pal became convinced there's trouble a-brewin' between the troops and the general.

SAM CHAPMAN

"I'm not saying the team is laying down intentionally," the informant said, "but they're playing uninspired football. I've come to the opinion that the players do not like Coach Red Hickey.

"It appears they regard him as a dictator and resent the way he handles them. Hickey is a task-master who wants to run the whole show. His assistants are just a bunch of 'yes' men and if any of the players offers a suggestion Hickey just glares at him.

"One player told me everyone resents the way Hickey publicly criticizes the players when they lose, but if they win he bows and takes the credit."

Well, there's another rumor to toss into your pipe, so puff on it awhile.

Meanwhile, we certainly hope the red-shirts improve over last Sunday's game. I hate to spend a Sunday afternoon watching a game of patty-cake in Kezar Stadium.

A READER asks how many Marin County boys made it to the major leagues.

Our recollection is only six—Walter Mails of San Quentin, Sam Chapman of Tiburon, Charley Wensloff of Mill Valley, Art Schallock of Mill Valley, Joe DeMaestri of San Anselmo and Karl Olson of Fairfax.

Pitchers Wensloff and Schallock and infield DeMaestri played for the Yankees and all got World Series thrills; Mails, also a pitcher, make it to the World Series back in 1920 with the Cleveland Indians; outfielder Chapman played most of his career with the Philadelphia Athletics, and Olson, also an outfielder, played for Boston, Washington and Detroit.

Of the World Series players from Marin, Mails has the best record to look back on. He pitched 16 consecutive scoreless innings, including a three-hit, 1-0 shutout over the Brooklyn Dodgers.

DeMaestri is the only still active player.

There may have been more big leaguers who grew up in Marin, but our recollection says no. Marin can claim only partial "ownership" of Pittsburgh's Vernon Law because he spent two years as a young resident of Fairfax back in the early World War II days.

There have been many Marinites in the minor leagues.

If anyone knows about other Marin big leaguers, how about giving us a call.

OVER THE YEARS Harry Pieper, College of Marin's football coach, has developed a sense of humor.

In his profession and particularly in his particular position, Pieper's humor probably has saved him from insanity or ulcers. College of Marin just hasn't produced much football talent in the past decade. In fact the Tars have lost 25 of their last 31 games. For a while it got to be embarrassing to call the coach for details of his games, but after a while Pieper tossed in a joke or two and it got to be fun talking with him.

Yesterday we were discussing tonight's game against Napa and Pieper casually mentioned that three of his players were injured. That leaves Marin with 17 (count 'em, 17) ablebodied players.

"How do you manage to scrimmage?" we asked. "Oh," he answered, "We've had this problem for so long that we've devised various ways to cope with it. Some day I'll write a book and revolutionize the coaching profession. For scrimmage, for example, we use only half a line. I used to get in and scrimmage myself, but I'm getting too old for that now," laughed the former California line star.

And with so few to work with, Pieper notes, "at least I know all my players by name."

For road trips the school actually hires a bus to transport the players, which is a joke. A compact foreign car could do the job.

One night the bus broke down and the Tars were more than an hour late for the game.

How a man can smile through week after week of discouragement like this over the years is difficult for us to believe. Harry must suffer some deep inside, particularly on nights when a team like Sierra runs up 50 points, but he never shows it.

It's refreshing to see their attitude, all 17 of them. Against Napa's 46-man squad tonight Marin deserves a cheer. Give it to 'em.

WE'VE BEEN wearing a gold star on our forehead all week—a reward from the teacher for a perfect 10-for-10 football forecasting record.

The "teach" was particularly impressed with our record of the local high school games. We picked Tam to edge Marin Catholic by one (7-6), Redwood over San Rafael by 19 (18-0) and Novato over Drake by six (21-7).

In addition, we picked Yuba College over Marin by 20 and it came out 28-12, close enough to get a gentle pat on the head from the crystal ball teacher.

The 10 straight goodies boosted our season record to 50 right and 15 wrong.

PROFESSIONALS —Bears over 49ers by 7 and New York over Oakland by 14.

COLLEGES — Oregon State over California by 16, Southern Cal over Stanford by 14, Washington State over San Jose State by six; UCLA over North Carolina State by 13, Washington over Oregon by 1; COP over Idaho by 7; Napa over Marin by 14.

HIGH SCHOOLS — Redwood over Tam by 7; Drake over San Rafael by 13; Novato over Marin Catholic by 14.

I STILL LOVE that line about there are so many sports car in Sausalito that it's been two years since a pedestrian has been hit above the knees.

A.L. Expansion 'Too Fast,' Frick Claims

NEW YORK (AP) — Commissioner Ford Frick, National League President Warren Giles and Los Angeles Lodger owner Walter O'Malley notwithstanding, the American League definitely will operate as a 10-team league in 1961, one year before the rival older circuit follows suit with as many clubs.

"I respect the commissioner's wishes and I don't wish to sound like we are opposing him," said George Medinger, vice president of the Cleveland Indians and a member of the A.L. Expansion Committee, "but we're going ahead with 10 teams next year. There were people in our league who thought we were moving too fast, but the majority agreed it was the proper move."

Frick met with Joe Cronin yesterday and told the American League president he would have preferred expansion in 1962.

"I told Joe that trying to get started in 1961 constituted quite a problem," said Frick. "That was doing things awfully fast and I wished they might have waited until 1962."

Giles, upon learning the Americans had granted franchises to Los Angeles and Minneapolis-St. Paul shifting the Washington Senators to the Twin-Cities and placing another team in the nation's capital, contended the N.L.'s granting of franchises to New York and Houston for 1962 was a "more practical" plan.

O'Malley, who pioneered major league ball in Los Angeles, deplored the American's "hasty action," and added: "Another full baseball schedule would wreak havoc in Los Angeles."

"We are aware there'll be problems," said Medinger, "but we feel we can surmount them."

Although no prospective buyers for the Los Angeles and Washington franchises have been identified, it was learned that Hank Greenberg and Bill Veeck will land the Los Angeles plum. Veeck, as president, are principal stockholders in the Chicago White Sox, but they are expected to sell their stock in the near future.

"Greenberg and Veeck had several irons in the fire," an American League baseball man said. "If Los Angeles had not opened up, they would have gone into Washington. If that had failed to open up, they were prepared to buy the Kansas City club."

With the spring training season little more than three months off, the American League busied itself with the problem of stocking two new franchises. A plan to supply players was devised yesterday by the eight general managers and will be presented to the owners at next month's meeting.

Each major league team would freeze 15 players on its 40-player roster. Of the remaining 25, 10 would be placed in Class A and 15 in Class B.

Los Angeles and Washington would be permitted to purchase up to three Class A players from each of the clubs for a set price of $75,000 each, and no more than one player from each club in Class B for $40,000 each.

The two new clubs also will be given priority in the major league draft in Louisville, Nov. 28.

49er 'Pride' Makes Sunday Tilt Even

George Halas, owner-coach of the Chicago Bears, says Sunday's game with the San Francisco 49ers at Kezar Stadium will be a tossup.

To those who watched the Bears chew up the 49ers 27-10 in a televsed game at Chicago two weeks ago, Halas' remarks seem almost ludicrous.

But Halas, admittedly a showman with an eye on ticket sales, still reckons on a powerful factor that isn't listed in the statistical columns: Pride.

And Halas, who's been around the league as long as anyone, knows it well.

The 49ers don't lose easily. When they look bad losing, it bothers 'em. And brother, the 49ers have looked bad for two weeks running.

Halas knows that men who take a socking and a bruising every Sunday take their work seriously. And he knows too that somehow the aches and pains aren't quite so bad when you win.

Coach Red Hickey of the 49ers was ready to explode after Green Bay shellacked the 49ers 41-14 last Sunday.

But when he finally got to discussing things with his team, he was surprisingly gentle and understanding. Hickey knew the 49ers were embarrased by their play. And no matter how rugged the workouts may be, the only place to make up for a poor game is on the playing field — where it counts.

Back to the starting 49er lineup Sunday comes Y. A. Tittle, the veteran quarterback who is among the most respected old pros in the league. Returning to the offensive line are tackle John Thomas, who had been out with a broken hand, and center Frank Morze. They represent some of the blocking that has been missing.

TARS BATTLE NAPA TONIGHT AT KENTFIELD

The Golden Valley Conference game will start at 8 o'clock and the evening's activities also will feature the crowning of the school's homecoming queen.

With three more players on the injury list—end Mike Cicero, guard Dan Naughton and halfback Fred Pfeffer—the Tars are underdogs and expected to lose their sixth straight game of the season and 14 in a row dating back to September of 1959.

Napa has won two of its five games, including a 26-8 victory over the same Yuba team that last week trimmed Marin 28-12.

Marin's starting lineup will be Mike Rawitser and Hampton Hoge at ends, Frank Gallardo and Harry Hersh tackles, Morrey Nelson and Chet McDermott guards, Martin McKeay center, quarterback Ron Blum, halfbacks Russ Cook and John Harris and fullback Denny Unterman.

Campus Raids Add Fireworks To Tam-Redwood Grid Battle

Inspired by the pre-game fireworks of campus raids, the fierce football rivalry between Redwood and Tamalpais high schools moves off the campus and onto the gridiron at Kentfield tomorrow afternoon in an important Marin County League game.

For details of raids, fights, vandalism, etc., see story on page one.

And if the football players show as much enthusiasm as their fellow students, the showdown tomorrow at 2 o'clock should produce one of the best games of the year.

Redwood's Giants, who haven't lost a league game in the year and a half history of the new conference, rate the favorites' role to take the undisputed leadership in the title race. They are tied with Tam, each with 2-0 records.

Redwood's victims have been Novato 19-14 and San Rafael 18-0. Tam has beaten San Rafael 20-6 and Marin Catholic 7-6.

An offense polished to machine-like perfection and featuring the explosive running of halfback Mike Alessio and the passing of quarterback Roger Siemens are Redwood's brightest weapons. John Whitney is an excellent target for Siemens. Too, the Giant defense has been superb in its two league victories giving up just two touchdowns. Key man of the defending crew is linebacker Mike Hoffman, one of the best in the league.

Redwood's defense will have to be alert to contain Tam's speedy backs who can kill you with long gainers. Sprint star Pat Morgan and Warren Domino are Tam's explosive weapons who love to run the ends. Quarterback Tex Hamilton has recovered from an injury and will start. Norm Kreuter at fullback rounds out Tam's starting backfield. Coach Jim Hanretty was contemplating some changes in his starting line and will not announce it until tomorrow.

Redwood Coach Bob Troppman said Siemens, Alessio, Keith Norton and Ned Griffith will compose his starting backfield, while the line will go with Whitney and Herb Shrieber at ends, Jon Keppel and Hoffman tackles, Ralph Wood and John Clum guards and Mike Walsh center.

With three "Mikes" in the Redwood lineup, it is only natural for Radio KTIM to broadcast the game, which will be starting at 2 o'clock.

Raiders Play N.Y. Tonight

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Oakland Raiders, working with a 1-2 passing combination, go against the New York Titans tonight as the American Football League rolls past the halfway mark of its first season this weekend.

The Raiders, no better than 3-4 and third in the Western Division, have a choice of Tom Flores or Babe Parilli for their passing attack.

The host Titans, second to Houston in the Eastern Division with a 4-3 record, lead the league in passing.

Tonight's only other game sends the Los Angeles Chargers to Boston against the Patriots. Boston already has put away a 35-0 victory over the Chargers, who have lost two since.

Both division leaders play Sunday. Houston, tops in offense but last in defense, is at Buffalo against the Bills, who are first in defense, last in offense. The Denver Broncos, 4-2 in the Western Division, play at home against the Dallas Texans, who have lost three in a row.

Twin Cities Boys Use Redwood Gym

Redwood High School's gymnasium will be open every Monday night 7:30 to 9:30 o'clock, for members of the Twin Cities Boys Club of Larkspur-Corte Madera, it was announced today.

Activities will include basketball, trampoline, volleyball, tumbling, etc.

Fired Up Pirates Aim At Bulldogs Tonight

Drake High's Pirates, fighting mad at themselves for last week's 14-21 loss to Novato, invade San Rafael High tonight to battle the Bulldogs in the Marin Athletic League football feature of the evening.

With a solid and well-balanced offense built around quarterback Sam Johnson, the Pirates are favored to win their second game against one loss and hand San Rafael its third straight league setback.

The varsity game starts at 8 o'clock and a preliminary game starting at 5:45 p.m. will feature each school's undefeated freshman team in a battle for the frosh league lead.

San Rafael, which has had trouble putting together an offense in recent games, undoubtedly will try to get off to a fast start in the opening quarter. Drake's defensive record shows terrible first quarter work at times—like last week when Novato ran up a 21-0 lead before the Pirates knew what hit them.

However, once they reassembled their shattered troops, the Pirates were mean indeed, beating Novato

Drake escaped the Novato contest without injury, and the starting lineup will be the same as last week's: End Bill Collins and Gary Schlueter, tackles Bob Whelan and Ken Peck, guards Lloyd Stasiowski and Jack Wisler, center Dale Thompson, quarterback Johnson, halfbacks Rich Bottini and Mike Bresnan and fullback Scott Moriarty.

San Rafael Coach Dick Read said wingback Garv Ledson, plagued by injuries all season, suffered possible internal injuries Tuesday and has been hospitalized for observation.

The line will start Randy Petrini and Jack Chapman at ends, Chris Yaeger and Dennis Nickel tackles, Dwight Stewart and Don Burrows guards and George Bullis center.

North-South Tourney

PINEHURST, N.C. (AP) — Despite a three-over-par 75 for the final round, Maureen Orcutt of Englewood, N.J., won the North and South Senior Women's Golf Tournament yesterday with a 153 total.

That was a stroke better than the card of Mrs. Julius Page of Chapel Hill, N.C., who had a 73.

Richards Joins Rigney In Detroit's Rumor Derby

DETROIT (AP) — A report by the Detroit Free Press that the Detroit Tigers were trying to sign Paul Richards as manager of the club to replace the departed Joe Gordon has been denied by Richards.

Richards is manager of the Baltimore Orioles and has a 1961 contract.

Lyall Smith, Detroit Free Press sports editor, wrote last night that Rick Ferrell, acting Tiger general manager, and James Campbell, a club vice president, had gone to Phoenix, Ariz., to "try to woo Richards into stepping out of his contract to manage Baltimore next season in exchange for a lush five-year pact at Detroit."

Richards, contacted in Scottsdale, Ariz., said the Free Press report was erroneous.

The Detroit Times said yesterday it had learned that Bill Rigney, former manager of the San Francisco Giants, would be named to manage the Tigers.

The Times said confirmation of Rigney's selection at $30,000 a year would come shortly from John E. Fetzer, who owns controlling interest in the Detroit Baseball Co.

Rigney previously had been mentioned by The Associated Press as a likely successor to Gordon. Gordon quit the Tigers to become Kansas City manager at the end of the 1960 American League season.

The Detroit News, however, said Harry M. Sisson, executive vice president of the Tigers, claimed no one had been picked for the job, adding that Sisson "declared that there was no truth in a report that . . . Rigney . . . had been signed for the Detroit job."

Rigney, at his home in Walnut Creek, Calif., also denied that he had signed.

Little League Meet Next Week

Officers and directors for Sausalito's 1961 Little League season will be elected next Thursday at the annual Little League meeting in the Sausalito City Hall.

All Sausalitans interested in participating in Little League direction are urged to attend the 8 p.m. meeting, according to Dr. Robert Perlman, president of the organization.

Dr. Perlman stated that organizational help is needed from parents of all of the participating boys and other interested adults for continued progress in the seven-year-old league. He reported that almost 100 boys played Little League ball in Sausalito this year, and that the league was expanded to five teams.

Kezar Memorial For Tony Morabito

A bench and plaque in memory of the late Anthony J. Morabito will be dedicated at Kezar Stadium Sunday before the 49ers meet the Chicago Bears.

With JOHN J. CONNOLLY

CONNOLLY

Some weeks ago we started plugging for some speed in the backfield of the San Francisco 49ers and suggested that Abe Woodson be pulled from the defense and shoved into the offense. We must confess to more than a fleeting satisfaction to see that Coach Red Hickey has finally come up with the same idea.

Since no one else would do it, we were patting our own back the other day when the phone rang. It was our OTHER reader, who said, "Okay, wise guy, so you guessed right for once. So what else would you do with the 49ers?"

Being able to resist almost anything but the opportunity to shoot off our big mouth, we are accepting the challenge.

Coach Connolly would go one step farther and would activate a few specialists who adorn the 49er bench. Lenny Lyles would move into the same backfield with Woodson. Lenny usually sees action only on kickoff and punt returns, and he has too much potential to spend 55 minutes of every games gathering splinters on the bench.

C. R. ROBERTS is another eager beaver who has callouses on his backside because Smith and Joe Perry are ahead of him. Roberts would get a shot at an offensive line position on my team. And I would give a couple of looks at Ed "Mad Dog Henke as an offensive guard.

When Ted Connolly was hurt, Coach Hickey moved rookie Mike Magac into his spot. Now if you have ever seen Mike lumbering down field in the pre-game warmups you would admire his effort but not his speed. Henke might be just the man to be able to pull out of the line and give a block ahead of the ball carrier on an end sweep. He loves the going and he can move.

COACH CONNOLLY would give his quarterbacks a couple of option plays where they would pass or run, and if John Brodie and Y. A. Tittle are tackle shy, I'd let third string quarterback Bobbie Waters have a crack at it. And don't think he wouldn't jump at the opportunity.

Finally, I would occasionally have another pampered specialist in on third down instead of fourth. This would be kicker Tommy Davis. Operating from a modified single wing, Davis could give the defense fits with the threat of a pass, run or quick kick. And Davis would run for the downs for me on a fourth and two situation once and a while. Tommy was no slouch at Louisiana State. Some of his talent is being wasted.

Now that Red Hickey has quit laughing, let's face reality. Don't expect the 49ers to throw caution to the winds and play a razzle-dazzle offense featuring a rookie filled lineup. The very essence of pro ball and one of the factors that keeps it alive is the fulfillment of the obligation to play each game for keeps and always try to knock off the top dog even if you have lost every preceeding game.

I ONLY HOPE Head Scout "Pappy" Waldorf is beating the bushes for some speedy men who can block. Frankly, I feel that the pros have gone too far in buying beef instead of finesse. Many of the old heads are going to fall next year and the new crop of rookies will see plenty of action.

Sunday it is the big, bad Bears from Chicago at Kezar Stadium. I have a hunch the 49ers will be looking for revenge and a reverse of the score of two weeks ago at Chicago.

O'Doul Sees World Series With Japan

Japanese baseball is really coming of age, said O'Doul, veteran outfielder and manager who helped pioneer the sport here during the 1930's and is accompanying the barnstorming San Francisco Giants.

"I wouldn't say the Japanese could win, but by 1964 they should be able to make it competitive for the U.S. champions," said the 63-year-old San Franciscan. He suggested 1964 as a natural because of world sports attention on Japan during the Olympics.

O'Doul said in an interview he would make his proposal to Ford Frick, U.S. commissioner of baseball, and to Japanese baseball officals.

DREAM SERIES

If they agree, O'Doul said, "it would be a dream he has had throughout 15 journeys to Japan teaching and promoting the great American sport. The most unforgettable of his trips was 1934, when he brought Babe Ruth, Lefty Gomez and Jimmy Foxx on the same All-Star team.

Walking on crutches through his hotel while nursing a torn achilles tendon, O'Doul is constantly hailed by Japanese oldtimers who fondly recall his pre-war barnstorming trips.

O'Doul, who claims a .349 lifetime major league batting average, said Japanese baseball is already Triple A caliber and by 1964 should be even closer to U.S. major league standards.

"They already have lots of pitchers who can pitch to our major leaguers," he said.

Huskies, Ducks Top College Slate; Cal, Cards Underdogs

By U.P. INTERNATIONAL

The northwest steals the show for the second straight time along the coast tomorrow when Washington and Oregon meet at Seattle in what should be a spine-tingler even if it also is a non-conference tilt.

Both teams sport 5-1 records and a fine battle is on tap between Bob Hivner, Washington's quarterback who has taken over for the injured Bob Schloredt, and big Dave Grosz of the Ducks. There also is a good duel coming between the halfbacks with George Fleming, Washington's steady runner and place-kicker, offsetting the spurts of Cleveland Jones, the Ducks' five-foot, three-inch scatback.

In other games, Southern California invades Stanford for a Big Five clash that should send Troy into a first place tie with the Huskies. California is at Oregon State. North Carolina State meets UCLA in a Saturday night intersectional. Washington States comes to hopped-up San Jose State and Idaho is at College of the Pacific.

Mike McKeever, Southern California's fierce guard, may have shaken off the sinus trouble and be able to go against Stanford. The Indians have lost all six of their games to date and this next one figures to keep their slate unblemished.

Only 69 yards and feeble California, another winless outfit, separate tailback Terry Baker of Oregon State from a new school offense record. The old mark is 1,082 which Joe Francis took 10 games to set in 1957. Baker is heading into his seventh.

Roman Gabriel is the latest hot passer which UCLA must face when North Carolina State goes into the Los Angeles Coliseum. Coach Bill Barnes of the Bruins has warned that they are in for a tough test. Gabriel will meet a sharp passer in Bill Kilmer, the Bruins' star tailback.

Washington State, with halfback Keith Lincoln on the doubtful list, meets a San Jose team which has knocked off Stanford and Arizona State in its last two outings. The Spartans are deploying their defenses to stop the passing of Mel Melin—no Bobby Newman exactly, but still dangerous.

Tam Runner Sets Cross-Country Mark At Redwood

Tamalpais High School senior track star Bob Hope set a course record as he led his cross-country running team to victory over five other north bay schools Wednesday at Redwood High.

Hope covered the approximately two-mile long course in 12 minutes, 4 seconds. The old record was 12:36.

Tam won the team standings with the low score of 37 points, followed by Redwood 56, Vallejo 80, Sonoma 110, Analy 111, Montgomery 142 and Napa 149.

Following are the first 12 to finish:

Bob Hope (T), 12:04; Roger Sturgeon (V), 12:53; Marv Stephens (R), 13:24; Steve Bohannon (R), 13:32; Danny Smith (T), 13:41; Jay Johnson (V), 13:51; William Carey (Son.), 13:52; Larry Skram (N), 13:53; Reed Dillingham (T), 14:02; Bill Olson (T), 14:05; Bob Keller (R), 14:09; Dennis Langhoff (T), 14:14.

Stokes Seeks 8th Straight Drag Victory

Among the entrants will be Willie Davis of Richmond winner in two classes last week, and Mike Blessing of Napa, who will defend his little eliminator honors.

Gates at the Highway 40 strip will open at 8 a.m. with eliminations slated for 1:30 p.m.

Devine Sale

Mrs. Julia Henderson, owner and pastor, is advertising for a buyer for the non-denominational Lighthouse Gospel Tabernacle. The church includes a quonset hut type building, organ, piano, pews and a regular congregation of about 100.

Mrs. Henderson and her husband founded the tabernacle in 1950. Mr. Henderson died three years ago. Mrs. Henderson wants to become a traveling evangelist.

There is one requirement for the purchaser. He must be a "real pastor."

Drip Does It

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP) — The word was flashed on police radio: A 16-gallon keg, full to the brim, had been stolen from a beer truck.

Officers in a cruise car noticed a healthy drip from the trunk of an automobile just ahead. It was from the stolen keg, which had tipped over in flight.

Some Sobering Thoughts On New Los Angeles Team

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Everyone seems to be glad the American League is locating a franchise in Los Angeles, but there have been some sober reflections about the timing.

The Examiner's Melvin Durslag had this to say about it today:

"Obviously, there is no objection here to a second big league team, but you pause to wonder whether the American League was in complete control of its faculties or merely swept into the drama of expansion when it voted suddenly to come to Los Angeles in 1961.

"When you get down to cases, we haven't yet launched our first team here. Construction of the stadium has just begun.

"The masked marvels who are bringing American League baseball to Los Angeles clearly haven't investigated the immediate problems that confront them.

"To start with, they are facing a strangling rental of 10 per cent at the Coliseum, with no concessions benefits. Anyone less solvent than Walter O'Malley (owner of the Dodgers) can be slaughtered by such fees.

"It must be remembered that O'Malley experienced two fat years before having to buck that insane rental. He came here, besides, gloriously in the black, with a world famous team.

"Secondly, it cost O'Malley $450,000 to rid the territory of the Pacific Coast League. Walter isn't going to watch vacantly while his racket is diluted by people who have announced no provisions for the indemnification money. Nor is he going to look kindly upon their using for free the equipment he installed in the Coliseum at a cost of about $300,000.

"It will be Walter who eventually will be dictating the rental terms to his American League tenant at Chavez Ravine, and he may be less than charitable."

ANDRADE CHALLENGES

Brown Favored In Title Go Tonight

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The world lightweight crown, one of the brighter baubles of boxing, will be at stake tonight when champion Joe Brown of Houston and California's Cisco Andrade tangle at the Olymmic Auditorium.

It will be the ninth defense of the title by "Old Bones," establishing a record of title defenses for the 135-pound division. The late Benny Leonard successfully defended the title eight times.

The co-promoters, Cal Eaton and George Parnesses, hope for a turnout of 8,000 and a $70,000 gate.

Brown was guaranteed $40,000 and his 30-year-old foe, from nearby Compton, gets 20 per cent of the gate. A rematch was guaranteed if Brown loses.

Few will be surprised if the match ends before the scheduled 15 rounds, but the longer it goes the more the younger Andrade may be favored.

Brown is noted as a one-punch artist and has knocked out 38 opponents in his 80 victories.

Andrade also boasts a punch. Of his 44 wins, 24 were by knockouts. The Cisco Kid, who twice retired in the past two years, stopped all four of his 1960 opponents.

McCOVEY'S TWO HOMERS PACE GIANTS' WIN

SENDAI, Japan (AP)—Two home runs by Willie McCovey and one by Felipe Alou powered the San Francisco Giants to a 7-3 triumph over the Japan baseball All-Stars today. It was the Giants' third straight victory after they had lost their first two games in Japan.

McCovey's two shots into the bleachers drove in three runs. Alou's 390-foot blast into the left field stands came in the top of the fifth inning and tied the score at 1-1.

Duden Top Winner In Vegas Pro-Am Golf

Duden is the inventor of the arched shaft, which is used between the feet like a croquet mallet. His uncanny putting enabled him to finish four under par.

Tied for second place, with $725 each, were Doug Sanders, Ojai, Calif., and Paul Harney, Worcester, Mass., with 209s.

Washington May Pay $500,000 For New Franchise

DAYTONA, BEACH, Fla. (AP)—Something near half a million dollars apparently is the price American Assn. directors are thinking of asking for giving up the Minneapolis and St. Paul franchises to major league baseball.

Directors are inclined to feel the $450,000 which the National League paid for the Los Angeles and San Francisco areas set a precedent, Ed Doherty, president of the American Association, said last night.

So far, he said, the league hasn't been officially notified that the Washington Senators are moving to Minneapolis-St. Paul next season in an expansion of the American League to 10 teams. After notification is received, association directors will meet to determine an asking price for the territory.

The FISHIN' FOOL

By RALPH STEVENS,
I-J Fish and Game Writer

National Pollution Conference Vital To Bay Area Fisheries

STEVENS

We are in receipt of a paper from Robert S. Hutchings, information officer of the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, Washington, D. C.

The paper calls attention to the National Conference on Water Pollution throughout the United States. It will be attended by some 1,500 persons, representing professional and public health groups, conservation groups, civic organizations, industry, labor and local state and federal governments.

The subject of pollution is of particular interest to all sports fishermen and hunters. Certainly to us who fish in the bay and delta regions.

We realize that the disposal of more and more waste in our waterways is destroying the environment in which fish and wildlife can live and multiply. We have raised our voices many times in the past decade against pollution from all sources. Corrective measures have been taken in some instances (the comeback of the Napa River as a bass-fishing stream is an example), we admit. But no intelligent observer can deny that much is still to be done locally and in the back country before we can honestly say the problem has been solved.

WHENEVER SOME mill or refining plant discharges pollutants into the bay—such as happened a few years ago—and hundreds of dead fish clutter up the shores as a result, everyone becomes suddenly aware of how dangerous to fish life such events can be. Such occurrences are spectacular; the cause and effect are there to be seen.

But most people have no idea of how long-lasting such a spill of pollutants can be. The immediate effect only is seen and heeded. But, as a matter of cold hard fact, a slug of cyanide, acid or other harmful chemical discharged into the lower bay, flows along for many miles, killing thousands of small fish on its way. Also, whereas the contaminated water may pass a given point in a matter of minutes, its effect may be felt for years.

WE QUOTE from a paragraph in the release: "Fish, like all forms of life, must have oxygen to live. They use the oxygen dissolved in the water by breathing through their gills. When organic waste like raw sewage reaches the water it begins to break down, using up the oxygen dissolved in the water as it does so. Fish and other water animals suffocate if the process of decomposition requires so much oxygen that the amount left in the water is not enough for the fish."

Here is another quote from the same paper: "The introduction of any pollutant, whether organic or inorganic, may upset the balance of the aquatic environment if it is lethal to a particular link in the food chain."

FOR EXAMPLE: If the shrimp are killed off by pollution, the striped bass and other fishes who feed on shrimp are left without part of their natural food supply. The same thing applies to crabs or pileworms.

Now add to the recognized dangers of pollution of our bay waters, the mainly overlooked overabundance of small bass—the millions upon millions that have bred in the back country nurseries or the Suisun Bay kindergarten, and are all set to go to sea—fiercely hungry and ready to eat everything in sight. Then won't you admit that we have a situation that is highly dangerous and threatening for the future of bass fishing?

AS A RESULT of the National Conference to be held in Washington, Dec. 12-14, we have high hopes that some long steps will be taken in the direction of better control of pollution. But we who are lovers of fishing the striper in our vast bays can do something about conserving our supply in the immediate future by getting rid of enough of them so that those remaining as well as the incoming schools will have sufficient food.

A first and all important step might well be: Reduce the present size limit to 12 inches and increase the present bag limit to at least five fish.

As we stated in a recent column, it's up to you. The squeaking wheel gets the grease, it's up to you. So, start squeaking, brother, start squeaking!

HUNTING TRIP A ROARING SUCCESS

Here's picture proof that a 10-day hunting trip in Idaho was a roaring success for these two San Rafael businessmen. Don Myers (left) proudly displays the four point Elk buck he downed with his trusty 30:06. It weighed about 550 pounds and was killed about 80 miles from McCall, Idaho. His hunting partner is Ray Willits. Each collected two deer and Willits bagged that bobcat at left. Willits is partner in the Davis Saw Service and Myers is owner of Myers Construction Co. Quail Season Opens With Good Prospect

The seasons on quail, chukar partridges and tree squirrels open in parts of northern California tomorrow with good prospects in store.

State Fish and Game officials report quail and chukars had successful late hatches in northern California, though doing poorly in southern desert areas.

Quail season will run through Dec. 15 in Lassen, Plumas and Modoc counties and in parts of Siskiyou, Shasta and Sierra, with a limit of 10 birds a day.

The season runs through Jan. 2, with an eight-bag limit, in the rest of northern California. The same bag applies in Southern California, where the season will run from Nov. 12 through Jan. 2.

Chukar season opens in Lassen, Plumas, San Benito, Kings, Kern, San Luis Obispo, Alpine, Nevada, Placer, and parts of Sierra, El Dorado, Merced, Madera, Fresno and Tulare counties. It runs through Dec. 15 in Lassen, Plumas and part of Sierra, through Jan. 2 in the other areas.

In the south, the season will run from Nov. 12 through Jan. 2. A two-a-day bag applies statewide.

A same limit applies to tree squirrels, which can be hunted through Jan. 2 in all parts of the north except Plumas County, and parts of Siskiyou, Shasta and Lassen, where the season ends Dec. 15.

Indy Cars To Race Sunday At Cal Fairgrounds Track

Bobby Grim, 1959 Indianapolis "Rookie of the Year," and Elmer George, 1957 Mid-West sprint car champion from Speedway, Ind., came into the fold today to bring to 14 the number of Indianapolis veterans entered for Sunday afternoon's 10th annual 100-mile USAC National Championship auto race at the Sacramento State Fair Ground's mile dirt track.

Also filing to bring the final count to 27 drivers is Cliff Spalding, Lynwood, Wash. He'll drive the No. 91 Ed Conner Speed Sport Special from Seattle in the only race in California each year for Indianapolis cars.

Other Indianapolis veterans set for a crack at the more than $12,000 in prize money that J. C. Agajanian is offering include Rodger Ward, A. J. Foyt, Tony Bettenhausen, Jim Hurtubise, Lloyd Ruby, Eddie Sachs, Bill Homeier, Dempsey Wilson, Gene Force, Wayne Weiler, Don Branson and Len Sutton.

Grim was the fastest rookie qualifier at Indian apolis at 144.225 MPH, until Hurtubise, the 1960 Indianapolis "Rookie of the Year," turned his four laps at 149.056 MPH, the fastest ever recorded at the Speedway. Bobby, who lives in Indianapolis, won the 100-miler this year at Syracuse, N.Y. Other winners entered in the "Golden State Hundred" include Ward (2), Foyt (2), Hurtubise, who also won last year's Sacramento race; Sachs and Sutton. Missing is Jim Rathmann, who doesn't run the dirt, and the late Jim Packard.

There will be the traditional parade through Sacramento tomorrow afternoon, while the annual night before the race show, which features films of the Indianapolis race, and the introduction of drivers, will be held on the Fair Grounds at 8:30 p.m. It is free and open to the public.

Project 17 Architect Urged In Mill Valley

The Mill Valley City Council will be asked Wednesday to hire an architect to be responsible for the design of all structures in Project 17, the city's marshland recreation development.

Both the parks and recreation commission and the architectural advisory committee said today will make such recommendations. It is expected that the planning commission and library board will follow suit.

Representatives of the four boards met last night to discuss hiring an architect to provide an over-all theme for the 17-acre recreation area. Joseph C. Brewster, chairman of the parks and recreation commission, headed the meeting.

Agitation for an over-all there followed a recent request of the Mill Valley Optimist Club for permission to construct a building with lockers and toilet facilities to be used by ballplayers at the club's baseball diamond on the project. The Optimists were stalled off by both city council and planning commission.

The architectural advisory committee will suggest that one person be appointed from each of the four groups, plus one from the city council, to work with the architect.

The Park and Recreation Commission suggested that a detailed plan of a multiple purpose building be made, a portion of which could serve the present needs and that it be started soon by interested groups.

Landscaping of the project is being planned by the county planning staff.

Shooting For Space

A high-speed hydrogen gun is used in a Republic Aviation Corp. test chamber to fire tiny projectiles at experimental space vehicles. The plastic projectiles simulate the effect of meteoroid strikes in space, permitting scientists to gauge such effects in shaping the vehicles.

Student Dies In Car Crash

George L. Vargas Jr. of Reno, a Stanford University student and nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Chester Vargas of Belvedere, was killed last night when a car carrying him and two other Stanford students overturned on the Bayshore Freeway in East Palo Alto.

Highway patrolmen said the driver, Robert L. Mulford, 18, of Tulsa, Okla., apparently fell asleep at the wheel. Mulford was unhurt. The third student, Walter A. Quinn, 19, of Vallejo, suffered minor injuries.

Young Vargas was a grandson of the late Gov. Fred Balzar of Nevada. He was a pre-law student.

Sweet Theft

Boy, 11, Treated After Accident

Randall Hericourt, 11, Kentfield School student living at 299 North Almenar Drive, Greenbrae, was making his rounds by bicycle when he ran into the left front fender of a car just halted by Mrs. Stephanie Stella Haber, housewife of 115 Corte Anita, Greenbrae.

California Highway Patrol investigation showed Mrs. Haber had been southbound on Los Cerros Drive at its intersection with Almenar. She said she saw the bicycle coming and skidded to a stop.

The boy was treated at Marin General Hospital.

Lane Fund Allocated

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—The California Highway Commission has allocated $8,500 for the construction of an acceleration lane at South Novato Boulevard on Highway 101 at the Ignacio Wye in Novato.

Club Meet To Feature Exhibit

For the business meeting of the Sausalito Woman's Club on Nov. 3, Mrs. S. C. Stapp, president, has planned an exhibit of special interest to members.

Mrs. Paul P. Hastings, historian and president of the club 30 years ago, will bring the original minutes of the early club years; year by year scrap books and the gifts presented by members will be displayed and labeled. Outstanding among the latter is the handsome Oriental bronze lantern placed near the entrance to the club. In memory of Grace McGregor Robbins, it was a gift from Mr. Robbins and had been purchased by the couple on a trip to the Orient in 1913, the year the club was founded. Another, more recent memorial is the stone garden lantern purchased through a bequest from Irma Darling Pierson, the third president of the club, and placed in the garden in her memory. Participants in the "Jinks" of last March can see pictures taken during the production. The mementos of the club's 47 years should prove nostalgic to old timers and interesting and informative to newcomers.

Mesdames Glenn T. Hall and H. Bowen Wands have been asked to be at the door by Mrs. George W. Quinn, hospitality chairman.

Tamalpais Temple To Host Conclave

Tamalpais Temple 129, Pythian Sisters of San Rafael will be hostess to District 8 at a convention on Nov. 1.

Georgia Cole is in charge of the program. Dinner will be served in the social hall of the San Rafael Presbyterian Church.

Complete committee workers have been named by Mrs. Edward E. Ranahan, general chairman for the "Anticipation Tea and Fashion Show" to be held at Marin General Hospital Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock Nov. 9. In charge of the handmade poster invitations are Mesdames Judson Goodrich, Arthur Kanzee and Peter Pell.

Pouring and in charge of tea table arrangements are Mesdames Hans E. Fischel, Arnold Childhouse, Spencer Smiley Jr. and Samuel Gunnison.

Greeting guests at the door of the hospital annex will be Mrs. Russel Chatham, assistant director of volunteers for the Service League which is handling tea arrangements as a volunteer project.

Hospital personnel who are assisting with the coordinating are Mrs. Ellaleigh Bridgeman, Miss Wilda Jane Derryberry, and Mrs. Ida King. Mrs. Bridgeman is supervisor for the obstetrics department at Marin General.

Reservations can be made by contacting Mrs. Edward E. Ranahan, general chairman, at 132 Van Tassel Court, San Anselmo or Mrs. Hans E. Fischel at 107 Brookside Drive, San Anselmo.

Grandmothers Club Installs

Twenty-two members attending heard retiring president Evangeline Green give a brief resume of the club accomplishments over the past year.

Goldie Wehrer gave the prayer and Fern Schmidt presented Mrs. Green with the past president's pin.

Ballot Propositions Ross Council Discussion Topic

Ballot propositions at the Nov. 8 election will be the main topic for discussion at the meeting of Ross Valley Council, Parent-Teacher Association, Tuesday morning, Nov. 1, at Brookside School. Mrs. Courtland Mudge of the Speaker's Bureau of the League of Women Voters will lead the discussion. Mrs. Sam Goldbaum, council president, asks all units to be well-represented and to have their legislation chairman there.

Standing committee reports will conclude the business.

Previously promotion manager for KPIX in San Francisco, Ryan was at one time with CBS television and with "Popular Mechanics" in Chicago. He established the Tides Bookstore in Sausalito, where he now lives.

A New Yorker contributor, Kenneth Lamott has published two novels, is working on another. He and his family live in Tiburon. Mrs. Richard Dakin's "Scotch Paisano" was judged one of the best 25 books published in the last 25 years dealing with California history. She has also written "The Lives of William Hartnell," and "The Perennial Adventure."

The public is invited to the authors' tea and to the book displays, which will feature adult books as well as children's selections.

Senior Citizens Are Staging Bazaar To Benefit Center

A three-day bazaar which started yesterday and will continue through Saturday has been arranged by the hostesses at the Senior Citizens Center, 1825 Fourth Street in San Rafael.

Purpose of the affair will be to raise funds to help the Marin Volunteers meet the expenses of the Center.

Especially featured will be gift items for Christmas giving including aprons of all sizes and descriptions and gifts for the baby and all his friends and relations according to Mrs. Edith Foran, chairman of the hostesses. Homebaked food will also be for sale.

Chairman of the event are Mesdames George Bennett and Edna Prawn. The Center hostesses who are assisting are Mesdames Lillian Croft, Ruth Long, Leda Savage, Edith Kaplan, Maxine Gillett, Kay Stevenson, Alice Kinsel, Mabel Carr, Mabel Leloran, Eva Lazarus, Nellie Vance, Anita Terkelson, Lois Foy Estelle Smith and Miss Ethel Bryce.

In addition to hostessing Mrs. Smith is also chairman of the Center's Needlework Guild. The work of the Seniors will be on display tomorrow at the annual ingathering tea of the Guild.

The seniors are very community minded and have helped many organizations such as the Red Cross and the tuberculosis association. At present they are anxious to find ways to raise money to keep the Center open.

The Volunteers, a group of young women devoted to maintaining the Center, have organized a Thrift Shop in the Center Basement, proceeds of which are used for rent and utilities. The shop is open Monday through Friday 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

San Rafael Hospital Auxiliary Marks Its Second Anniversary

Congratulations on its second anniversary and the work it is doing came to members of the Women's Auxiliary of San Rafael General Hospital at a meeting Monday.

Extending these congratulations was the hospital administrator, John H. Prescott, who said, "The patients enjoy seeing you. They like having you around. You are doing a wonderful job."

The administrator also praised the group's excellent training program and its effectiveness in public relations for the hospital.

The meeting marked the second anniversary of the auxiliary, which was organized in October 1958, the same year the 55-year-old hospital became a non-profit institution. After the business meeting the volunteers were guests at a party, complete with "birthday cake," in the dining room.

Mrs. C. Bruce Greene was named president at the election of new officers which featured the business part of the session. She succeeds Mrs. Lawrence P. McNear, who with Mrs. Leiton J. Elder and Mrs. Walter H. Lethbridge organized the group two years ago.

Mrs. E. Neele Johnston was elected treasurer, succeeding Mrs. Fred F. Enemark, and Mrs. Lethbridge will continue as secretary. A new vice president to succeed Mrs. Elder will be named at a later date.

New committee chairmen named at the same time were Mrs. J. A. Wruburton, historian, and Mrs. R. J. Scherini, decorations.

Recognition for hours served went to Mrs. McNear, 500 hours; Mrs. Elder, 300 hours; Mrs. Willis E. Ball and Mrs. George M. Henderson, 200 hours, and Mrs. Donald L. Walling, 100 hours.

Grand total of the volunteers' service to the hospital is now well over 5,000 hours, according to Mrs. Lethbridge.

Mrs. McNear reported that response to the auxiliary's latest project, the Remembrance Fund, has been very generous. The fund was established in observance of the hospital's 55th anniversary in September. It is administered by the Auxiliary for the benefit of the hospital.

Other topics discussed were the cook book, "Favorite Fare," to be reprinted in time for Christmas giving under auspices of the auxiliary, and the holiday flower arranging demonstration by Katherine Eubanks to be co-sponsored by the group on Nov. 16. Mrs. Eldred Hillis is chairman for the Auxiliary. Also taking part will be volunteer groups from Ross and Marin General Hospitals.

Cornhuskers Plan Halloween Dance

The fifth Saturday Halloween Square Dance Party to be held tomorrow at McNear's Barn starting at 8 p.m. will be a costume party. While costumes are optional, it is hoped that most of the guests will turn out in costume, as there will be prizes awarded.

Featured caller for the evening is Benny Walker of Napa. All square dancers are invited to attend. There will be a special treat of "surprise entertainment" and refreshments.

Mongolian Goat

Paris designers' newest fur fad is Mongolian goat, a shaggy long hair fur shown most frequently in pure white or gray. Put a model in hat and coat of this fur and she looks like a well-curried mop.

Jolly Roger Chapter Tells Tale Of Halloween Witch At Rickey's

For the "witch who has a closet full of broomsticks and nothing to wear," the Jolly Roger Chapter of the Children's Home Society supplied the fashionable and timely answers on Tuesday at Rickey's as it spun "The Tale of the Halloween Witch."

As the outstanding organization of the week, the Jolly Roger members pointed up the tremendous importance of the work done throughout California by the Children's Home Society, the state's only private adoption agency, and the more than 125 auxiliaries such as Jolly Roger who work through the year to assist it.

Brewing the mabic potions on Tuesday were eight glamorous Jolly Roger members who modeled a stunning collection of fashions from a San Rafael and Novato shop for modern witches who want their wardrobe to have more than a skeleton!

Unmasked for the holidays ahead were casual coordinates, harmonious knits, colorful corduroy, handsome city coats, and a finale of sparkling late day looks that clearly said "Be-witched."

Trick or treat was not forgotten. Helen Gray dipped into her 1960 bag of tricks to bring out handsome ropes of colorful beads, brilliant jeweled pins, smart bags, and dashing millinery to add the finishing touch.

For the witch whose locks need taming, a San Rafael French salon of beauty created a Halloween halo for each Jolly Roger model to ride from All Saints Eve through the holidays.

PUMPKIN WOOL

"Luncheon Spice," a serving of pumpkin wool created in a stunning coachman's coat for Mrs. William Hislop, the important collar, double buttons, and tunic over skirt fashion notes.

"City Ensemble," Calmoors handsome olive gold coat trimmed with matching fur, plus Tabak coordinates in olive and gold textured knit with Mrs. Robert Fitchak.

"Dinner Date" in Johnny Herbert's emerald green wool jersey, the wide, square neck leading to long, lovely sleeves, a wrapped cummerlund, and a graceful skirt, plus Mrs. Richard Colombo.

HOLIDAY DANCE

"Hostess at Home," a picture in turquoise velvet from tip to toe, Mrs. Ralph Nattress, sleek trim taper, an elegant, long-sleeved tunic and shocking pink scarf for accent.

Next week Fashion Focus says "Cheers, It's a Colorful Fall" to honor the Italian Catholic Federation of Petaluma. Reservations may be made by calling Rickey's.

Following lunch the children will parade around the grounds and compete for such "honors" as "the scariest," "the prettiest," "the funniest," and "the most original." The teachers will judge and award ribbons. Before returning to class all children will receive a Halloween treat.

Lunch will be served to first through fourth graders in their classrooms, and to mothers and

Jane Nickols Well-Received In Dramatization

Jane Nickols, singer-actress, gave a musical dramatization of Rodgers and Hammerstein's "King and I" to a large and enthusiastic audience in the auditorium of the Parish House of St. John's Church, Ross, Tuesday, under the sponsorship of St. Mary's Chapter of Episcopal Churchwomen.

Mrs. Nickols has done all the editing and re-writing of the script herself in order to condense the original script into an hour's presentation—without losing the story line, humor or "color" of the story. Her "set" consisted of a bamboo screen, effectively draped with gold and rose brocade material, a small teakwood bench and a low round table.

Mrs. Norma Porter of Novato, piano accompanist for Mrs. Nickols, was also applauded for her artistry during the performance.

After the performance, Mrs. Nickols and Mrs. Porter attended with the members and guests a tea party in the Fireside Room of the Parish House. Mrs. E. C. Jaros was chairman-of-the-day, assisted by the following tea hostesses: Mesdames Farwell Hill, E. N. Goddard, George M. Tatum, Julius Jacobson, Locke Haney, Francis G. Burt and Frederick W. Wilhelmi. Mrs. Charles S. Kilburn was in charge of the stage and Mrs. E. S. Davids was publicity chairman.

Fold cottage cheese into scrambled eggs after the eggs are set and off heat or the cheese will whey.

Tobaggan Hat

One of the most copied Paris fashions is the toboggan hat. The ribbed, knit, pull-on which many of us remember from our own school days showed repeatedly as the elegant topper for suits at the house of Christian Dior during the late July openings. Now, variations of it in the whole range of bright shades and white populate hat bars from coast to coast.

Clans On March

The clans are on the march. Plaids in infinite variety run through fall sports collections, from jumper dresses to pedal pushers. It's a practical idea for the teenager to choose a plaid—it doesn't need to be authentic—and feature it in several pieces in a school wardrobe.

Today is Oct. 28, the 302nd day of the year with 64 more in 1960.

The morning star is Mars.

The evening stars are Venus, Jupiter and Saturn.

On this day in history:

In 1886, the Statue of Liberty was dedicated on Bedloe's Island in New York Harbor.

A thought for today: French poet Alphonse de Lamartine said: "Limited in his nature, infinite in his desires, man is a fallen god who remembers the heavens."

Planning Ahead For Halloween Has Resulted In Big Improvement

Many people have been working hard for Halloween. Hats off to them today.

First, let's thank the carnival chairman. She was appointed nearly a year ago. She's labored ever since. She set up her committees. She planned the concessions, movies, refreshments. She hasn't been home very much the last few weeks. Her husband hardly knows her.

She has a thousand things on her mind. She'll be a wreck when the carnival is over, but a happy wreck.

Next, the fathers. They took time off from work. They brought tools, lumber, canvas, burlap. They built booths. They arranged a chamber of horrors. They set up hot dog stands. They'll be on hand for the big night, working harder than ever.

We can't forget the principal and the teachers. They helped with the plans. They found ways to assist the committees. They were able to go on teaching children, in spite of the excitement. They'll be present for the festivities. We can depend on them, always.

Finally, the mothers. They baked cakes for the cakewalk. They'll man the booths. They'll sell tickets, collect tickets, cook hot dogs, open pop bottles.

Our Halloween workers have made it possible.

READERS' FORUM

(Q) "Do you approve of 'trick or treat'? I don't like little beggars."

N.L.I.

Radio Missing From Ted's Taxi

Charles Ted Cohen, who operates Ted's Taxi in Tiburon, appealed today for return of a two-way radio stolen from his cab Tuesday night or Wednesday morning.

The $200 radio and microphone "is my bread and butter," said Cohen. "I depend on it for my living."

Drake Magazine Editor Selected

Debbie Rossman of 2 Meadow Way, Fairfax, has been named editor of the Sir Francis Drake High School annual literary magazine, Insight, adviser Albert Lavin announced.

Linda Gregg of Forest Knolls was named poetry editor, and Robert Holland and Peggy Lilienthal, both of San Anselmo, associate editors.

Lavin said the art editor, business manager and two associate editors had not yet been chosen.

Tape Recorder Stolen From Radio Station

Old Tales Can Err

NEW YORK (UPI) — There's some truth in old wives' tales, but they're not an infallible guide for investors, according to Standard and Poor's Corp., investment advisory firm.

The old advice to buy stock and put it away, for instance, was: "Good advice — if you bought shares of General Motors 40 years ago. Poor advice —if you liked Stutz Bearcat stock."

No Quorum

A meeting of the board of the Marin Municipal Water District has been scheduled for next Monday at 8 p.m. at the district office because of failure to achieve a quorum for the regular session Wednesday.

IS MARIN BEST CITY?

Tense Moments Due In Contest

By RANDALL GOULD

Marin County Administrator D. A. Jensen expects the 10 minutes between 9:15 and 9:25 a.m. of Nov. 15 to be about the most intense such space in his life.

Within that time, before a jury of 12 headed by Dr. George H. Gallup, in Phoenix, Ariz., Jensen must punch across a compact argument giving reasons why Marin County deserves to be declared a winner in the annual national "All-America Cities Contest." Sponsors are the National Municipal League and Look magazine.

He will base his talk on a document which already has won Marin a place in 22 finishers out of an original field of 103. Illustrating it will be two exhibits and a five-minute color movie prepared with the volunteer help of Jensen's neighbor, Emmett E. Smith of 212 Helen's Lane, Mill Valley.

The movie will portray the glories of Marin, along with brief but significant scenes of subdevelopers' destruction of trees and hills as indication of the battle scene.

Jensen's talk, supported also by the Civic Center model and a large architect's drawing of Marin City redevelopment, will show how an estimated 7,500 Marin citizens have fought to preserve natural beauties.

"I'm sure we can win a place among the 11 top 'all-American' cities and counties," says Jensen, "but I'm not really looking forward to the job of boiling our story down to a short 10 minutes."

Jensen has already fought several sizeable battles to advance the matter to the finals stage. One has been against time and space, in the matter of the Civic Center model; it's in Milan, Italy, for display by request of the federal government which will pay air freight costs to get it to Phoenix after close of a Milan exposition Nov. 5.

Jensen said in his presentation that citizen action to preserve Marin's natural beauty dated to William Kent Sr.'s donation in 1908 of Muir Woods National Monument. He listed 10 other major milestones and then under "recent action for which entry is submitted" gave three more:

1. Government Center, including the point that this will provide the first government building ever constructed by Frank Lloyd Wright.

2. Marin City Redevelopment, which Jensen regards as unique in the United States.

3. Development of Land for Recreation Use. Under this are listed purchase of 700 acres of Richardson Bay tidelands by a citizens non-profit group with development of a wild life refuge; acquisition of parts of the Tiburon Naval Net Depot; two public boat launching facilities; Richardson Bay Master Plan with acquisition of state tidelands.

"The citizen action has in effect been a desperate rush against time," Jensen said, "to preserve open space beauty and some wilderness before complete urbanization takes over and destroys Marin's unique physical attributes."

All the citizens projects met with "organized opposition" of one form or another, said Jensen, with accusations of wasting taxpayers' money and threats of court actions.

Jensen recited planned future accomplishments including the prospect of a 53,000-acre Point Reyes National Seashore, as well as completion of the Civic Center and Marin City Redevelopment, development of present recreation areas and construction of marina and yacht harbor on Richardson Bay.

He listed 27 organizations and groups in order of contribution, starting with the board of supervisors, and the Marin Conservation League.

Asked to name three active leaders, Jensen listed the five supervisors followed by the following private citizens:

Mrs. Norman B. Livermore Sr., Dr. Joel F. Gustafson, Harold Stockstad, James M. Fletcher, Ernest Schallinger, Mrs. Bertram K. Dunshee and William Kent Jr.

Explaining why Marin, a county, entered in a city contest, Jensen said that though Marin has 10 incorporated cities "county government has assumed a great deal of the leadership in the cooperative growth and character of the community."

He went on:

"Although there may appear to be little similarity between a redevelopment project, a Civic Center, and development of recreational areas, they are all part of the same goals of the citizens in the community. These goals are primarily to preserve for Marin County the beauty that has made it unique and to provide for orderly development in a manner that will make it a beautiful place in which to live."

CAIRO (UPI) — Egypt's cotton exports are up from 4,437,449 kantars last season to 5,921,666 this year. A kantar is 99.05 pounds.

Here's A Goose That Isn't Silly

NEWARK, N.J. (AP)—It does not take much to keep Junior happy. She has lived at a service station since she was abandoned there.

In tomorrow's Marin Magazine Independent-Journal reporter Dorothy Slattery will take you on a visit to the Nunes Brothers Boat Works where you will learn about the career of this interesting Marinite and why, to him, boats are both a trade and a hobby.

ONE OF A SERIES — Each week an Independent-Journal staff writer explores the character, achievements and human side of one of Marin's outstanding personalities — some of whom are all too little known by their neighbors.

Water Bonds Show Delayed; Mrs. FDR On

A special program on the state water bond issue to be voted upon by Californians in next month's election, has been postponed until Nov. 7, eve of the election, at 8 p.m., officials of KQED-TV (Channel 9) have announced.

The program, to feature a pro and con debate on the water bonds, was originally scheduled by Channel 9 for 8 o'clock this evening.

The station said the postponement was made necessary by a delay in the completion of microwave relay facilities between KQED and KVIE of Sacramento which are to be used for the first time in the water bond program.

To be heard in its place tonight at 8 will be a "Prospects of Mankind" program, filmed in England, with Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt presiding over a panel of European leaders who will discuss "European Unity: Obstacles and Goals."

Lagunitas Board Likes Sketches

The addition will include five classrooms, one of which will be a combination science room, a multi-purpose room and related facilities. It is scheduled for completion by the beginning of the 1961-62 school year.

The board also changed its next meeting date from Nov. 2 to Nov. 4.

Mill Valley Sets Library Display

The Mill Valley Public Library will display through mid-November more than 100 books and pamphlets used by the Mill Valley school district in the elementary grades, librarian Dorothy Thomas said today.

The exhibit includes "Language for Daily Use," from the series which covers grammar, punctuation and composition; "Building Better English," the seventh and eighth grade texts, and the relatively new Scott-Forseman Co. "Seeing Through Arithmetic" books.

Supervisors Delay Decision On Land At Alto Roadway

Reclassification of six parcels of land at various locations northwest and northeast of Alto Interchange because of changed conditions created by freeway construction was argued at some length before the Marin County Board of Supervisors but decision was put over to Nov. 1 pending first-hand examination of the sites.

Among complications which arose was contention by an attorney, L. B. Fleischman, that such change would down-grade property values in a way laying the county open to suit for damages.

He said that his client, Robert Kelly, had made "heavy investments" assuming one type of zoning and that great losses might be caused by change.

The planning commission had recommended change from C-1-H, which would allow apartment construction, to conform with the one-family residential surroundings.

Marin Disarm Group Planning Walk For Peace

Marin proponents of disarmament will drive in caravan to San Francisco tomorrow to take a walk, which they hope will be in the direction of peace.

The Marin group will assemble on San Rafael's Lindaro Street near Carpenters Hall at 10 a.m., then driving to the San Francisco Opera House to participate in a "peace walk" to Union Square for a disarmament rally.

The walk will start at 1:30 p.m., the rally at 2 p.m., all under sponsorship of the American Friends Service Committee, the Committee for Sane Nuclear Policy, Acts for Peace, and the San Francisco Chapter of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom.

Jordan Dinner Planned Nov. 10

A testimonial dinner will be held for County Counsel Leland H. Jordan on Nov. 10 at the Meadow Club in Fairfax.

Jordan will leave his county post on Nov. 15 to join the San Rafael legal firm of Bagshaw, Schaal, Martinelli and Weissich.

Asst. County Counsel E. Warren McGuire announced that a "no host" cocktail party will start at 7 p.m., followed by dinner at 8. Reservations must be made by Nov. 7.

Hospital Board Told Expenses For Three Months

Marin General Hospital payroll and general expenses totaled $478,971 from July 1 to Sept. 30, Administrator S. Ames Pence told the board of directors Tuesday night.

The revenue for the current fiscal year was $6,485, Pence said, representing 1.3 per cent of the operating expense.

Ninety per cent occupancy was recorded for the month of September with 168 babies born during the month in Marin. All of the county was represented with 177 patients from San Rafael, 120 from Southern Marin, 43 from North Marin, 11 from Central Marin and seven from the coastal area of the county. Twenty-nine patients from outside of Marin were hospitalized during the month.

Garbage of Phoenix, Ariz., soon will be sold as a soil conditioner similar to peat moss. The city has built a processing plant that will turn refuse into a useful product.

'Pinocchio' Draws Kids In Sausalito

Director James Robinson said the play, using five sets designed by Gene Pellegrini and special lighting effects by Carol Junker, is aimed at children in the 4- to 12-year-old age bracket.

HALLOWEENING FOR A CAUSE—Starting out with milk cartons and in Halloween costumes, as they will Monday night to "trick or treat for UNICEF" are (from top) Christopher Marlowe, 4; Heidi Schuyt, 6; Spencer Schuyt, 4, and Derek Schuyt, 6, all of the Villa Real subdivision in East San Rafael. Starting them on their way is Mrs. Melvin Marlowe of 50 Arguello Circle. (Independent-Journal photo)

Doorbells To Be Rung For Children

The cause is the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF).

Mrs. Eric Moeller, president of the Marin Chapter of the American Assn. for the United Nations, announced the following church groups are taking part in sponsoring the collection:

Mill Valley Episcopal Church of Our Saviour, Mill Valley Methodist Church, Westminster to Presbyterian Church, Marin City Presbyterian Church, Belvedere Presbyterian Church, St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, Belvedere Congregational Church, Unitarian Church of Marin, San Geronimo Valley Community Presbyterian Church, Jewish Congregational Sunday School.

Also participating will be Greenbrae Brownies, Ross Valley 4H Club, and YMCA.

Funds collected will be turned over by area chairmen on Tuesday to the First National Bank in San Rafael. Mrs. James Dunlap and Mrs. Maria Weintke, from the AAUN, will be at the bank during the day to receive collections.

Loma Verde and Pacheco Schools are joining for a Halloween costume parade and carnival from 4 to 8 p.m. at Pacheco School. Mrs. Warren Tracy and Mrs. John Pindell, Parent-Teacher Assn. presidents, will be in charge of UNICEF booths there.

Choose veal from the shoulder or leg when you want to bread slices of the meat.

MARIN MAILING TAX BILLS OUT

The County of Marin—this year collecting taxes for eight cities and itself—began mailing out tax bills this week.

It is collecting taxes for two additional cities this year—San Rafael and Sausalito. Deadline for payment of the first installment is Dec. 10. The second installment is due by April 10, 1961.

Of the 10 cities in the county, only Fairfax and San Anselmo are still sending out their own tax bills.

Elected To Group

Transit Wind Tunnel Tests 50% Complete

Wind tunnel tests on models of the Golden Gate Bridge to determine the feasibility of rapid transit addition are now more than 50 per cent completed, directors of the San Francisco Bay Area Rapid Transit District were told yesterday.

Indications are, the board was advised, that the work can be completed by the end of the year as had been previously planned.

The board voted formal authority of a contract transfer to Carl H. Gronquist, associate of the late D. B. Steinman, who was originally retained to carry out the tests but who died Aug. 22. Gronquist had been doing the actual test work.

FELINES FROM TEXAS

Big Marin Cat Show Starts Tomorrow

Cats from as far away as Texas will compete in the ninth annual championship show of the Marin County Cat Fanciers tomorrow and Sunday in the Corte Madera Recreation Center.

Four longhairs—two of them grand champions — have been entered by Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Babbitt of San Antonio.

In addition to the Texas felines, there will be more than 200 other cats and kittens from all over California and from Nevada.

The showroom will be open to the public from 10 a.m. to 9 p.m. both days. Exhibitors, show committee members and judges will have a dinner at 7 p.m. tomorrow at Sabella's.

Proceeds of the show, which is presented under Cat Fanciers' Assn., Inc., sanction, will go to the Marin County Humane Society.

Suspect Pleads Guilty To Thefts

Gene Leroy Stark, 22 of San Francisco, suspected of breaking into at least five schools and a church in Marin last December and January, pleaded innocent Wednesday to six counts of burglary in Marin Municipal Court.

Stark, suspected as being a member of a San Francisco burglary ring, appeared before Judge Joseph G. Wilson. He waived preliminary hearing, which means he will be bound over to Marin Superior Court for arraignment on Monday.

Stark is charged with burglaries of Silveira School, Santa Venetia School, San Rafael High School, Blessed Sacrament Church in Santa Venetia, McPhail School and Davidson School.

The thefts occurred between Dec. 21 and Jan. 7. San Rafael police said Stark formerly lived in Larkspur.

SHELL

Should a motorist be influenced by what is happening in the air? Shell, you know, has long been a pioneer in the development of fuels and lubricants for aircraft as well as cars. (Today if you fly by jet, it's almost certain there's a Shell product flying with you.) Much of this progress has been translated into benefits for your car—TCP* additive, for instance. Try Super Shell with TCP and discover how smooth your car can run—how far you can go on a gallon. Your Shell dealer is the man to see.
